Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, June 23. [To the Editor of The Times:] Outside of the heat there just isn't a bit of news in the papers. Government affairs never was at such a stagnant state. Mr. Hoover disappears every week end, and he might just as well be Lindy and Annie as far as anybody knows where he is.

Just signed a contract with the Beverly Hills papers to stow away on a bicycle that a fellow is going to ride from here to New York.

An awful lot of boys and girls graduate this week all over the country, ignorance is just about obliterated except only among the elder people.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

DEVOUT BOW AT SHRINE

Mexicans Offer Peace Thanks

Tens of Thousands Visit Historic Old Church at Capital

Flowers Cover Altars First Sunday Following New Religious Accord

MEXICO CITY, June 23. (AP)—Scenes unprecedented in Mexican history were enacted at the historic old Church of the Virgin of Guadalupe today as tens of thousands of Mexicans of all castes, gathered to offer thanksgiving prayers for the approaching resumption of religious services in churches throughout the republic.

The breaking of dawn found the procession to the country's national shrine, situated in the northeastern part of Mexico City, under way with private cars, busses and street cars discharging thousands hourly.

Through the great central doorway of the church, which never has been closed to worshipers, the faithful entered, sometimes eight abreast, and when finished with their devotions streamed from two side doors in a never-ending procession to make room for the new arrivals.

There were no official ceremonies as priests have not yet returned to the pulpits but rather the proceedings took the form of spontaneous demonstrations with many floral offerings being heaped upon the altars.

Today's pilgrimage to the Church of the Blessed Virgin was even more remarkable, aside from the numbers, in view of the fact that

CRIMINALS IN REVOLT

Ellis Isle Scene of Uprising

New York Gun Crew Rescues Guards Cornered by Vicious Deportees

Rebellious Band Subdued and Ringleaders Sent to Solitary Cells

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Dramatic accounts of the insurrection of sixty-five alien criminals in the detention penitentiary of Ellis Island and the rescue of cornered Federal guards by the prompt arrival of city police with machine and riot runs tonight sifted through the wall of mystery which authorities of the immigration post erected about the outbreak.

The insurrection came promptly on the heels of the arrival of a trainload of aliens from the West for deportation. Among these were several ex-convicts, written down as desperate characters. The rebellion, under the leadership of a Scotch deportee named McKenzie, broke out after guards had marched the aliens into a detention nall known as Room 206.

INVITED TO FIGHT

Catcalls and oaths came from the deportees when they found themselves behind the steel-barred doors of the room. When Night Superintendent Snyder and a squad of armed guards entered the hall to silence them they were met with the shout: "Come on with your guns and we'll take them away from you."

Obeying the shouted commands of McKenzie the aliens rushed the guards and backed them into one corner of the hall, where they made a stand with drawn arms. Hoping to avoid bloodshed Snyder pleaded with the aliens to surrender.

Meanwhile other guards in the building hearing the uproar and thinking Snyder and his squad had been overpowered telephoned to the marine police at Pier A, the Battery.

"Hell's broke loose here. Come over and help us and bring your machine guns," the police were advised.

GRAB RIOT GUNS

Riot guns were pulled from their racks on the marine police station wall and reserves were rushed in the police boat Gypsy to the island. Arriving there and reinforced by immigration guards the police crashed into the detention hall mounted tables and chairs and aimed their guns at the deportees

Snyder and his aides then overpowered McKenzie and his lieutenant, a Russian named Samuels. These with other leaders of the revolt were placed in solitary confinment to await the sailing of the ships, which are to return them to the lands whence they came.

Percy A. Baker, general superintendent of the island refused tonight to discuss the outbreak.

NEW SHOCKS REPORTED IN ANTIPODES

Wellington Tells of One Town Now Depopulated; Settlers Flee to Camps

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) June 23. (AP)—Renewal of earth shocks, which a week ago did serious damage, today caused the removal of the entire population remaining at Murchison to Nelson.

Virtually all settlers in outlying districts whose homes were destroyed have been rescued. Some of them have traveled for three days almost without sleep to reach concentration camps.

Two heavy shocks were felt last night at Farwell Split which extinguished lights. The shocks also were felt in the Takaka and Westport districts but no material damage is reported.

Three Killed in Auto Crash

MT. VERNON (O.) June 23. (AP)—Three persons were killed and two others were injured so seriously they are not expected to live, in a head-on collision of two automobiles on a narrow bridge at Mt. Liberty, six miles west of here, today.

The dead:

Peter Buzenberg, 45 years of age, farmer of Howard, O.; Robert, his 7-year-old son, and Williard Melroy, 50, farmer of Millwood, O.

Buzenberg and Melroy were the drivers.

The injured are Ivan Buzenburg, 10, and Mrs. Albert Ingalls of Cleveland, O.

FRENCH IN PARADE RAP DEBT PACT

Only Few, However, Take Part in Protest Aimed at Accords' Ratification

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, June 23. (Exclusive)—Disapproved by 1,500,000 of their comrades, 3000 French veterans marched on the Champs Elysees today in protest against the ratification of the debt accords, which is the issue of the moment in French politics.

It was a very different parade from that procession of lame, maimed and blind who walked silently past George Washington's statue in 1926 in mute protest of the same debts. This time only the Royalist and a few extreme Nationalist groups marched, more to express their feelings against the Poincare government than against America.

Thousands of gendarmes and mounted Republican guards stood watch on the streets leading to the Champs Elysees, but the demonstration passed off quietly except for a few minor disturbances. Three "Camelots Du Roi," as the Royalist "troops" call themselves, were arrested for shouting insults to the government. One hothead made the serious mistake of taking a crack at a very high elegant silk hat in a group of dignitaries near the Arc de Triomphe. The chapeau in question happened to be perched on the head of the Chief of Police of Paris, M. Chiappe, who took it badly. The undiscerning veteran was dragged off to jail.

Panama Canal Has Huge Slide

BALBOA (Panama Canal Zone) June 23. (AP)—A huge slide into Gaillard Cut of about 250,000 cubic feet of material was reported officially today. The movement began on Friday evening from the east bank and spread over almost 700 feet of the canal bottom, reducing the depth at the center from forty to thirty-eight feet.

Two large dredges went to work as soon as the momentum of the movement slowed down. Although it is estimated that a month will be needed to clear away the debris it has not caused any interruption of traffic. The slide occurred just north of the old Culebra slide which in 1916 completely closed the canal.

SAN JOSE, June 23. (AP)—Ralph J. Miller, 27 years of age, of San Martin, was killed on the highway there late this afternoon when he was struck by an automobile driven by F. A. Bickle of San Francisco.

Two Scotland Whisky Dealers Forced to Close

EDINBURGH (Scotland) June 23. (Exclusive)—Two old - established whisky concerns closed down today, one in Glasgow and one in Leigh. These are the latest of a long series of retirements due to decreasing business.

The home consumption of proof whisky decreased by 407,000 gallons during the past fiscal year and is now less than one-third of what it was before the war. The export market was the mainstay of the trade for some time, and now that is slumping too, shipments since the beginning of the year having fallen by 789,000 gallons.

But Twenty-two Castles Remain for This Prince

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) June 23. (AP)—The Supreme Court of Appeals has confirmed the judgment of the land commissioners whereby Johann II, ruler of the tiny principality of Liechtenstein, is allowed to retain only twenty-two castles and 392 acres of his vast estate of 400,000 acres lying within this country. The rest has been confiscated by the state.

The Prince pleaded that he was only the formal owner of his estate, the revenue from which goes to maintain the principality over which he rules. The court decided that this argument was not supported by Czecho-Slovakian law.

Seventeenth Child Born to Kentuckians

LEXINGTON (Ky.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Harry C. Rust, 40 years of age, tonight is the mother of her seventeenth child, a girl. Mother and baby are "doing well," the attending physician says.

Twelve of the seventeen children born to Mr. and Mrs. Rust are living, and of this number, eleven are in the household of their parents. A girl and boy, Pearl and Earl, 16 months of age, are twins. The eldest is 20 years of age.

Indiana Race Driver Killed

HUNTINGTON (Ind.) June 23. (AP)—Roy Pifer of Metamora, O., was killed almost instantly in a race at the Huntington speedway today when a tire on his racing car blew out, throwing him into the embankment of the five-eighth-mile dirt track. His skull was crushed.

None of the other pilots was injured.

THREE BURN TO DEATH AS PLANE DIVES

Parachute Jumper Among Victims of Fatal Crash in Ohio Cornfield

CINCINNATI, June 23. (AP)—Three persons burned to death in an airplane that crashed at Lancet Airport at Harrison, O., near here today. The victims were: Joseph Hite, a parachute jumper, of Louisville; Homer Nasior, the pilot, and Harold Biddle, a passenger.

Spectators said the plane apparently was being maneuvered for a landing when it went into a nose dive. It crashed in a corn field and turned over, then burst into flames.

Before rescuers could reach it with fire extinguishers, the occupants were charred almost beyond recognition.

Hite had made a parachute jump from an altitude of 2600 feet, and was to make another leap. The pilot took Biddle along as a passenger.

MANY NUNS CARRIED OUT BY FIREMEN

Canadian Convent Burns as Lightning Strikes it and Endangers Twenty-two

MONTREAL (Que.) June 23. (AP) Twenty-two convalescent nuns were carried through smoke to safety tonight, when lightning struck and set fire to the Convent of the Sacred Heart at Sault Au Recollet. Two members of the Montreal fire brigade were overcome and sent to a hospital.

The building was valued at $1,000,000. One hundred feet of the roof of the east wing and a small central pinnacle collapsed and part of the walls became so weakened that firemen fighting the blaze were forced to remove their ladders.

The convent was struck during a heavy storm.

Swimmer to Try 117-Mile Trip

CLEVELAND (O.) June 23. (AP)—John Petti of Cleveland will attempt to swim from Detroit to Cleveland, 117 miles, about July 4, he said today.

Petti, by way of demonstration of his ability swam fifty miles from Euclid Beach, Cleveland, to Lorain. He ate nothing during his effort and made the course in thirty hours.

Two Rescuers and Girl Drown

NASHUA (Iowa) June 23. (AP)—The attempt of two men to save a girl from drowning cost the lives of all three here today.

The victims are John Liggett, 45 years of age, a farmer; John Zutrod, 45, New Hampton, and Marion Liggett, 18, daughter of Liggett.

The girl's sister saved herself by grabbing a fishing pole.

DAM REGION TASK ENDS

Wilbur Finishes Inspection

Secretary Off to Bakersfield; Confident of Early Move for Construction

Government View Reiterated In Talk With Whitesett and Van Norman

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Representative

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) June 23. (Exclusive)—While residents of this sweltering community today remained for the most part indoors, discussing behind drawn blinds in the slightly less superheated recesses of their darkened homes the pleasing prospect of the golden flood expected to ensue when construction begins on the great Boulder dam project, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, Reclamation Commissioner Mead and a corps of Federal government engineers put in more than twelve energetic and perspiring hours in investigating proposed surveys, railroad rights of way, construction sites, contour lines and kindred matters.

Secretary Wilbur, who spent several hours at the dam site yesterday, and who left here tonight for Bakersfield, is proceeding on the assumption that contracts for the sale of power to be generated at Boulder dam will be signed within a comparatively short time and that fulfillment of this essential part of the gigantic Colorado River development program will pave the way for early construction work in Boulder Canyon. And Las Vegas, having trembled for many months in an ecstasy of delighted anticipation of prosperity to come, is hopefully and jubilantly preparing for the reality.

ANGELENOS ARRIVE

Headed by W. P. Whitsett, member of the Water and Power Bureau of Los Angeles, and J. L. Van Norman, general manager of the bureau, a party of Los Angeles officials and engineers came here early today by airplane, expecting to confer with Secretary Wilbur and Commissioner Mead. Their plans had not been made known to the Federal officers, however, and the Secretary and his party were absent when the Los Angeles group arrived.

Returning late this afternoon after a hot 150-mile trip to Moapa Valley and the proposed Muddy River reclamation project, the Interior Secretary briefly discussed the Boulder dam undertaking, but did not go deeply into the subject. The question of Boulder power contracts, and by whom such contracts will be signed in addition to the city of Los Angeles, will be taken up in detail in Los Angeles Tuesday, when Commissioner Mead and his engineering assistants reach Southern California.

EARLY CONSTRUCTION

Secretary Wilbur apparently is committed enthusiastically to the program of immediate dam construction and, judging by the brief comments made by him, it is apparent that he foresees no serious obstacle in the way of such development.

During the few minutes' conversation Secretary Wilbur had with Whitset and Van Norman he reiterated his views made public yesterday with regard to the desire of the Federal government to sell "falling water" in terms of power units rather than to build, operate and maintain power-generating plants at Boulder dam. This policy, the Secretary said, arises not only from the determination of Washington authorities to simplify the operations of the national administration, but, so far as possible, to keep the government out of the power business.

Secretary Wilbur suggested the possibility of Southern California agencies creating a huge power corporation capable of building and operating the Boulder power-generating and distributing system. Such a corporation, he said, might be comprised both of private and public power organizations. It is his conviction, the Secretary said, that a local southwestern corporation can operate the power features of the Boulder project with

SEA FLYERS' FATE DARK

Franco Azores Landing Denied

Vessel Reports Seeing Craft in Sky 400 Miles Off Novia Scotia Coast

Anxiety for Chief and His Companions Increases in Aviation Circles

MADRID, June 24. (AP) (Monday.)—An official government note issued early today admitted the Spanish aviator, Maj. Ramon Franco, and his three companions, are lost somewhere between the east Portuguese coast and the Azores Islands. The note insists no fear is felt for them inasmuch as good weather conditions prevail and their hydroplane is entirely seaworthy.

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—The Radio Marine Corporation tonight reported it had picked up a message from the freighter Buffalo Bridge stating that at 5:40 a.m., Greenwich time today in latitude 40:04 north, longitude 50:57 west, it had observed a "flare of light bearin,, 6 deg. true at an altitude of 10 deg." The radiogram added the object "apparently was an airplane."

The positio ngiven is approximately 400 miles south and slightly east of Cape Race, N. S.

Messages Friday from Madrid, Murcia, and Cartagena, said that Maj. Franco had said to friends he might continue on to New York without stopping at the Azores. Even to closest friends he made considerable mystery of his plans. The time of passing near Cape Race would have been about right if he had continued.

No other airplanes were known to be in that vicinity.

LONDON, June 23. (AP)—The Madrid bureau of Reuters tonight said that the official report last night of the landing of the Spanish transatlantic plane at San Miguel has proved unfounded. There is no definite news and anxiety is increasing.

A Havas dispatch from Madrid received in Paris tonight said that Premier Primo De Rivera had informed the semiofficial newspaper Noticiero Del Lunes that for the moment "the aviators must, unhappily, be considered lost."

He declared the previous report, supposed to have been from Maj. Franco, who commanded the crew of four, of their safe arrival at the Azores and plans to resume their air voyage, was "inexact."

MESSAGE QUOTED

Premier Primo De Rivera yesterday authorized official announcement of their safe arrival in the Azores, although the exact island was not specified. Later the text of a message said to have been signed by Maj. Ramon Franco was made public. It said, "We arrived at 8 a.m., and intend to resume our flight at 5 p.m. tomorrow, Sunday."

Still later, Madrid reported word that the plane early today would proceed to Horta, capital of the Azores, to refuel for the next long stage of the flight.

ANXIETY GROWS

Sunday morning papers in Madrid, having no further word, expressed little anxiety concerning the plane but since none is published on Sunday afternoon or Monday morning the public had little way of telling what the situation was. General alarm was not felt until late tonight.

The other aviators are Commandant Eduardo Gonzales Gallarza, Capt. Julio Ruiz de Alda and Mechanic Pedro Madariaga. Their Dornier-Wal monoplane, has two motors and is regarded as exceptionally seaworthy. The radio of the plane frequentlywas heard by Spanish stations in the early stages of the flight but presumably can not be operated except when the machine is in flight.

The last definite sighting of the airplane had been at Huelva, Spain, but radio messages later were received saying that it had passed Cape San Vincent, in extreme Southwest Portugal. Still

BYRD'S WINTER HALF OVER

Longest Day of Year Shows Up as One Long Night for Antarctic Group at Little America

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by the Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All Rights for Publication Reserved Throughout the World.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) June 21. (Exclusive.) (Delayed.)—Winter is half over today and the sun has begun its long journey back to us. It seems strange that at home this is the longest day of the year and not dark until late in the evening, that schools are closing and summer vacations are about to begin. Down here our shortest day is no day at all, only one long darkness, and if for a short time this morning there was a thin crescent of lesser darkness on the horizon, it could not be seen behind the clouds.

There is a lightening of spirit through all the camp, that the winter which stretched so far ahead is at last half gone. The day—one must call it that though he dress by lamp light and live in its artificial glow—was welcomed as only it can be by men who have not seen the sun for many weeks. Soon in the north there will be light that will creep up over the sky and along the horizon until its proud arms join in the south and make our white world again visible. And then will be a play of gorgeous color and one day the sun itself will lift above the barrier edge.

This day is dull and gray with snow falling and the moon showing diffused and indefinite of outline. When those of us in the large house went over to the mess hall for a daily "ob" it was difficult to see the drifts in the obscurity and the darkness of midnight. Only the radio towers and a few poles were visible and the vague suggestion of snow-covered workshops touched with moonlight.

The pattering of feet could be heard and out of the darkness a gamboling group of puppies hurled themselves at one's legs ripping at gloves and boot laces. Some times they catch one at the top of a drift greater efficiency and economy and with greater satisfaction to the Federal government than the government itself. He asserted, however, if it develops that the government can obtain a better price for the power potentialities of the dam by constructing and operating the electric generating plants this course may be pursued.

VAN NORMAN STATEMENT

Van Norman, following the brief exchange of ideas with the head of the Interior Department, said that the suggestions advanced by the Secretary will not retard the plans of Southern California for early construction of the dam and its essential features. He indicated, however, that the Los Angeles officials strongly favor government construction of the power plants, with possible provision for leasing the same by a power corporation organized along the lines suggested by Secretary Wilbur.

Although disappointed in their plan to confer at length with the Secretary and his aides, the group of Los Angeles visitors made the best of the situation and to some extent relieved the torrid tedium of the day by flying over the proposed dam site at Boulder Canyon, viewing the magnificent gorge and long stretches of the winding, yellow Colorado River from an elevation of 7000 feet. Even this pastime, however, was cut short by the excessive heat, the pilot of the tri-motored Fokker airplane which carried the party from Los Angeles, deciding that the air was too hot for safe flying. The giant aircraft was loaned to the Los Angeles representatives by the Rio Grande Oil Company.

In addition to Commissioner Whitsett and Chief Engineer Van Norman the Los Angeles group included F. E. Weymouth, chief hydraulic engineer of the Bureau of Water and Power; J. Hunter Clark, executive assistant to Van Norman; J. N. Reed and C. Thomas Giffen, general sales manager and assistant general sales manager of the Rio Grande Oil Company; E. F. Scattergood, Thomas Painter, Frank M. Beeson and E. B. Keelan.

During the morning tomorrow, Commissioner Mead and several Federal engineers will use the oil company's plane for making observations over and above and below the proposed dam site. When these observations are completed the Federal officials will board a plane and fly to Los Angeles.

According to Van Norman, it is probable that a tentative understanding on the scope of power contracts to be signed by the city of Los Angeles and other bidders will be reached before Commissioner Mead leaves Southern California Wednesday night. In order to meet the requirements of the appropriation authorizations in the Swing-Johnson bill providing for approximately $101,000,000 for dam construction, these contracts must assure repayment of the entire sum to the government over a period of fifty years. Additional items in the Swing-Johnson bill, one for $25,000,000 as a flood-control appropriation, will be chargeable only against the surplus earnings of the dam power plant, and a proposed expenditure of $39,000,000 for a contemplated all-American canal will be charged against Imperial Valley lands.

AIR TRAVEL GROWS

JERUSALEM, June 23. (AP)—Air travel increased 38.5 per cent in the twelve months ending March 31 on the Cairo-Bagdad service. A German commercial air service has been opened between Bagdad and Teheran, so travelers from Egypt on the Imperial Airways may change to a German liner at Bagdad and arrive in the Persian capital forty-eight hours after leaving Cairo.

with one foot poised to seek a hold in the crumbling snow and only by luck does one avoid a tumble. They are playful and friendly growing up in this Antarctic darkness. The only home they have known is one where there is only snow in which to play and where the sun never shines, and they are as happy and rollicking as if romping in green pastures or chasing rabbits in a thicket. Wonder what they will think of the sun? They will probably be greatly astonished.

What is an "ob" for which this little walk through the darkness is undertaken. It is the invention of the Machiavellian meteorologists of the expedition who, when snow shoveling was at its height, used to slip away with the careless remark that they had to make an "ob" or observation of their instruments. They were found drinking coffee and ever after when fingers got too cold to hold a shovel and toes were numbed, an "ob" was in order and the whole gang would trip into the mess hall for a short time to drink coffee and get warm. So now that is the name given to the light midday lunch which fills in between our two meals. It makes a break in an uneventful day.

RADIO OPENS UP

At such times the mess hall is filled with men and there is curiosity to see what the cook has made available to eat. Some times there are warmed-over dishes from breakfast, a little creamed beef, which can be put on a slice of bread, some canned corned beef for sandwiches, a few cookies and coffee or cocoa. There is loud and humorous badinage and good-natured scoffing at some one who has been working on a new gadget.

All sorts of things pounded out of tin or copper lie around on the table. Files scrape and drills squeak as those who have eaten resume their work. The dog drivers sit on boxes around a mess of dark queer-smelling stuff which they are molding in wooden boxes, dog food for the trail next spring.

The radio man brings a loud-speaker and drops it in the middle of the table and music from 10,000 miles away is heard, a wonder to which we have almost become accustomed. Men wander about with a cup and sandwich in their hands or listen to one of the pilots doing a little ground flying or to the relation of the latest practical joke or escapade.

The group gradually scatters, those who have work to do in other ways taking up their tools and lanterns and disappearing through one of the doors that lead to a tunnel or to the snow steps to the surface and the routine is resumed. It is really remarkable how quickly the days pass.

VESSEL SIGHTS MYSTERY PLANE

later the master of the British steamship Greldon heard what he believed to be the motor of an airplane flying westward at a point about 150 miles southeast of the Azores. That was at 10:37 p.m. eastern standard time, on Friday, the same day that the plane had left Cartagena, Spain.

It had been estimated that from sixteen to eighteen hours of flying would bring the aviators to the Azores from Cartagena. The plane had been twelve hours in the air when the Greldon master reported hearing the motors.

Just before the start of the flight, an escort plane struck the Dornier-Wal of Maj. Franco and, while the occupants were shaken up and the mechanic cut, the trans-Atlantic plane was reported undamaged. With the falling hopes tonight the point was raised whether there might not have been some hidden damage which resulted in a sudden catastrophe over the sea, too swift for use of the radio the plane carried.

ALARM MOUNTING IN AVIATION CENTERS

MADRID, June 23. (AP)—Aviation centers awaited with growing fears tonight word concerning Maj. Ramon Franco and his three companions who long have been unreported. The jubilation of yesterday when it was announced they safely had reached the Azores changed to gloom when no further messages were received although many attributed the silence to bad communications.

There has been no suggestion of searching vessels starting from Spanish ports but Lisbon reported a Portuguese gunboat has put to sea to look for the missing plane.

supported by Congress, and indorsed by decisive majorities of the people is a declaration of war against the liquor traffic.

"So long as prohibition laws are under special attack they must be given special defense and support by every law-abiding citizen and every oath-observing official. Therefore speakers and teachers are urged to present the appeals of the President for support of law in churches and Sunday-schools, Sunday, next. May the lessons in patriotism repeated and impressed on that day contribute immeasurably to the respect for law that must be established by observance and enforcement if government by the people is to endure."

METHODIST CHAIRMAN REPLIES TO DENNY

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., chairman of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today replied to the "amazing protest" of Bishop Callins Denny at Richmond against adoption of a resolution pledging hearty co-operation to President Hoover to secure law enforcement.

"Concerning the resolution pledging hearty co-operation and support of the Richmond District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to President Hoover in his efforts to secure law observance and law enforcement," the statement declared, "Bishop Denny is quoted as saying: 'I do not think it is within the sphere of the church to do such things. I fear that it means the ultimate division of the Methodist Church, for many will refuse to be dragged as a church into politics.'

"Without questioning the sincerity of Bishop Denny in the position which he has taken, the overwhelming majority of his Methodist brethren believe that it is their right and their duty to assure the President of their support in his efforts to stamp out the lawlessness which is threatening the national life."

Bishop Cannon cited the resolution adopted by the conference at Richmond, despite Bishop Denny's protest, as "the best answer."

DEVOUT THRONG MEXICO CHURCH

Catholics Celebrate Dawn of Religious Peace

Impromptu Ceremony Fills Chapel of Virgin

the population had little time to prepare for it, as the accord between church and state was reached only Friday afternoon and was not generally known throughout the city until this morning.

TOUCHING SCENES

Touching scenes were enacted in the interior of the great church where for three years the faithful have worshiped without benefit of clergy. The low steady hum of thousands of whispered prayers could be heard throughout the central chapel as the worshipers advanced slowly upon their knees down the wide central aisle to bring their candle and entreaty before the shrine of the Virgin.

There was no protection from the steady drip of tallow from the candles but the hot wax fell unnoticed upon the advancing tide of worshipers, whose thoughts were outside the worldly sphere, or fell upon the floor to be ground into dust by the knees of the multitude. The thousands of flickering candles cast an arch of light in the lower reaches of the lofty ceiling like myriad fireflies illuminating a hot, murky summer night. Tables on either side of the central altar, where worshipers deposited their candles, were constantly crowded despite the fact that attendants were continually clearing them off.

FLORAL OFFERINGS

Several attendants on the altar were kept busy receiving floral offerings and it appeared in no time that the altar, despite its great size, would have to be cleared of the flowers before nightfall in order to receive more bouquets. A half-score smaller chapels opening off the central basilica witnessed scenes similar to that in the great chamber, but it was in this body, a two-and-one-half-century-old shrine under the guidance and image of their Beloved Virgin, that the great body of worshipers offered their entreaties.

Here tens of thousands worshiped in the central shrine while other thousands toiled up long, winding steps leading to the chapel of the "little hill" standing 200 feet above and overlooking the Valley of Mexico.

Scores of other churches throughout Mexico City were not deserted by their communicants and were visited throughout the day by the faithful who came and departed in endless procession.

Officials estimated 100,000 persons made the pilgrimage to the church of the Virgin of Guadalupe Saturday and the constant stream paralyzed traffic in the vicinity for several hours.

PORTES GIL CHEERED

President Emilio Portes Gil, who settled the religious question in behalf of the government, accompanied by Secretary of War Amaro, left the capital for San Luis Potosi Saturday night and will be gone several days. When he arrived at his office after announcement of the accord had been made, a tremendous throng of Catholics and admirers had gathered outside the entrance and cheered him vigcrously.

Military airplanes dropped printed announcements of the church-state accord over the State of Jalisco and other regions where "Cristero" rebels still are in arms, at the same time notifying the insurgents that they will be granted safe conduct to their homes if they surrender at once, otherwise they will be relentlessly pursued.

The "Cristeros," a name applied to the religious insurgents by the government, have been reduced to scattering bands as a result of vigorous drives by Federal troops and disintegration following the fatal wounding in battle of their leader, Gen. Enrique Goroztieta.

Vita Alessio Robles, president of the antire-electionist party, second strongest political organization in Mexico, has issued a statement to the press lauding the settlement of the religious question, but asserting that the stand of President Portes Gil was not sufficiently clear. The statement asked directly if the government "lacking courage to abrogate the existing religious laws" had not decided to violate them. The statement asserted emphatically that if the laws were unsatisfactory they should be repealed, not violated, and concluded by asking the Mexican executive to tell what native or foreign influence was the deciding factor in the "compromise."

REFUGEE NUNS TO AWAIT ASSURANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (Exclusive)—Although arbitration has been virtually effected between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church, the nineteen Carmelite nuns living here who were driven out of Mexico during the religious trouble there several years ago will take no steps to return to their country as yet, they say. They are awaiting more definite word from Mexico.

According to Rev. Alexander Cody of St. Ignatius Church the nuns will not return until the Mexican government is ready to restore their property, confiscated during the religious upheaval. Such negotiations may take years, Cody said.

POLYGAMOUS TREND SEEN

Dean of Lutheran Seminary Decries Moral Drift

Gospel Declared to Contain Sole Remedial Hope

RIVER FOREST (Ill.) June 23. (AP)—Dean John H. O. Fritz of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, today declared open and legalized polygamy to be preferable to what he termed "the current moral trend, particularly as suggested by companionate marriage."

Dean Fritz, who is attending the thirty-fourth triennial conference of the Evangelical Synod of Missouri, declared history indicates the direction "in which we now are heading." "Open polygamy or something worse is the thing toward which we are drifting. I believe polygamy is to be preferred to the situation one sees in the future," he said.

"The only remedy is found in the gospel. There is not one syllable in the Bible, from Genesis to Revelations, recommending incompatibility, mutual consent on clashing temperaments as cause or reason for divorce, nor will one find anything which even remotely suggests a companionate-marriage idea."

Delegates to the conference met in Soldier Field today in what was described as the largest and most representative Lutheran meeting ever held.

Dr. W. A. Maier of Concordia Seminary, the principal speaker, decried what he termed the present trend toward atheism, and said the remedy for evil rests in religion rather than education.

"An uneducated thief will steal a ride on a train," Dr. Maier asserted, "while an educated one will steal the whole railway system. Clarence Darrow says that only good habits will keep people from crime, but we say there must be something to inspire, to teach good habits. You can't save a drowning man by telling him to swim when he never has learned to swim.

"It is only when men believe in the God of the Bible that they can have that fundamental basis of morality and spiritual regeneration which holds out hope for a better future.

"In a day when perverted minds are endeavoring to dethrone the Almighty God and to set in his place the grinning gorilla of atheism; and when some of the most rigid and fanatical opponents of biblical truth come from churches that still insist upon being called Christian—in this hour we well can point to red-ruled Russia, where the principles for which modernism ultimately contends have found their tragic expression."

The mass meeting marked the 400th anniversary of the publishing of Luther's small catechism, and an address by Edwin H. Faster, president of the Lutheran Laymen's League, was devoted to a reaffirmation of its principles.

Blowout Brings Death to Two

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (AP)—A rear tire blowout while their automobile was speeding between fifty and sixty miles an hour on the highway near White Rock, four miles east of Folsom, brought fatal injuries to two men at 4 o'clock this morning.

The victims are Walter M. Cook, 43 years of age, a Placerville lumberman and member of Ben Ali Shrine Temple of Sacramento, and C. A. Newman, 45, employee of the Michigan Lumber Company near Placerville.

Cook is reported to have been at the wheel of the car. When the tire gave way, the machine tore through a barbed-wire fence by the roadside, overturned three or four times and came to a halt on its side facing in the direction from which it had come.

Pen Clubs Open Vienna Session

VIENNA, June 23. (AP)—The international convention of pen clubs opening today brought to Vienna 160 poets, novelists, editors and journalists representing forty-five countries. John Galsworthy of England is the president and founder and the American delegates are Dr. Henry Siedel Canby of New York and Prof. Lionel Stephenson of San Francisco.

The principal question before the conference will be extension of the present copyright law from a period of thirty years to fifty years and retention of translation rights by authors whose works are published in foreign languages.

Twenty-nine years striving for one thing—

Yes, twenty-nine years is a long time to be at any business. I've put in my whole lifetime caring for clothes. In the very early days of the dry cleaning business, we built up a reputation all over the United States for doing dry cleaning just a little better than the ordinary.

And I'm still jealous and keen about that reputation. Other plant owners who visit our place say we are too "fussy"—that we could make more money if we omitted, for example, our vigorous inspection methods.

I don't agree with them. I believe that if a job is worth doing, it's worth doing well. And I believe there are enough people in this world who believe such a job is worth a fair price.

Anyway, that's been my policy for twenty-nine years. And the growing success of our business seems to indicate that it wins the approval of discriminating people.

Partisan Warfare Brewing In Many States

Herculean Tasks Faced by Legislatures

WASHINGTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—Political turmoil is in sight in nearly every State in the Union as a consequence of the belated passage of the Congressional reapportionment and census bill during the session of Congress just ended.

The controversy which has been raging on Capitol Hill for nearly a decade is now transferred to the State legislatures. On the basis provided by Congress, subject to the returns of next year's decennial census, the legislatures must decide how to apportion the representation to which the States are entitled. Some States gain in the number of Representatives in Congress to which they are entitled. Some lose. the problems of the legislatures in the States which lose are more acute but in practically all it will be extremely difficult by reason of the shift of population from rural to urban districts since 1910.

GROWTH OF CITIES

The situation, in fact, is unparalleled in the history of the country. It is aggravated in the first place by the failure of Congress, in defiance of the plain Constitutional mandate to provide for a reapportionment following the 1920 census. No such failure ever occurred before. The difficulties are multiplied further by the tremendous growth of the cities at the expense of the country. Moreover, in its efforts to prevent any further increase in the size of the already unwieldy House, Congress was compelled to order a wholly unprecedented cut in the representation of the slow-growing State. Heretofore Congress has been able to dodge the troublesome duty of cutting a State's representation by the simple expedient of enlarging the membership of the House.

All these elements are combining to precipitate spirited and spectacular battles in many States for control of the Legislature and the Governorship, which will have to deal with the reapportionment problem. In some States the contest will be along party lines. In nearly all it will be complicated by the prohibition issue and by the hostility between the country and the city districts. The redistricting, if conducted with anything like fairness, undoubtedly will give a larger representation to the wet urban centers.

GERRYMANDER

Those who have been studying the reapportionment problem closely predict that the original "gerrymander" will look tame by comparison with the map of some of the new districts logically to be expected under the reapportionment. Some of these new districts, it is believed, will be shoestring affairs of the most flagrant variety and others may resemble the diagram of a Houdini contortion. It is to be expected that each party or faction will strive to gain all the advantage it can in the arrangement of the districts.

Deadlocked legislatures and executive vetoes are in prospect. Where deadlocks occur, it will be necessary to wipe out all district lines and elect the delegation of the entire State at large. It is not at all unlikely that several States will be forced to follow that plan in the 1932 election.

States will gain seats, according to existing estimates, as follows: Connecticut, 1; New Jersey, 2; Ohio, 3; Michigan, 4; Washington, 1; California, 6; North Carolina, 1; Florida, 1; Oklahoma, 1; Texas, 2, and Arizona, 1. The losses will be as follows: Maine, 1; Vermont, 1; Masachusets, 1; New York, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Indiana, 2; Iowa, 2; Missouri, 3; North Dakota, 1; Nebraska, 1; Kansas, 1; Virginia, 1; Kentucky, 2; Tennessee, 1; Alabama, 1; Mississippi, 2, and Louisiana, 1.

All the other States will hold their present representation. In many of them, however, redistricting will be necessary, assuming that the new basis of representation will be approximately one Congressman to 300,000 inhabitants.

TAMMANY TO LOSE

States in which the redistricting may produce particularly hard-fought contests are California, New York, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Iowa, North Dakota, Missouri.

The New York Legislature must divide the State into forty-two districts instead of forty-three. Tammany Hall stands to lose some of its representation. While many other parts of that State have been growing steadily, some of the Tammany districts in the congested sections of New York City have actually lost population, according to estimates. To complicate matters still further it is not at all improbable that a Republican Legislature and a Democratic Governor will have to deal with the redistricting problem in New York.

The same kind of a situation looms in Kentucky. The fight for control of the Legislature is already under way. The election will take place this fall. The present Governor, Sampson, a Republican, will serve during the term of the next Legislature. Some of the Kentucky districts are already strongly gerrymandered in the interest of the Democrats. The Legislature must enlarge the districts geographically as a result of the reduction of Kentucky's representation from eleven to nine. If the Democrats control the Legislature, a deadlock is almost sure to occur with the result that Kentucky will have to elect its entire delegation at large.

SIX FOR CALIFORNIA

Michigan gains four seats but all of this gain and more besides in all probability will go to fast-growing Detroit and the industrial sections of the southeastern part of the State. The controversy in the Michigan Legislature therefore will be between city and county.

It is estimated California will gain six seats. On the basis of population, most if not all of this gain would go to Los Angeles and its environs, as a result of their rapid growth during the past twenty years. The California Legislature, however, may hesitate about giving all the new seats to the southern part of the State. The situation in that State will be complicated by the jealousy of San Francisco and Northern California.

In Missouri the Legislature must find a way of painlessly reducing the number of districts from sixteen to thirteen. The reduction will have to be made largely at the expense of the rural sections on a strict basis of population. A bitter party fight for control of the Legislature is in prospect there.

In Ohio, the large cities such as Cleveland undoubtedly will gain representation while the rural sections stand to lose in the redistricting.

The Tennessee Legislature has an especially knotty problem ahead of it. Eastern Tennessee, which is strongly Republican, has been gaining population rapidly in the last ten years while the rest of the State with several exceptions has been growing slowly. The Legislature besides cutting down the number of districts by one, must also face the issue of transferring additional representation to the eastern part of the State.

HOGS TO GUARD PRESIDENT

Razorback Detail Assigned to Camp in Virginia for War on Rattlesnakes and Copperheads

WASHINGTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—The razorback hog has been called to serve as a guardian of the President of the United States.

Marines have discovered that there are rattlesnakes and copperheads in the vicinity of the President's camp at the headwaters of the Rapidan River in Virginia.

They have been busy killing snakes, but it was felt that all possible precautions should be taken to protect the President, Mrs. Hoover and their guests. Accordingly the Department of Agriculture suggested that razorback hogs be sent to the vicinity of the camp. A hog of any variety will make a meal of a rattler or a copperhead, but the razorback is an enemy of a snake. Because of thickness of a hog's hide it is impervious to the snake's fangs. Hereafter hogs will roam through the woods in the vicinity of the camp.

The menace of rattlers and other snakes was recognized when Mr. Hoover first visited the Virginia camp site. Dr. Joel D. Boone, the President's physician, obtained the best serums known to science and made a special study of treatment for reptile poisons. One such serum, it is understood, was obtained from India.

Neither the President nor Mrs. Hoover has expressed particular concern about the presence of copperheads and rattlers in the vicinity of their mountain camp.

DEBENTURE FRIENDS EYE TARIFF BILL

Brookhart Leads Move to Tack Discredited Scheme on Revenue Measure

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—Another Democratic and Republican independent assault was directed at the House tariff bill today as four Senate finance subcommittees laid plans to continue hearings tomorrow on the measure.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, who will help lead the drive of the Republican-Independent group to incorporate the controversial export debenture plan in the bill when it comes before the Senate August 19, declared in a statement that an analysis of the measure disclosed little hope of the farmer obtaining relief through the tariff.

"Agriculture for the ninety-ninth time," said a statement by Representative Hull of Tennessee, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, "is to be hoodwinked and humbugged by prolific promises of effective tariffs that are a fraud and a swindle, save as to certain minor specialties."

Both Hull and Brookhart agreed that few agricultural tariffs are effective.

Congressman on Long Air Tour

WASHINGTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—Representative W. Frank James, Republican, Michigan, chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, left Washington on what is planned as a 12,000-mile air tour of air corps stations in the United States and Porto Rico. He is traveling in a trimotored Wasp Ford transport plane piloted by Capt. Harry M. Dinger, attached to Bolling Field. The tour will last almost two months.

The first leg of the tour today was to carry Representative James to Detroit, where he is to inspect Fort Wayne tomorrow. Other stops scheduled on the tour will include Scott Field, Ill., Hot Springs, Ark., San Antonio, Tex., Shreveport, La., Tampa, Miami and Key West, Fla., Havana, Santiago, Cuba, Port Au Prince, Haiti, and San Juan, P. R.

Old Argument Has New Climax

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) June 23. (AP)—An argument between fishing companions over whether the earth rotates, ended when Frank W. Brown, 70 years of age, a rancher, seized a rifle and shot twice, killing Henry Briggs, 30, an Indian, and resulted in Brown's being held in Whatcom County Jail here today on an open charge.

The shooting occurred Friday night in the wilds of Orcas Island, San Juan county.

WHITE RUSSIANS SAIL FOR COLONY IN PERU

CRISTOBAL (Panama Canal Zone) June 23. WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—Secluded in his fishing camp on the banks of the Rapidan River near here, President Hoover spent a quiet Sunday and planned to depart for the White House with his party shortly after sunrise tomorrow morning, so as to be at his desk by the usual time.

Arriving at the camp, which had been completed since his last visit, the President enjoyed his most extended vacation from the Capitol since his inauguration and tomorrow is expected to return with two prizes, a string of mountain trout caught by himself in the cool streams of the reservation and a rather definite idea of who will compose the Federal Farm Board for the stabilization of agriculture.

HYDE IN PARTY

Secretary Hyde of the Agriculture Department, was a member of the party, and it is believed that he and the President sifted through those names still under consideration and that some, if not all of the final selections will be announced early in the week.

More than 400 names have been recommended by members of Congress, farm organizations and individuals for these positions and much speculation has centered upon the appointments. However, the President has gone forward quietly with his investigations of the various nominees and no definite intimations have been forthcoming of his intentions.

PRESIDENT GETS BUSY

He had no more than arrived yesterday afternoon before he unlimbered his fishing tackle and set off for his favorite diversion. Last night the routine of camp life was broken by Mrs. Hoover reversing the usual order of things and doing the speaking over the radio while the President stood at her side. She spoke to the boys and girls of the 4-H Clubs encamped at Washington and the address was broadcast nationally.

Today the small autos that must be used over the last few miles of the journey were idle as the party remained hidden in the confines of the camp, resting.

CONFESSED POISONER OF WIFE GUARDED

TEXARKANA (Tex.) June 23. (AP) Guarding the whereabouts of Odie Mix, 22-year-old farmer of near New Boston, to prevent violence, authorities moved to bring before the grand jury his confession that he gave his 17-year-old wife poison in a capsule and thus caused her death. Mrs. Mix died in convulsions Tuesday. Neighbors thought her death was due to a heart attack and she was buried Wednesday. Then Nix's dog was found dead in the yard under circumstances which aroused suspicion and authorities were notified.

The need for ACTION

MOST men and women who need to give consideration to the protection of their property and their dependents are convinced of the importance of naming a Corporate Executor or Trustee.

The reputation of the Trust Department of Security-First National Bank, not only for carefulness and consideration for dependents which accompany its administration, but also for its size and strength, have made it the natural choice of many people.

But neither this conviction nor this choice is of any avail unless ACTION is taken by the preparation and execution of a Will. An attorney should draw your Will, or attend to the revision of a former Will. It should be done NOW, by a definite, decisive action.

A conversation with a Trust Officer of Security-First National may be arranged through the Office or Branch most convenient to you. An appointment may be made by telephone.

PROBATION MEN TO STUDY CRIME

National Association Gathers At Bay City Today

Leading Criminologists to Be Heard on Subject

Session In Conjunction With Social Work Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (Exclusive)—With crime and lawlessness occupying the spotlight of the world's attention, the annual conference of the National Prohibition Association which will open tomorrow evening in San Francisco at the Palace Hotel, promises to be an event of outstanding interest among the thirty-odd conventions and conferences to be held here jointly with the National Conference of Social Work.

Judges, criminologists, and social workers with years of experience in dealing with delinquents and criminals will exchange experiences, discuss remedies and formulate new plans for the control of the mounting tide of lawlessness. They will form one of the outstanding groups among the 4000 delegates from the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Orient to the conference of social work and kindred organizations.

NEW YORKER AT HEAD

Porter R. Lee, director of the New York School of Social Work, is president of the general conference and Howard R. Knight of Columbus, O., is its general secretary. Knight has been in San Francisco for ten days in charge of preliminary arrangements for the conference and Lee is expected from New York with the survey special arriving Tuesday or Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Civic Auditorium as the principal speaker.

The National Probation Association, first of the allied welfare groups to open its session is headed by George W. Wickersham, former United States Attorney-General and recent appointee of President Hoover to the chairmanship of the National Law Enforcement Commission. Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school is another member of the President's commission who also is on the managing board of the probation association. Wickersham will be unable to attend the conference owing to the demands created by his new appointment and the sessions will be conducted by Charles L. Chute, its general secretary, a criminologist of international note.

SWEEPING SURVEY

At the meeting of the probation group, a sweeping survey of American life will be made. Social customs, economic conditions, political influences and the general trend of national thought will be considered.

"The cause of America's high crime rate will not only be discussed but challenged," Chute said.

FIRE MELTS NAILS

PITTSBURG, June 23. (AP)—Three kegs of nails melted in a $50,000 fire that damaged the Columbia Steel Company's plant here last night.

VERDUN VICTORY SHAFT UNVEILED

Poincare Says Struggle Won American Aid

Intervention Credited With War's Outcome

Internal Peace Invoked for World Accord

VERDUN (France) June 23. (AP)—The Battle of Verdun influenced the United States to side with France in the World War, Premier Raymond Poincare said today at the unveiling ceremonies of a monument erected to commemorate the final battle that ended assault upon the fortress by the Germans.

"When the United States took her place at our side," the Premier said, "the submarine war was without a doubt the principal reason, but opinions that had been given of France by combatees in the battles of the Marne, Artois, Somme and Verdun were not without influence on her determination—a determination on which was to depend, in a great part, the outcome of the war."

"The people of Lorraine," M. Poincare went on, "are passionately attached to the idea of peace, but that peace must not be simply a high-sounding word nor even one of those forced ideas that each interprets for himself. It must be a substantial peace—durable and real so they understand it only in the light of security."

REPARATIONS ACCORD

The Premier touched on the recently completed reparations accord in conclusion.

"The people of Lorraine," he said, "will be satisfied and will remain in the front ranks of workers for peace provided treaties are respected and our reparations paid under conditions the government outlined and which the experts have just put into precise form."

President Gaston Doumergue who had just been made a "citizen" of Verdun, after saluting Marshal Petain, commander of the French forces that battled at Verdun, dwelt on the same theme.

"At the end of hostilities no country in the world presented such a frightful spectacle of devastation," he said. "Those who were able to avoid it cannot be more animated than we by the passionate desire for peace. But the whole world ought to understand that, having been most sorely tried, we have more than anybody else a desire to be assured that peace shall not be merely a word but a substantial, durable reality."

INTERNAL PEACE

Touching on domestic political strife, the President reminded his hearers that internal discord is a bad example to the world for those who would wish to maintain international peace. "I desire ardently to see France, which has at all times given such generous examples to the world, also to give an example of internal peace," he said, "a practice which, if generalized can create a spirit which will kill war."

Divorce Action Filed Against Doris McDonald

MONTREAL, June 23. (Exclusive) Doris Palmer McDonald, American girl, now 23 years of age, who is serving a life term in Kingston Penitentiary for murder and who drew international attention last year when tried here with her second husband for killing a local taxi driver on the Malone Highway from Montreal to the United States, has been notified that her first husband is taking steps to obtain a divorce from her. He is Frank Allen of New York and Providence, R. I., to whom she was married in 1925. She left him and their young baby to follow George McDonald in his life of crime, and married him at Seattle in 1926, while legally the wife of Allen. Allen has taken action in the Superior Court at New York. The girl lifer was shown a printed notice of her husband's action for divorce, but made no comment.

Texas Oil Town Pays High for Water Supply

McCAMEY (Tex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—While crude oil is going begging at 60 cents a barrel, a barrel of water costs $1. That is the situation here as a result of the recent oil boom.

Water is being hauled here in tank cars from Alpine,. 110 miles away. During one year, the city paid a bill of $725,000 for water, and then decided to spend an additional $225,000 to develop a water supply.

The first well of water, however, proved to be so hard for domestic use that it was unfit for drinking purposes. The second well, drilled about ten miles outside the city limits, was a good supply of soft water. But reports indicate that the cost of completing the water supply system is so great that the plant may be sold to private interests.

PRISONER ENDS LIFE IN JAIL AT STOCKTON

NAVY WILL TRY LATEST PLANES

Rapid Development Will be Shown in Tests Soon

One Expected to Have Speed of 183 Miles Per Hour

Fast Bomber Will Carry an 1100-Pound Bomb

WASHINGTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—The rapid development of new high-speed and high-performance airplanes now in progress soon is to be revealed here during the tests at the naval air station of new types of planes designed by the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics.

At least seven new airplanes, all of greater speed and a greater performance than any of their type ever built before, either are under tests or awaiting tests by crack naval pilots at the air station.

Among them are planes which have theoretical high speeds of 183 miles an hour; another with a high speed of 150 miles an hour carrying an 1100-pound bomb; new types of two-seated flying planes, new multi-motored transports, and two new flying boats from which eventually will be developed fleets of commercial air liners for service along the coast or in coastal waters.

The latest plane to reach the naval air station for tests is a new Boeing pursuit plane, which, according to reports, has a high speed of 183 miles an hour. It is a trim fighting craft, with every ounce of excess weight eliminated. It is powered by a Wasp radial air-cooled motor. Naval flyers who inspected the plane while mechanics were setting it up said they believe the speed will be cut to close to 170 miles an hour, when armament and its other military load are added.

SPARROWS BREAK UP CONCERT

Thousands of Loudly Chirping Birds Drown Out Music of Artists

REGINA (Sask.) June 23. Invading the stadium rink at Estevan, where the Regina symphony orchestra was billed to stage a concert, thousands of sparrows made it impossible for artists to continue.

Chirping loudly and flying boldly over the heads of the audience, the birds refused to be driven from the structure. Eventally it was found necessary to clear the hall and shoot a number of the feathered invaders. Seeing their companions being slaughtered, the remainder flew from the building.

GIBSON'S VISIT AROUSES HOPES

London Sees Evidence of American Purpose

Talk With Dawes Expected to Formulate Plan

MacDonald's American Trip Holds Interest

LONDON, June 23. (AP)—The high importance of the visit to London tomorrow of Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, although he is expected to stay only a few days, lies, according to authoritative quarters, in the evidence it provides that from the American side at least disarmament-seeking will not be allowed to merely simmer.

Ever since the famous Forres meeting between Ambassador Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald curiosity as to the next step in the movement to relieve the naval burden of the English-speaking peoples has been lively.

The supposition now is that Mr. Gibson in his talks with Gen. Dawes will have as the chief purpose to determine upon, from the Washington standpoint, the best methods of procedure to set in motion the desired machinery for bringing about the next conference of the powers.

LOOK TO AMERICA

Even since the failure of the tripartite conference at Geneva it has been realized that the failure was more due to inefficient preparation than any other cause. Anxiety, therefore, exists that the same mistake shall not be repeated but that once the conference is called nothing shall be wanting that human foresight can provide to promote its success.

The British Labor government, new to office, looks naturally to America for help in this matter of effective preparation. It cordially welcomes Ambassador Gibson, with his full experience in previous efforts.

The full force of the contention of Ambassador Dawes at the Pilgrims' dinner that no attempt should be made to present to other powers concerned a cut and dried British-American agreement for acceptance is admitted in official circles, but at the same time is left the probability that no progress is possible without a previous agreement on general principles between Washington and London.

MacDONALD TRIP

Hence, although apparently nothing is yet decided about the date of the proposed visit of Premier MacDonald to the United States, it is felt that such a visit would be more helpful than anything else in dissipating any remaining difficulties between the two governments.

Although nothing was yet known here of the plans of Mr. Gibson, it is assumed that his talks will not be confined to Gen. Dawes but will include Prime Minister MacDonald and possibly Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson and other members of the government. He will be the guest of the Ambassador during his stay.

The London press expresses great satisfaction that President Hoover so promptly instructed Mr. Gibson to come here as showing his good will and desire to speed up the negotiations. Hope also is expressed that the visit means that something more definite will be heard about a "naval yardstick."

FARMER MAY NOT RECEIVE EARL'S TITLE

Contest Instituted in London Against Former Alberta Rancher

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive)—Difficulties in the way of Frederick Joseph Travelyan Perceval, farmer from Alberta, becoming a full-fledged earl flared up today in chancery court. His cousin, James William Perceval, a London resident, is contesting his right to the title.

So complicated is the legal tangle involving the succession that Justice Maugham directed an inquiry by the master to ascertain who under the limitation of the settlements of the seventh Earl of Egmont in 1870 and 1889 is entitled to the property.

"There seems to be some doubt as to who is the present Earl of Egmont," said the judge, adding that "Frederick Perceval's claim had something of a gap in it." The judge directed the inquiry to go back to Spencer Perceval, Prime Minister of England in 1809. The Prime Minister was murdered in the lobby of the House of Commons by a mad bankrupt named Bellingham on May 11, 1812.

Tows Baby in Buggy to Save Paint on Car

CHICAGO, June 23. (Exclusive)—When Billy Kruger, now 18 months of age, grows up he's going to be an automobile racer. But considering his experience of today he may consider his racing days are over. For when policemen interrupted the pace of the infant, his buggy was traveling behind an automobile driven by his father, Elmer Kruger.

"What's the idea?" inquired the officer as he had Kruger pull up to the curb.

"Well, I didn't want to put the buggy inside the car because it would spoil the new paint job," the father explained.

"If you have to tow the buggy, how about putting the baby in your automobile?" suggested the policeman.

"I never thought of that," replied the man at the wheel.

STATE EMPLOYEE'S WIFE SLAYS SELF

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Russell, 41 years of age, wife of W. M. Russell, inspector for the State Department of Agriculture, committed suicide early this morning by taking poison. Russell told police his wife had been ill for several months but would not allow physicians to treat her. Lately she had become melancholy, he declared.

ESTABLISHED 1889 : RESOURCES OVER 35 MILLION DOLLARS

What will the harvest be?

ON JUNE 24 a picturesque ceremony has for centuries been enacted in Northern Europe. Straw is woven between the spokes of a wheel and ignited. Two men rush to the river, rolling the wheel between them. They strive to plunge the wheel into the river before the flame subsides. If they succeed, it is taken as the portent of a good harvest.

What will you harvest this year? Financial gains or losses? Accomplishment or disappointment?

Pacific States Savers are enjoying a good harvest—the same good harvest they have reaped each year since 1889. Their funds, unquestionably safe, protected from shrinkage and conveniently accessible—are yielding them 6%.

If you are not enjoying this attractive interest plus proven safety—plan now to do so during the last half of 1929. 1929 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

A Family Car Completes the Vacation Picture

AT no other season is a car's "fitness" so important—for it must hold all of the family, all of the luggage—perhaps even camping equipment.

The car that was "good enough" for short week-end jaunts, or social calls, or business, may not be equal to the real test of efficiency, and comfort—on the highways of Vacationland.

A roomy, attractive, and efficient Used Car can be found in The Times' Used Car Columns today—giving you time to rehearse the art of filling it comfortably with family and luggage before the great Vacation Adventure.

IMMUNITY VEIL LIFTING SOUGHT

Senator Proposes to Amend Constitution

Uncurbed Tongue Declared Outrage in Congress

Criticism of President and Cabinet Made Exception

WASHINGTON. June 23. (AP)—Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, plans to propose at the next session of Congress an amendment to the Constitution that will strip from members of Congress immunity from prosecution for libel.

In making this announcement today the Senator declared much harm is often done by untrue and ill-founded statements upon the floors of the House and the Senate, where they are protected by the constitutional clause providing that "any speech or debate in either House shall not be questioned in any other place."

ATTACKS TO CEASE

"If the immunity were taken away," he asserted, "many attacks upon private citizens, corporations, religious sects and churches would never be heard."

The recent liberalization of the Senate rules to permit discussion of executive nominations in open session was seen by Senator Bingham as urgent reason for curbing the remarks of his colleagues. Citing that practically all discussions of nominations will now be held in open session, he said, "In order to protect the names and reputations of all citizens, or high or low degree, and with the view of determining Senators and Representatives from irresponsible repetition of reports, rumors, hearsay evidence, derogatory statements and aspersions under cover of the immunity heretofore shielding them from consequences of such remarks when made in Congress, it is my purpose to endeavor to abolish immunity."

NOT INTENDED

"It is entirely possible," he continued, "at the present time to attack in the open any race of people or their leaders or representatives under the shield of immunity. Our forefathers never intended that this should be. It was their idea that we should consider in open forum such subjects as liberty and the conduct of our government."

He contended that through these shielded attacks many people are "illegally defamed, their reputations ruined, their businesses harmed and their credit seriously impaired, although they are innocent."

The Senator would reserve the immunity safeguard to criticism of the President, Cabinet officers or other government officials or employees, asserting his belief that this is one of the important functions of Congress.

Ontario Police Report Defends Rum-Runners

WINDSOR (Ont.) June 23. (AP)—Alfred E. Cuddy, deputy commissioner of Ontario police, today said that a survey has convinced him that there is no gun-carrying in and around the Windsor dock area by rum-runners.

Authorities here expressed the opinion that rum-runners receive protection from gunmen in scout craft after the rum-runners' boats reach American waters.

These scout boats, the authorities believe, also sometimes act as decoys, drawing United States patrol boats into pursuit while the rum craft slip through to the American shore in safety.

Women Scantily Attired Banned

BURLINGTON (Vt.) June 23. (AP) Women whose scanty clothing is considered to exceed the bounds of "decency" are to be barred henceforth from attending services at St. Mary's Cathedral, here, it is proclaimed in a notice signed by Very Reverend Joseph F. Gillis, rector of the cathedral and Vicar-General of the Catholic diocese at Burlington.

BICYCLES BECOMING FASHIONABLE AGAIN

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive) Bicycles are becoming fashionable again. After years of eclipse they have now been found to be the only solution to the traffic problem.

An artist, Odo Cross, who has just acquired a scarlet and aluminum push bike on which he rides everywhere, says, "I find that I can get about in traffic much quicker on a bicycle than in a car."

Carl Van Vechten, who is so enjoying himself in London that he proposes staying for months, has also acquired a "bike."

Trainmen Who Were Held Up by Gang of Bandits

TRAIN BANDIT HUNT PUSHED

Three Men and a Woman Sought at Stockton for Questioning on $16,000 Hold-up

MARTINEZ, June 23. (AP)—Train robbers who escaped with $16,000 from a Southern Pacific train yesterday at McAvoy, a flag station near here, in a spectacular hold-up, remained at large today while railroad detectives and local authorities throughout California intensified a search for them.

The bandits escaped in an automobile which they dynamited a few miles from the scene and are believed to have doubled back over the route in another machine furnished by a confederate said to be a woman.

WEAPONS FOUND

One trail today led to Stockton where a hunt was started for three men and a woman who were arrested there a month ago and released for want of evidence. In their apartment was found a number of weapons.

Two principals in the hold-up boarded the train as passengers at Bay Point, twelve miles south of the scene. An automobile carrying one or two confederates in which was mounted a machine gun waited on the State highway paralleling the tracks near McAvoy.

As the train neared McAvoy, F. A. Hiekka, brakeman, was forced at the point of a pistol to pull a cord which was a signal to J. H. Barnes, the engineer, to stop the train. The elder bandit moved up to the engine cab as the train stopped and shot the engineer in the arm as the latter reached for his pistol.

FORCED TO BACK

The fireman then was forced to back the train up to the point where the confederate automobile with its threatening machine gun waited on the highway.

George H. Tyler, mail clerk, refused from within the locked mail car to open the door. The elder bandit answered the refusal of the conductor, H. E. Wamsley, to give up the mail car key by peppering a charge of shot from the machine gun which struck near his feet. The key was surrendered and the bandit entered the car and obtained $16,000 in currency.

LOCAL OFFICERS ASKED TO AID SEARCH

Police and deputy sheriffs in the Los Angeles area have been warned by the San Francisco police to be on the lookout for the bandits who robbed the Southern Pacific train near Martinez Saturday and escaped with $16,000 after shooting the engineer.

The spectacular manner of the hold-up and the subsequent escape of the bandits led local police to believe that several cars with confederates operating them had been stationed along the road to permit the transfer of the bandits and their plunder and permit them to make their get-away in different directions. Wires were sent to Capt. Dewar of the Sheriff's robbery detail asking him to watch for the bandits in the Los Angeles district.

Search of the rogue's gallery for pictures and descriptions of men known to be pay roll and train robbers was made by Deputies Catlin and Bogle and a hunt will be started for any who may be in this vicinity.

An effort to trace the ownership of the car which was abandoned by the robbers after they had made an attempt to burn it revealed that it had once been owned by James Henderson of 655 Laguna avenue, but he had turned it back to the finance company. The finance company's manager who has the records of the new owner was out of the city for the week-end and the deputy sheriffs will confer with him today. The car still bore the license plates which had been issued to Henderson.

PRESIDENTS' LINEAGE TOLD

Book Reveals Ancestral Data Regarding First Chief Magistrates of United States

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive)—Ex-Presirent Coolidge can trace his ancestry back to that earlier exponent of the protective tariff, Charlemagne, according to "Your Family Tree," by David Starr Jordan, and Sarah Louise Kimball, which Appleton & Co., has issued. And if he is not satisfied with the mighty emperor of the west, he can remember that Charlemagne, too, had ancestors—even to Heli, King of the Britons.

The book traces the lineage of a number of the Presidents of the United States and other well-known figures. It occasionally makes strange bedfellows.

For example, Jonathan Edwards and John D. Rockefeller—and for all of that, George Washington—come gracefully down from Henri I, King of France. Edwards, however, has an asterik in his line—back in the seventeenth century—with a footnote phrased doubtfully "subject to proof of lineage." Aaron Burr and Winston Churchill also descend from Henry I. Thomas Jefferson, William Howard Taft, Secretary Wilbur and J. P. Mo[illegible] are descendants of David I, King of Scotland. Mr. Morgan does it by way of a series of Lymans—so does Secretary Wilbur—but Jefferson and Taft both mourn Sir Henry De Greene, who when he was beheaded in the fourteenth century left three sons. Jefferson comes from John, and Mr. Taft from Thomas.

President Garfield and Grant, as well as Benedict Arnold, are traced to William the Conqueror, and James Buchanan and most of the present-day kings and queens to Robert Bruce, the King of Scotland.

MEDALS GO TO HEROES OF SCOUTS

Fifteen Given Gold Honor Awards for Risking Their Lives to Save Others

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Fifteen Boy Scouts who risked their lives to save the lives of others have been rewarded with Gold Honor Medals, the highest award of the Boy Scouts of America, an announcement today said.

The medals were conferred by the National Court of Honor, of which Carter Beard is chairman. Those to whom they were awarded are: Sidney Hershowitz, Washington, D. C.; Lawrence Bee, Provo, Utah; William Bennett, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; William G. Holford, Jr., Portland, Or.; Willie Evans, Rockwood, Tenn.; Thomas Messader, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Marlow White, Pensacola, Fla.; John Lazorishak, Sharon, Pa.; Ted Derrick, Rockwood, Tenn.; William David Jordan, Park Ridge, Ill.; J. C. Acuff, Middlesboro, Ky.; William J. Martin, Brookfield, Mo.; James Lucas, Macon, Ga., and Wilson Schooley, Mercer, Wis.

A Gold Honor Medal will be sent to the parents of Scoutmaster James Tarwater Wright of Rockwood, Tenn., who gave his own life to save a number of the boys in his troop from drowning during the Tennessee and Alabama floods of the early spring. Willie Evans, Ted Derrick and J. C. Acuff also played parts in those rescues.

Church Council Denies Defeating Naval Program

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America today made public a letter it has sent to Rear-Admiral S. S. Robison, president of the United States Naval Institute, in which the council denies charges published in the June issue of the United States Naval Institute proceedings that the council, through subsidized propaganda, had defeated American naval construction.

The charges were made in an article written by Capt. Dudley W. Knox, U.S.N., retired, and previously were denied by Dr. Charles S. McFarland, general secretary of the council.

Accused Border Slayer Gets Bail

INTERNATIONAL FALLS (Minn.) June 23. (AP)—Emmett J. White, border patrolman who was held in jail here on a second-degree murder charge in connection with the killing of Henry Virkkula, Big Falls merchant, the 8th inst., was released today on $5000 bonds. The bonds were signed by Dr. C. C. Craig, president of the City Council.

Quiz Asked by Negro-Aid Group

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced today that a brief had been sent to President Hoover's law-enforcement commission asking it to include in its investigation of lawlessness in the United States, "the law-breaking committed against negroes in the form of lynching, disfranchisement, peonage and mob violence."

Ohio Professor Arraigned Today for Girl Murder

COLUMBUS (O.) June 23. (AP)—Dr. James H Snook, 49 years of age, deposed professor of Ohio State University, will be arraigned tomorrow for the first-degree murder of Miss Theora K. Hix, his 25-year-old co-ed paramour.

Snook was indicted several days ago after confessing that he slashed the girl's throat after beating her with a hammer during an altercation at a rifle range north of the city.

Dr. Snook's attorneys say they will enter a "not guilty" plea in his behalf.

A report of three alienists on Dr. Snook's mental condition is expected Tuesday. The alienists were called by Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., yesterday to forestall an insanity plea which he feared the defense attorneys might attempt.

Adopted Son of Cusack Arrested

WHEATON (Ill.) June 23. (AP)—Harold Cusack, adopted son and an heir of the late Thomas Cusack, outdoor advertising man, was arrested today in connection with the death of Arthur F. Miller of Chicago in an automobile crash.

Cusack is accused of driving his car, a heavy sedan, into the cross traffic of a highway, smashing the Miller machine broadside. He and a companion, Frank Wilson of Lagrande, are charged with manslaughter and assault with a deadly weapon.

TUNNEY READY TO FIGHT WIDOW

Lawyer Will File Answer On Love Balm Suit Today

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Gene Tunney will deal a retaliatory legal jab at the buxom widow, Katherine Fogarty, tomorrow, swearing that never—not even in the lean past of his ham-and-eggs prize ring days—did he sue for the heart and hand of the former wife of a Fort Worth (Tex.) plumber.

The champion's reply to the $500,000 breach of promise action brought May 21 by Mrs. Fogarty, will be filed in Superior Court at Bridgeport, Ct., by Tunney's Connecticut counsel, Homer H. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The reply will constitute a general denial to Mrs. Fogarty's assertion that he asked and obtained her promise to marry him.

This Summer...the Pacific Northwest

Make it a THRILLING Vacation—in the famous "Evergreen Playground"

Snow-capped peaks...green-timbered canyons...sparkling lakes...golf...salmon or trout fishing...other sports at every turn...experiences and thrilling sights you will always remember—if you go this summer to America's "Evergreen Playground," the Pacific Northwest.

Southern Pacific's overnight Pullmans save the days for play. Through train the "West Coast" (no change of cars to Portland) leaves Los Angeles every evening at 6:10. Or you can take the interesting scenic trip leaving at 7:45 a. m. on the famous "Daylight Limited" with a stopover in gay San Francisco. (Eight other trains to San Francisco daily.)

The crack "Cascade" out of San Francisco drives its swift way to Portland in 22 hours, through the spectacular Cascades by daylight, past glorious mountain and lake scenery. (Four other trains daily.)

Quaint cities of British Columbia, great national parks such as Glacier and Rainier are yours to enjoy at low cost on a Southern Pacific ticket.

If you are going East this summer, you can see the Pacific Northwest at very slight additional cost on the way, over Southern Pacific's SHASTA ROUTE ...then East either through the United States or Canada. Returning, your choice of three great Southern Pacific routes, at no additional fare: GOLDEN STATE ROUTE, Chicago to Los Angeles via Kansas City and El Paso; OVERLAND ROUTE, Chicago to Los Angeles via Great Salt Lake and San Francisco; SUNSET ROUTE, to Los Angeles via New Orleans.

STATES UNITE AGAINST FIRES

Eleven Governors Meet in Bay City Today

Will Map Drive to Prevent Timber Scourge

West's Most Progressive Move Assured

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (Monday)—The most constructive forward step which the West ever has known for the preservation of its timber lands is scheduled to be taken here tomorrow. Governors of eleven western States, heads or representatives of their respective forestry departments, executives of the Federal service and county foresters of California meet at the Hotel Whitcomb at the call of the California Development Association to map a campaign of driving the red scourge of fire from the resource that is both watershed and recreation to millions of persons annually.

ACTION COUNSELED

Individual efforts on the parts of various States to go at this matter in salutary fashion have been made from time to time for years. In California, where wood growth is imperative for the retention of winter snow and the assurance of spring thaws to fill the streams that furnish the State's life blood of water, the California Development Association persistently has counseled definite action toward prevention. The association firmly is convinced that in forest fires the most destructive influence of nature is at work and its attitude is backed by the undeniably damaging figures of county, State and Federal forest surveys and reports.

The association has not been alone in its sentiment; civic organizations in every corner of the State have thrown unlimited moral support into the fight, but it is only in recent months that the idea of prevention as the proper method of procedure against an uncompromising foe has spread with the surety of a timber flame itself. The idea now is hot, not only in California but throughout the entire sweep of States ranging from the Rockies to the sea.

Proof is evident in this meeting, which marks the first time in history that far-seeing men representing such a tremendous extent of territory have jumped into harness together for mutual war on a common enemy.

They meet at a time when the guide posts have been erected for the path which, in general, they plan to travel.

The pending Congressional Englebright bill, introduced at the last session, provides the machinery for a nation-wide, adequate fire protection system in all national forests. It is scheduled to come up for passage at the next regular session, convening in December. It provides that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, $4,500,000 shall be expended under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture for construction and maintenance of fire lanes, roads and trails and housing accommodations for rangers, the eyes of the forests. A similar amount would be available for 1931-32; $4,200,000 for 1932-33, and $4,000,000 annually thereafter "or such other amounts as Congress may hereafter provide."

The Englebright bill unanimously is admitted the best thing for timber preservation which the West ever had held before it.

WESTERN PROBLEM

Emphasis is placed upon western States for the obvious reason that the great majority of the natural forest lands to be benefited lie in this section of the country. Passage of the bill, therefore strongly is desired by these men who know the forests and it is certain that tomorrow's meeting will be devoted in goodly measure to details of assuring the bill's favorable reception and passage.

Adequate personnel and fire-fighting equipment will do more to stifle fire destruction, it is believed, than any other agency. How these factors are to be obtained and to what use they shall be put is a problem that demands minute attention. It is just that which prompted the gathering tomorrow.

Among others of national caliber planning to attend is R. Y. Stuart, chief forester of the United States, giving his personal pledge to the success of whatever plan of effort shall be worked out.

The meeting will be presided over State-wide conservation committee by E. W. Murphy, chairman of the of the development association.

LURE OF SOUTH FELT IN JAPAN

Former Nursery Owner Back in Native Land

Took With Him Plants and Blooms of Southland

Hogue Made Homesick by Visit With Hirai

BY FRED HOGUE

NARA, May 30. (Exclusive) — In the ancient city of Nara, founded about the period when Agamemnon was besieging with his Greek legions the walled city of Troy, when Hector and Achilles were fighting the duel that decided the fate of Illium, from the portico of a Hollywood bungalow I have seen the sun setting behind a range of the Japanese highlands, half-concealed by a curtain of purple and gold.

Almost within the shadow of a Buddhist pagoda, builded centuries before Columbus braved the terrors of the western main, Cecil Brunner roses are blooming on a trellis about a stained-glass window, and a bush of the ruby-red rose of Los Angeles perfumes with its fragrant odor the sunset breezes of Japan.

OWNED HOLLYWOOD NURSERY

Twenty years ago George Hirai, descendant of a line of nobility older than any recorded in the Doomsday book of William the Conqueror, went with his father to Hollywood and founded a nursery there. Two years ago this father found old age creeping upon him, and expressed the desire that his bones should rest in the land sanctified by his ancestors.

So George Hirai returned to Nara, to the rice fields and the ancestral forests that had been watched and tended by his relatives during his sojourn in California. But he carried with him in his heart the lure of the Southland, of the movies and the flowers. From plans drawn by a Los Angeles architect, he built in the suburbs of Nara a Hollywood bungalow; and in his garden are growing the celery, the asparagus, the strawberries and the roses that he imported from Southern California.

In the bungalow are the overstuffed chairs, lounges, carpets, piano and dining-room furniture that he brought with him from Los Angeles.

Slipping away from my journalistic associates, I plucked luscious red strawberries in that garden tonight, and dined with him, his father and his mother in that bungalow.

The broad Pacific narrowed into a tiny rivulet. Our conversation was not of temples and shrines, but of the rose-clad hills of Hollywood.

Now I am back in the imposing Nara Hotel, one of the most portentious hostelries of all Japan, in apartments lately occupied by the Duke of Gloucester and his suite. I spent the day dragged by a well-meaning reception committee from temple to temple, and from shrine to shrine. I saw the thousand-handed god of good fortune, the great Variochane Buddha, an enormous bronze statue fifty-three feet high cast more than 1000 years ago, housed in the largest wooden structure in the world, fed the sacred deer—a herd of more than 1000—petted the sacred horse, and bowed in what the Methodists would call pagan worship in a Shinto shrine.

But, when I returned to the hotel, the clerk handed me a letter from Los Angeles—from Midge—telling of Betty, telling of Louis and Belle, containing snapshots of Blixy, our favorite Springer Spaniel, and her two puppies, Maggie and Brother.

And it is not of pagodas and shrines that I shall dream tonight, but of another bungalow in the heart of the Wilshire, under the swaying fronds of giant palms, with white and lavendar wisterias flowering on a trellis, and roses and lavender blooms in the garden.

DREAMS OF HOME

I am in the midst of the ancient city of Nara, looking down from my window on a lake where a great five-storied pagoda is swaying on the trembling waters under the white rays of a rising moon, rays that but a few hours ago glided softly over Los Angeles.

Perhaps it is the messages they bring that turn my thoughts to the Southland. One can exile bodies; but not hearts.

Twenty years ago Hirai the elder was a member of the Japanese House of Representatives. He was moved with a desire to know more of the life of the western world, of the occidental civilization his people were beginning to embrace. So he resigned from the Diet and went with his wife, two sons and daughter to Los Angeles. He expected to reside but a year there; but twenty years passed before he returned. One of his sons married and bore him grandchildren there, who are American citizens.

He, too, has been touched by the enchantment of the Southland, has learned that it is easier to enter this domain of sunshine and flowers than to escape from it.

Shell-Shocked Veteran Would be President

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Shell shocked in the World War, Michael King, 48 years of age, told Magistrate Liota: "I am God."

King, a splendid figure of a man, physically, was arrested for writing letters to President Hoover urging him to abdicate in favor of King. He was sent to King's County Hospital.

STATE HIGHWAY WORK

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (Exclusive)—State highway contracts now under way in the thirteen counties of Southern California will distribute a total of $8,044,599.60 to the people of these counties.

This information is contained in a report issued by B. B. Meek, director of the Department of Public Works. The report deals in detail with the volume of State highway work in Southern California counties now under contract.

DEAN INGE IN SKITTISH MOOD DISCUSSES NUDITY

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive)—London's "gloomy dean," Rev. William Ralph Inge, of St. Paul's, was in a skittish mood tonight and indulging in a little frivolous dissertation on modern habits and customs.

Addressing members of "The Sunlight League" the dean issued the warning "beware of cranks and extremists," particularly referring to the German nudity cult, in which bands of young enthusiasts of both sexes walk about without clothes.

"There is nothing objectionable in it, but it is a matter of convention. It is necessary to hold at arm's length those not very wholesome-minded people," the dean said.

Then turning to modern fashions, after referring to "the habit of forty or fifty years ago of covering up, the dean observed, amid laughter, that people who were very refined—like Americans—even covered up the limbs—not legs—of their pianos. "But since the war the ladies have, I believe, raised the standard of revolt," he added. "They are not too much covered now. In fact, to quote a limerick attributed to a clergyman, "half an inch, half an inch shorter, the same skirts for mother and for daughter. When the wind blows, everything shows, both what should, and what had not oughta'."

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES, in cooperation with the Universal Air Lines and the Santa Fe, inaugurated on June 14 the first Transcontinental Air-Rail passenger service.

Twenty-seven years ago, on June 15, New York Central inaugurated the 20-hour 20th Century Limited service between Chicago and New York.

The opening of the first Transcontinental Air-Rail route follows a year of successful operation of New York Central's air-rail service between New York and Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis.

The New York Central transcontinental route offers a maximum of comfort as well as safety. Planes are used only across the level Midwest—from Kansas to Lake Erie. Where the route crosses the mountain barriers, the journey is made by de luxe limited trains.

Three of the world's finest trains—New York Central's Southwestern Limited (west and east) and Santa Fe's California Limited (west) and Grand Canyon Limited (east)—are operated in this new service, in conjunction with a fleet of giant tri-motored Fokker de luxe cabin planes. These are the largest and fastest ships of the air now in transport service.

The air-rail passenger eastbound is booked from Los Angeles via Santa Fe on the Grand Canyon Limited at 12:30 p.m. On the second morning at Garden City, Kansas, he transfers to the waiting FOKKER, and flies to Cleveland, with short stops at Kansas City and Chicago. In the evening at Cleveland he transfers to New York Central's de luxe Southwestern Limited, which takes him overnight to New York via the famous water level route—only two business days Los Angeles to New York.

Arrangements for through tickets, Pullman and plane reservations, and transport of luggage, Los Angeles to New York, and return, can be made through New York Central office, 424 Van Nuys Building, Los Angeles —Telephone Trinity 7195.

GERMANY SPLIT ON NAVY POLICY

Wide Divergence of Views Becomes Strenuous

Anniversary of Jutland Has Loud Repercussion

President Gives Support to Antimilitarists

BERLIN, June 23. (AP)—The thirteenth anniversary of the battle of Jutland, known here as the "Victory of Skaggerrack," was marked by meetings of naval enthusiasts who hope for a rebuilding of German sea power, but President Von Hindenburg himself reviewed his special navy guard in civilian garb, as if to emphasize the passing of the old military order.

The marked contrast between the two was symbolic of the wide divergence that exists between political trends in Germany today, toward aggressive nationalism on one hand and socialistic democracy on the other.

"The anniversary of Skaggerrack," declared C. Hachmann, chairman, at a crowded anniversary meeting of the navy association in Berlin, "warns our people not to forget that we must strive for new sea strength. Admiral Scheer (commander of the German fleet at Jutland) showed us what a role the strong will of a leader can play in the German nation. If only for the sakes of our fallen comrades, it is our duty to rebuild the fatherland in new glory."

Martial music from marine bands that recalled the glamour of pre-war days greeted this declaration, as well as a triple cheer and the singing of "Deutschland Ueber Alles" by the packed audience, among whom were Admiral Raeder, the new chief of the German navy; vice-admirals Heinrich, Kahle and Lorenz, Cols. Marx and Von Puttkamer, representing army headquarters, and numerous officers and former officers of both services.

An echo of this enthusiasm marked the sidewalk crowds who watched President Von Hindenburg's honor guard of Kiel marines as they marched under the triumphal arch of the Brandenburger Thor to the palace.

But the simplicity of the venerable war hero's appearance as he stepped out into the slate gray inclosure of the palace courtyard, hatless and without medals or decorations on his dark civilian suit, was a sharp reminder of the democratic garb which the German State itself now wears.

MISTAKE MEANS FROCK TO WRONG MAE MURRAY

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)

PARIS, June 23. (Exclusive)—Paul Poiret, Parisian dressmaker, is meditating today on all the trouble business men can get into through making a mistake in identity, while Miss Mae Murray, employee of the Federal Reserve Bank in New York, is trying to make up her mind about just what kind of a gift frock she wants the house of Poiret to cut for her.

It seems that M. Poiret sent a process server around to Miss Murray's hotel yesterday with a summons for the "film actress known as Mae Murray" to appear before a magistrate and explain why she should not settle an outstanding bill of $658 for a few Poiret creations delivered several years ago.

The New York Miss Mae Murray is traveling alone on a European vacation and has a very limited knowledge of the French language. It was necessary for the somewhat embarrassed hotel manager to explain that she was being sued for an apparently unpaid bill.

Miss Murray excitedly telephoned to an American lawyer here. She did not quite understand what it was all about, but she had been in the habit of paying her bills all her life and was angry indeed about the humiliation caused her. The lawyer promptly communicated with M. Poiret and gently informed the dressmaker that there probably are at least 350 Mae Murray's in New York alone.

M. Poiret almost bought out a florist shop, and along with the flowers now filling her room Miss Murray received a letter of apology exacting the politest phrases of the French tongue. She also was invited to the Poiret establishment and the proprietor hopes she will signify her complete forgiveness by accepting a costume for the design of which he already has a special inspiration.

Book of Verse by Waitress is Given Praise

BOSTON (Mass.) June 23.—Miss Margaret D. McGovern, a waitress in the Boston Y.M.C.A. restaurant, has just completed a volume of verse which will be issued this fall by Coward-McCann, New York publishers.

"Her work is amazingly good," a well-known Boston literary authority who refuses to be quoted, states, adding that in his opinion only Edna St. Vincent Millay, Emily Dickinson and the late Elinor Wylie have achieved anything so admirable as Miss McGovern's lyrics.

Roads Fine in National Park

GENERAL GRANT NATIONAL PARK, June 22. — Following the three-inch rain of last week-end in General Grant National Park, roads are in splendid shape and ideal weather conditions prevail. Flow of water in the Hila Falls, Veola Falls and Singing Waters has been greatly increased, all three forming delightful pictures at this time. these falls are situated about three-fourths of a mile from headquarters, just a pleasant hiking trip. The first half of the trip may be made by car but the remainder must be made by foot-train. Saddle horses are available for those not caring to hike.

De Priest Clash Brings Praise to Mrs. Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—The Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom made public today a letter addressed to Mrs. Herbert Hoover commending her for extending to Mrs. De Priest, wife of the negro Representative from Illinois "a courtesy which was automatically extended to the wives of all members of the United States Congress and which we had taken for granted in turn would automatically be accepted by all citizens who believe in Democratic institutions."

"We believe that your hospitality to Mrs. De Priest adheres to the best American tradition of Democracy," the letter said, "and is a happy step in the direction of more normal and wholesome race relations."

The letter was signed by Hannah Clothier Hull, national chairman, and Dorothy Detzer, executive secretary.

SLUMS CLEARED

LONDON, June 23. (AP)—Recent opening by the Lord Mayor of two blocks of tenements in New street, Aldgate, marked the completion of a slum clearance program initiated by the city ten years ago. The scheme called for the demolition of 151 houses and displacement of 885 persons, 250 of whom were re-housed on the same area. Accommodations for the other 635 were erected in Wenlock Road.

FALLEN LEADER MEMORIALIZED

Services Conducted for Gen. Booth

Ten Thousand at Ceremony In London

High Praise Bestowed on Army Veteran

LONDON, June 22. (AP)—Albert Hall was filled to capacity tonight by 10,000 persons for a memorial service to Gen. William Bramwell Booth, former head of the Salvation Army. To the stirring music of 200 bandsmen of the army, the procession bearing the body entered the hall and marched to the place of honor in the center.

A purple mantle was laid on the floor and above it rested the casket, while all around was the rich green foliage of summer ferns with banners of the army at each corner. Except for the coffin, surmounted by the hat and Bible of the general, there was nothing somber or funereal about the setting or the service.

Scarlet flags of the army, mauve and white draperies of the hall and the flags of many nations gave color to the assembly. Following the coffin was the widow, wearing an army uniform with a white and red sash.

Commissioner Catherine Booth, his daughter, and other members of the family and officers of the army who had nursed the general during his long illness followed.

EMOTIONAL SCENE

Gen. Edward J. Higgins opened the service but most of it was conducted by members of the Booth family, who offered the prayers and led the singing of hymns.

Gen. Higgins read a long message from Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the army in the United States, paying tribute to the work of her brother. The general was under stress of great emotion as he spoke, standing before the coffin with arm raised in salute to the leader of the army whom he had succeeded.

"The Salvation Army the world over stands in salute to our leader," he said. "Farewell, dear chief until morning breaks and the shadows flee. Farewell, for a brief period, while I finish my course. Farewell, dear chief."

NO MURMURS

Catherine Booth and Mrs. Booth also displayed great emotion in their addresses. The latter said, "He has climbed his Calvary, he has been wounded in the house of his friends, but he faltered not. We have not heard one word of murmuring, not one bitter complaint, not one resentful thought." She apparently referred to the removal of the general from leadership of the army last winter, which he had opposed.

United bands played "Abide With Me" as the casket was borne from the hall. The body rests tonight under guard of faithful officers at the international headquarters of the Salvation Army. Interment will be tomorrow.

BUSINESS BASIS FOR CHARITIES

Guggenheim Family Forms New Foundation to Carry on Philanthropies

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Murry Guggenheim, long identified with philanthropical work in New York, today announced the formation of the Murry and Leonie Guggenheim Foundation, the broad purpose of which will be "the promotion through charitable and benevolent activities of the well-being of the world."

At present, it is announced, the foundation will confine itself to the establishment of three dental clinics for relief work among the children of the city's five boroughs. The first is to be built in Manhattan at a cost of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

RELAPSE SUFFERED BY EVANGELINE BOOTH

HARTSDALE (N. Y.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army today suffered a relapse, according to members of her household who attributed the setback to the heat and her worrying since the death of her brother, Gen. Bramwell Booth.

Dr. Walter Clark Tilden visited her today and found nothing serious about her condition but ordered that she be kept in bed for several more days. She will be unable to go to the Salvation Army summer quarters at Lake George for another two weeks.

NUN TO BE TRIED FOR SAINTHOOD

Founder of Omaha Convent Sanctity Candidate

Canonization Inquiry May Last Fifty Years

Two Miracles Required for Beatification

OMAHA (Neb.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Proceedings in an attempt to create the first North American saint will begin here Tuesday when the solemn canonization trial of Mother Mary Magdalene, who founded the Poor Clare Convent in Omaha, will get under way. She died in 1905. Although born in Italy of a noble family, most of her work was done in America.

For formal canonization evidence of at least two miracles must be presented. These may have occurred during the life of the candidate for sainthood or may have been evidenced by extraordinary responses to prayers after death.

The canonization trial will be carried on in all places where Mother Magdalene lived—Rome, New York, New Orleans, Evansville, as well as here. Her life will be examined thoroughly in the minutest detail and if there is any evidence of imperfection or if any considerable part of her life is not accounted for she will be rejected. The taking of evidence may require fifty years or more.

VENERABLE FIRST TITLE

If her life is found stainless the evidence will be submitted to the Pope and the cardinals and if they also agree she was sinless she may be called "Venerable." This is only the first step.

The next step is beatification and for this an inquiry must be made on Mother Magdalene's reputation for sanctity and miracles. This is a more rigid inquiry than that for veneration and the examiners will try to learn if there are any incidents that may be regarded as miracles.

Her body may be exhumed to see if it is corrupted. Theologians say that strong evidence for beatification has been obtained by the discovery that the bodies of persons long dead had been found perfectly preserved.

Rev. Peter C. Gannon, editor of The True Voice, will appear as the "devil's advocate," and will contest every claim made for Mother Magdalene.

Very Reverend Albert Kleber, O.S.B., of St. Mainrads, Ind., who is known as the vice-postulator, will present the evidence in her favor Rev. James W. Stenson, pastor of St. Peter's Church, here, will be the presiding judge, and will be assisted by two associate judges. There are also two notaries to prepare the record.

SESSION TO BE SECRET

Mgr. A. M. Colaneri, chancellor of the diocese of Omaha, will open the trial. The session will be secret.

Before she assumed the brown habit, Mother Magdalene was the Countess Annette Bentivoglio, daughter of the governor of Rome and member of an eminent Italian family. She entered the Poor Clare Convent in San Lorenzo at 26 years of age and came to America fifteen years later in 1875 to establish a new haven for the Poor Clares. She founded one in Omaha in 1879 and another several years later in Evansville, Ind.

As a beautiful young girl she was described as "high spirited with the daring recklessness of a lad." In her later years she grew more and more outwardly emotionless and was referred to as "the rock."

Operated on without anaesthetic she gave no sign of pain.

At 71 she wanted to die. "Please let me go home," she said to those praying about her, "for the Lord will not take me on account of your prayers."

Actress Reveals Secret Wedding to Charlie Foy

BOSTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—Grace Hayes, who is playing at Keith's Memorial Theater here, is the wife of Charlie Foy, one of the sons of the late Eddie Foy, she announced today. But she was married to him four years ago in San Jose, Cal., and kept it secret until last Thursday when she explained as a result of the theft and return of her engagement ring, they were remarried by Rev. Edward Leonard, pastor of St. Malachy's Church, New York.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Hayes of San Francisco.

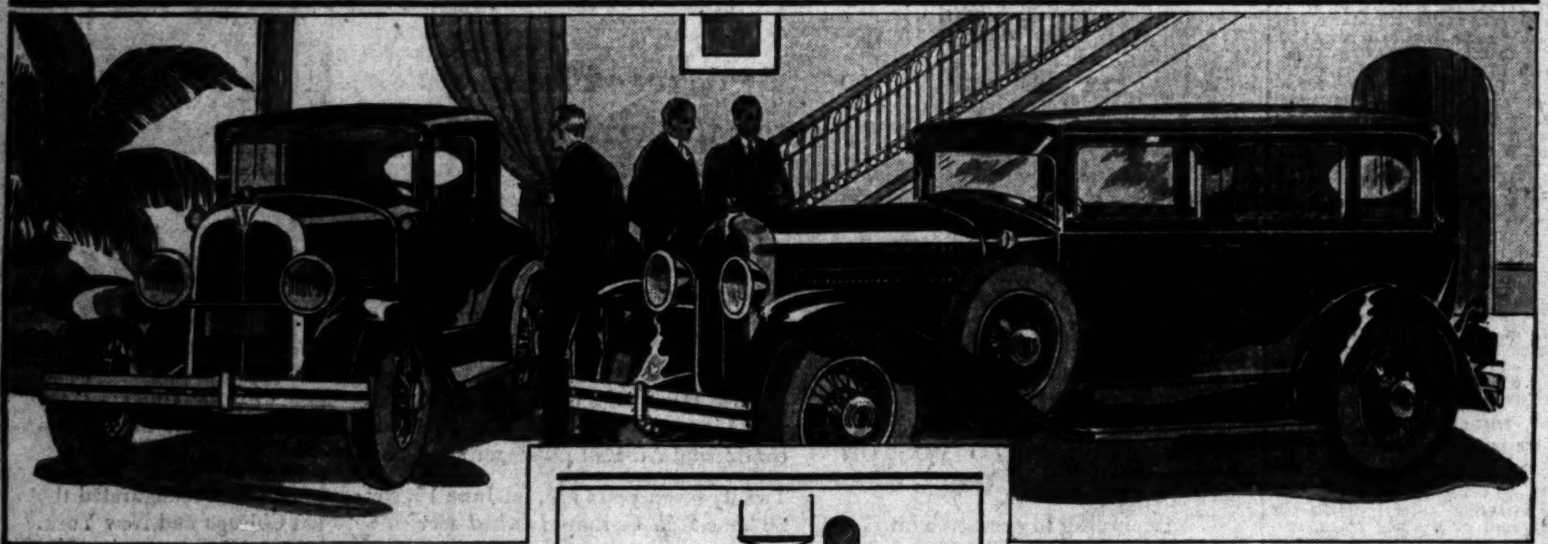
"This ring," here she indicated her diamond engagement ring in a platinum setting, "was stolen three years ago in Detroit. It was recovered only a week or so ago through Father Leonard of St. Malachy's. Father Leonard insisted that we must return to the church, and of course the only way we could come back to the church was to be remarried, so Father Leonard married us last Thursday."

Baby Deer Arrive Late

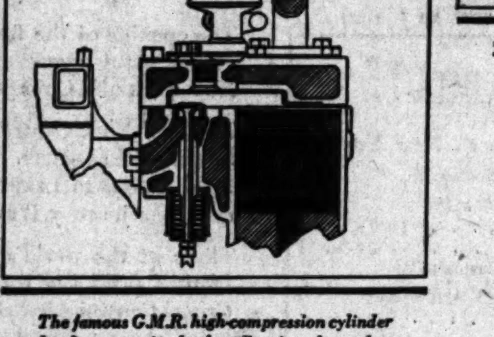
SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, June 23.—Latest additions to the colony of wild creatures residing in Sequoia National Park are wabbly spotted fawns, the first fawns of the season were glimpsed early this week. It is quite late for their arrival as they usually begin coming in the first week of June. However it is fortunate that the "stork" or whatever legendary creature brings the fawns, delayed his trip until after the rain and snow of last Sunday as some of the babies would probably have died of exposure.

Of great interest to park visitors now are seven "baby bears" who come down to Bear Hill with their mothers, who wisely park them in the trees near the feeding platform at supper time. However, one evening recently, all seven ventured into the open at once, affording the spectators a treat. One large "mama bear" insists on being exclusive. She refuses to bring her cubs near camp and roams instead in the vicinity of Sherman Tree. She is frequently seen in the road there by the tourists.

Take this new PONTIAC with its high-compression head

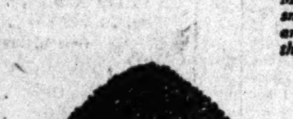


A sketch of two of the new Pontiacs recently introduced



The famous G.M.R. high-compression cylinder head was retained when Pontiac changed to its new, bigger size. And since high-compression motors have no room for hard carbon it would seem wise to use an oil that forms none

An equal sample of Shell Motor Oil left only this small fraction of carbon—and it is a soft, sooty kind that blows easily away



Even the costliest oils form more carbon. A sample of this oil, when burned, left more than three times as much as Shell Motor Oil of course carbon forming oils can damage it!

THERE'S no room in modern motors for carbon deposits—not in any of them. Today we demand motor efficiency, power, speed. And slow, clumsy, old engines with big roomy "insides" could never give us all these things.

Take the big new Pontiac motor with its G.M.R. high-compression head. Fifty-seven horsepower; not very many years ago you got less in five thousand dollar cars!

But new type motors can be damaged—seriously—with oils that form quantities of hard, gritty carbon. Nothing is wrong with the new motors. The fault is in oils.

Hard carbon builds up in layers inside your motor. It causes knocking, engine strain, power loss. Flakes get under valves and make them warp, leak and burn. Gritty bits chafe up and down cylinder walls, round and round in bearings—thousands of times per minute. Think of the wear!

Yet today there is at least one motor oil that forms no hard carbon. Just a little soft soot that blows away easily with the exhaust gases.

It is Shell Motor Oil. Refined by a new process this marvelous oil simply eliminates the carbon menace. And the new refining method brings other advantages:

Heat resistance—Shell Motor Oil holds its sturdy body in torrid summer, under the beating it takes at high speeds.

Lubricant value—the kind that enables it to "stand up" after ordinary oils break down.

To be sure that Shell Motor Oil goes into your motor, take it to a Shell garage or station every time you refill.

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, is made "dry" to protect your oil from the crankcase dilution caused by ordinary "wet" gasoline. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by thinning with "wet" gasoline

HUMBLE PENNY IN LIMELIGHT

Becomes Highly Important in Tariff Framing

Duty on Vegetables Shipped From Mexico Vexes

Seemingly Small Change Has Far-Reaching Effects

WASHINGTON, June 23. (Exclusive)—The humble penny has become the subject of much ponderous legislative consideration and discussion in tariff framing circles here. In probably no other field has it achieved the importance at this time that attaches to its effect in the agricultural schedules, particularly in connection with what is sometimes called the "supporting supply" of green vegetables coming from the west coast of Mexico. In a serious effort to lend agriculture the helping tariff hand legislators are perplexed over what action to take respecting this extraterritorial American-owned industry, which it is contended, because of seasonal reasons, is noncompetitive.

One and 2-cent per pound increases on such articles of diet and commerce as green peas, green peppers and winter tomatoes are causing far more brow-furrowing among solons than a new constitutional amendment might provoke. It is all over the question of whether to make the existing duty of ½ cent per pound on tomatoes, 3 cents per pound; the 3-4-cent duty on peppers 3 cents, and the 1-cent duty on green peas 3 cents. And the vegetable importers say the question is far more involved than most of the matters that ordinarily bring the legislators to Washington.

MANY PROTESTS

The alimentation industry, if that is a fitting way to describe those who provide food either for domestic tables or for commercial dining-rooms over the country, is up in arms over the proposed increases. Naturally the West Coast Vegetable Association, which draws its supplies from Mexico is opposed to the larger impost. Representatives of this association and of the National Restaurant Association have appeared before the House and Senate committees to warn that the new tariff will cut off or make prohibitive the December, January, February and March supply of these succulent viands. Numerous other groups are interested and see their industries threatened in more or less degree, depending upon which way the die is cast.

An interesting instance of the extent to which the repercussion of such a seemingly insignificant change in the tariff schedule can affect American industry all along the line is seen in the position of a number of box and crating lumber manufacturers in Arizona and California. The Yaqui Valley and west coast Mexican trucking industry was largely built up by American capital in an effort to find growing fields well below the heavy frost line. American lumber has to be used for crating and boxing these vegetables. With an existing differential against them of several cents per pound in shipping charges and the like, Mexican truck raising is only profitable at those seasons when American competition is practically wiped out by frost. During the winter season the Mexican business is brisk. This supporting seasonal supply requires as high as 150 carloads of American box shook, which is shipped from 300 to 500 miles south of the border. An additional penny on the tariff, it is contended, will make Mexican vegetable raising prohibitive and as a result the American box and crate industry in this locality will suffer material loss.

CHAIN OF DISASTER

The increased tariff, the Senate committee has just been informed, will not only prejudice American agricultural capital, American lumber and boxes and that most important of all social institution, the American table, but will result in decreased American railway freight revenues and will serve to break down a part of the existing American food distribution system. The green tomato distributing system, it was pointed out, has so developed that tomatoes shipped green are selected and repacked at many points, resulting in orderly distribution and in the assurance of first-grade tomatoes reaching the various markets at different seasons of the year. Stopping of winter season shipping, it was said, would so seriously disrupt this system as to cause it complete failure in many instances where the lack of a continuous supply would make the system an unprofitable institution. At the same time it is argued the American farmers would have no corresponding benefits. Lumber which is now on the free list will get a jolt from a high protective tariff on vegetables.

Valuable Lion Shot to Death for Killing Cow

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive)—From safe vantage points — telegraph poles, trees and tops of automobiles—many residents of Lymes, Regis and Dorset today watched a fierce fight between a large lion and a frenzied cow. The lion, named Wallace, one of the best examples of the black-maned beasts on show in England, and valued at $2500, was eventually killed by a postman with a revolver, but not before he had torn the cow almost to pieces.

Wallace escaped from a menagerie truck which was wrecked in a road smash. He lay quietly by the roadside, blinking in the sunshine, until a keeper approached with a rope. Then he leaped a hedge into a field among a number of cattle. The cow with a few days old calf, scented danger. With her tail erect she charged full tilt into the puzzled lion, goring him badly with her horns. The lion's temper was fully aroused by several charges of buckshot wherewith farmers from a safe distance tried to drive him off. Maddened by the pain his wounds gave him, Wallace left the dying cow and dashed across thr country. Farmers, after a long chase cornered him in a cottage garden, where a local postman crept close enough to mortally wound him with a number of revolver shots.

HIGH HAT ON MEN'S ATTIRE

NEW UNDER THE SUN
DOUBLE BREASTED JACKETS
COAT TAILS

WE LEARN that many people believe in the future of nakedness, and from our seat in the crowsnest we would judge that the bathing suit people are the stanchest of all the believers.

IT SEEMS that all this is the result of our becoming "sunshine conscious," and the bathing suit people, quick to seize any new idea which will help their business, are designing their garments this season with an eye to the wide open spaces. One-piece swim suits have twice as deep a neck as heretofore, particularly at the back. Great holes under the arms reach nearly to the waist, and the legs, cut very high, slope to the thighs. Even the boys at the "old swimmin' hole" couldn't ask for more, or less.

THE NEWEST innovation in one-piece swim suits we've seen has no trunks or no skirt, we couldn't quite decide which. The trunks are full length only at the crotch, being attached to the skirt, which covers most of the outer side of the legs. Only about three inches of the outer leg has both skirt and trunks. This suit is made in a heavy rib elastic stitch wool knit and is cut scant at the neck and arms. Its greatest advantage lies in the fact that the skirt cannot climb, either in the water or out of it, and it adds considerably to swimming comfort.

A TIP WHICH was flashed to us from the fashionable Belmont Park opening advises that jackets have gone double-breasted and that we may expect to see everybody wearing double-breasted jackets here in the late summer and fall. We pass this information on, merely as a news item, and still holding to the opinion that stout men have no business whatsoever in double-breasted jackets, even though they are President of these United States.

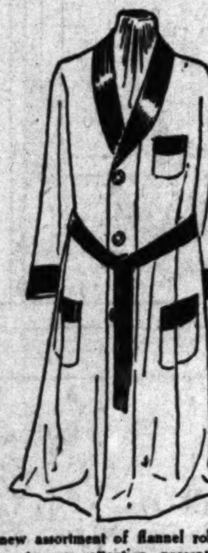
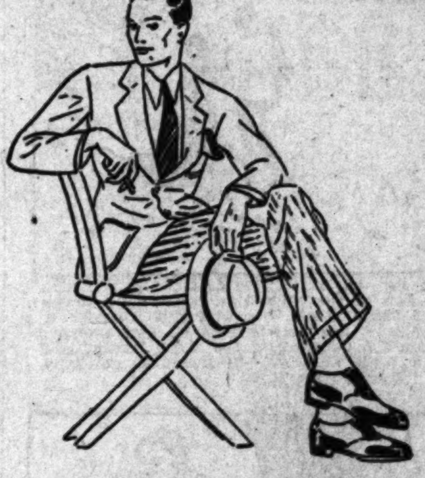
NOW THAT the Darwin monkey controversy has quieted down and Clarence Darrow has gone to Europe, our better tailors are cautiously slipping vents into the backs of jackets, again allowing us the luxury of coat tails. We predict that the style will be taken up quickly and we particularly recommend it to men with large hips. These vented jackets are also considerably longer than the prevailing styles and drape more gracefully. We believe that this will be the most outstanding change in fall clothing. Remember longer jackets with vents. You can check up on us about October.

HiHat



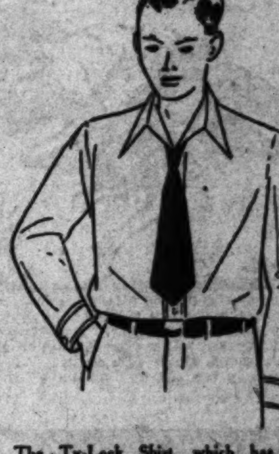
A new assortment of flannel robes which came to our attention presents several combinations of solid pastel colors with contrasting trims. They come with shawl collars, sashes, over-sized buttons and have three pockets. We have already seen a good many of these garments around the southern beaches.

At Mullen & Bluett



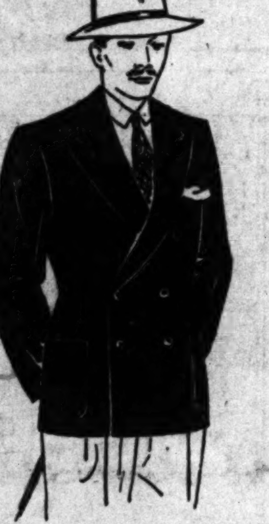
Havana Brown, which was launched at the Princeton House Party, has quickly become the most important color of the season. Illustrated, the jacket of this color, with notch lapels and plain pockets. The trousers of white cricket have light brown chalk stripes, and are high waisted.

At B. H. Dyas



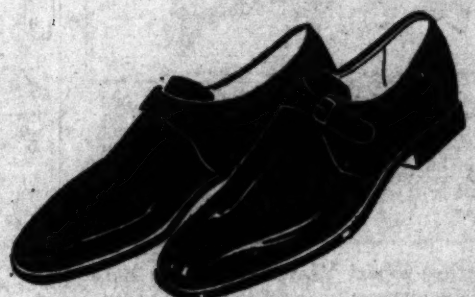
The Ty-Lock Shirt, which has gained such favor among men, for sports wear has been taken up by youths also. We saw some models with the collar reinforced to prevent wrinkling. The collar of course, has no button and is held with the tie, or worn open at the neck. We find that both white and plain colors are popular.

At Desmond's



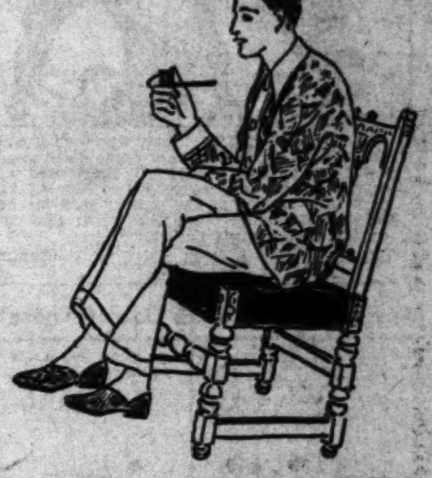
At the various resorts we have visited so far this season, we find a very marked preference for the double-breasted jacket of blue Dover flannel, such as the model shown. Notice the wide sweep lapel with peaks and the plain patch pockets. The trousers of white flannel have a high, wide waistband and twin pleats.

At Harris and Frank



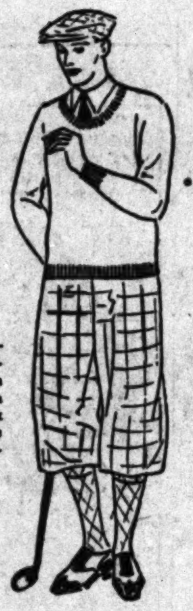
An oxford that college men are taking up for summer wear, on the unconventional side, has no laces but buckles like a jodphur boot. It is very light and flexible, having a plain toe. We saw it in tan and black calf and patent leather.

at Hamilton's



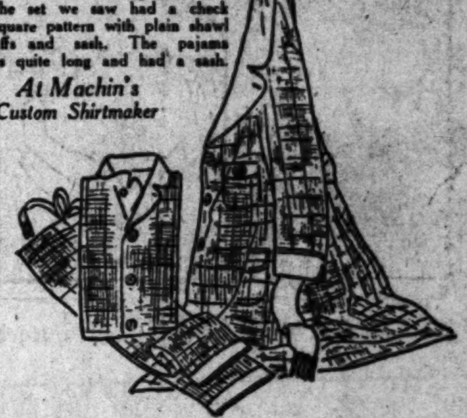
The newest pajamas we've seen are after the Parisian fashion, in two-tone effects. The jacket is figured and has plain collar and cuffs. The trousers are plain with figured cuffs, having no belt. These styles are particularly good for lounge and beach wear, as they show very pleasing designs and colors.

At Matthess in Hollywood



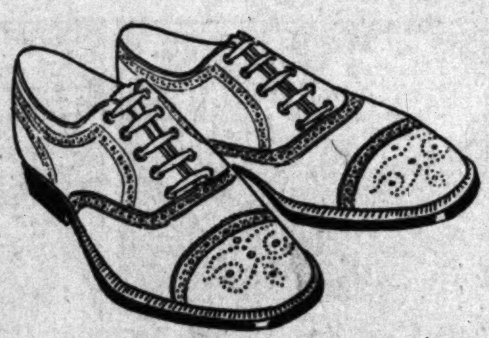
With the warm weather, linen golf knickers are again becoming tremendously popular. We saw a smart pair with an over all check design, and having a cap of the same material. The crew neck pullover was in plain canary, and the hose had a deep grenadine diamond pattern.

At Silverwoods



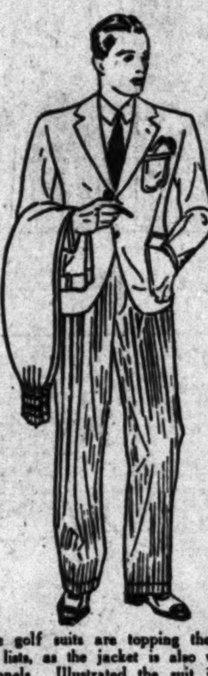
An exclusively custom shop is showing ensembles of robes and pajamas cut from exceptionally fine madras from Czecho-Slovakia, and also in English broadcloth. The set we saw had a check and oversquare pattern with plain shawl collar, cuffs and sash. The pajama jacket was quite long and had a sash.

At Machin's Custom Shirtmaker



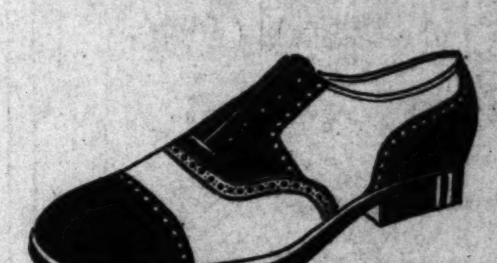
Johnston & Murphy are introducing a lightweight summer oxford over their famous "Mayfair" last. This has the semi-custom toe, smartly perforated, and the narrow snug heel. The model we saw was of boarded Russia calf, and had a featheweight sole.

At Wetherby-Kayser



Two-piece golf suits are topping the vacation wardrobe lists, as the jacket is also worn with white flannels. Illustrated the suit is of soft tan, imported cashmere. The jacket with bellows back has patch pockets with flaps and notch lapel. The knickers have knit grip bottoms. The flannels have tan stripes and quarter top pockets.

At Roos Bros. Hollywood



The preference in black and white sports oxford styles has shifted slightly, from wing tip to the straight tip styles, such as the model illustrated. This shoe has black calf on white buck, leather soles and rubber heels.

Death Closes Murder Trial

EL PASO (Tex.) June 23. (AP)—Death today closed the case of the State vs. Jose M. Marin, 64 years of age, native of Spain, scheduled to have gone to trial here tomorrow on charges of murdering Frank J. Lyons and H. D. Oppenheimer, El Paso attorneys.

The lawyers were shot to death by Marin in their offices here May 31 after several years' business association and final disagreements over Mexican mining deals.

Physicians said Marin's death probably resulted from natural causes, although a post mortem is to be held to consider a suicide theory.

Marin, once a rich man but recently in reduced circumstances, was an exile from Mexico, his adopted land.

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

MADRID June 23. (Exclusive)—Because Queen Mother Maria Cristina, who died early this year, did not leave a will, her personal fortune of nearly $11,000,000 will be divided, according to Spanish law, into three equal parts. King Alfonso, to whom she was devoted intensely during her lifetime, will inherit only a third. The other two-thirds will be divided equally among the children of the Queen Mother's two daughters, who did not survive her.

Although Maria Cristina was a model administrator of her personal affairs, her fortune was greatly diminished through depreciation of her holdings in the currency of the former Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Sandino Rushed to San Salvador

TEGUCIGALPA (Honduras) June 23. (AP)—Augustino Sandino, former rebel and outlaw leader in Nicaragua who waged war against American marine forces for months, arrived here secretly and under military escort Friday and left soon after for San Salvador, still under guard.

The government kept his movements as closely guarded as possible and would not permit the few who learned of his presence to interview him.

Kerry Romance on Ship Denied by Actor's Wife

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Mrs. Rosina Kerry, whose husband, Norman Kerry, stage and screen actor, was reported to have made a dramatic attempt at reconciliation by hopping sans passport, baggage, or even hat, the liner Majestic, on which she sailed for Europe Friday, today cast doubt on the story.

She sent the following radio message from the Majestic at sea this afternoon: "Unable to say if Mr. Kerry is aboard, and any report of conciliation between us is entirely unfounded."

The actor, however, has remained out of sight since the story was circulated that he had sailed impulsively at the eleventh hour, hoping that Mrs. Kerry would forgive him.

Bank Merging Plan Announced

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—A proposal to consolidate the Chatham Phenix National Bank and the Bank of America was announced officially today, confirming rumors recently current on Wall street.

TWO AIR PASSENGERS INJURED IN NOSE DIVE

SAN RAFAEL, June 23. (AP)—A sputtering motor sent an airplane piloted by A. M. Hegge, 35 years of age, into a nose dive today as he was attempting to land at the San Venetia airport, four miles north of here, injuring two guest passengers, John Thorsson, 34, and his 6-year-old son.

Speed Limit on Autos Causes Traffic Tie-up

PRAGUE, June 23. (Exclusive)—Failing to induce Parliament to change the law limiting the speed of automobiles in cities and villages throughout Czecho-Slovakia from three to four and four to ten miles an hour, respectively, chauffeurs here drove to the letter of the law, and as a result traffic was blocked.

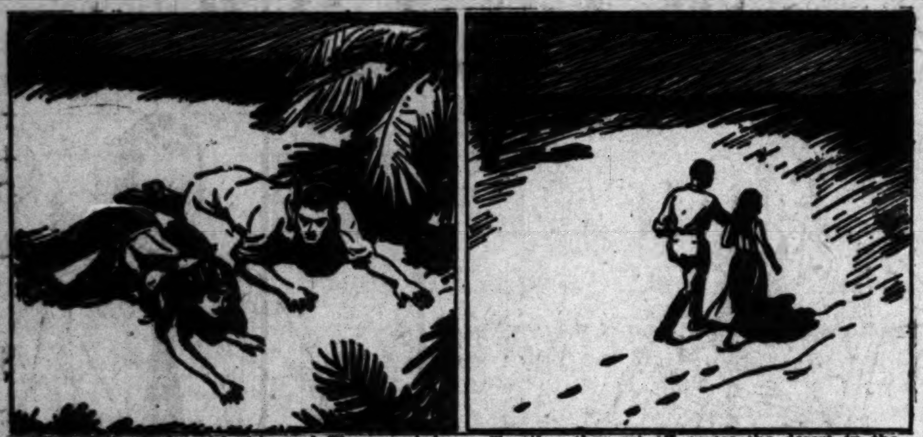
Owners of automobiles were unable to ask chauffeurs to increase their speed, as this would be breaking the law.

Despite the fact that the chauffeurs protested that they were driving at the limit of speed allowed, several were arrested today by police charged with blocking traffic.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



"Come," the dacing girl whispered. They crawled out of the tent to a sheltering patch of shrubbery without discovery. "I cannot understand," said Tarzan. "How does it happen it is you who have saved me?" She smiled. "I have come a long way tonight and we have far to go before we are safe."

Together they set off across the desert in the direction of the mountains. "You are a brave girl," Tarzan said, "to run this risk for a stranger." She drew herself up very proudly. "I am the daughter of the Shiek Kabour ben Saden," she answered. "I should be unworthy my father if I would not——risk my life for the man who saved mine while he yet thought me a common dancing-girl. My cousin of this tribe told us the wicked plot. Then I came alone, bringing two horses." But when they arrived at the place where she had tethered the horses, they were gone! She gave a stifled cry of consternation.

Tarzan stooped to examine the ground. "El Adrea, the lion, has been here," he said, "but they have escaped." There was nothing to do but continue on foot. Often they stopped to listen for sounds of pursuit. Just as they reached a sharp turn in the trail, they were brought to an abrupt halt!

Coast Indoor Trackfest Tonight

Eyes of the sports world will be focused tonight on the start of the Pacific Coast indoor track and field championships at the National Sports Exposition at Wilshire and Fairfax, beginning at 7:30. Finals in these championship contests will be staged at the same hour on Wednesday evening. The National Sports Exposition is conducting an eleven-day carnival of sports with daily afternoon and evening programs under the joint auspices of the A.A.U. and the Elks. The program will include:

Running high jump, hop, skip and jump, twelve and sixteen-pound shot put preliminaries on the field, and on the track two sixty-yard runs, two seventy-yard high hurdles, a 200-yard low hurdles, a two-mile run, a 660-yard run, an 880-yard run and a 660-yard, four man relay. Tonight's program will close with a seventy-yard low hurdle run for women and a 220-yard run, also with women competing.

Armstrong Cops Club Title in Midwick Tourney

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

You've heard of the noblest Roman of them all? Well, yesterday it was the greatest Californian of them all, Fay Coleman, who won the seventh annual invitation tournament of the California Country Club, when he defeated Jack Gaines of Girard, 4 and 2, in the thirty-six hole finals.

FAY COLEMAN

Southern California's former amateur champion has seldom played more brilliantly. Gaines scored better than ordinary golf with cards of 76-72—148, but Coleman's machine-like stroking registered two rounds of perfect golf, 72-72—144.

Coleman went out to win from the start. At the end of the first three holes he was 3 up, and at the end of nine holes he was 4 up, a lead which he held tenaciously throughout the match.

REMARKABLE RECORD

California's champion has a remarkable record for the week in the face of stiff competition. None of his matches were set-ups. Fay medaled with a 73, and then on successive days defeated Milo M. Marchetti of Rancho, 7 and 5; Johnny Joseph Mescall of Fox Hills, 6 and 5; Dick Russell of Rio Hondo, the medalist, 3 and 2; and Paul Lavelle of Fox Hills, 5 and 4.

Gaines also boasts an impressive record. He defeated F. M. Slade of California, 3 and 2; Warren Johnson of Los An-

"Watch Washington" is Cry in Rowing Camps

Nine Boats Ready for Test on Hudson Today

Race Starts at 7:15 O'clock This Evening

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 23 (AP)—The college rowing fleet of nine great institutions scattered from Oakland to Annapolis and from Cambridge to Seattle rested on their oars tonight, ready for the thirty-second intercollegiate regatta, which will be rowed on the Hudson Lake tomorrow afternoon.

COACH AL ULBRICKSON

Two giant boatloads stood out above the rest as favorites to win the classic four-mile race. California and Columbia, who finished one-two last year, retained their position of popular favor despite a sudden boom in the stock of at least three other crews.

The capable eights of Washington, Cornell and the Navy came in for loyal backing. Among the rowing men themselves there appeared a sudden disposition to respect the victory chances of the University of Washington, coached by the young Al Ulbrickson.

CAN'T TELL MUCH

Fredericks of California's champion crew vouchsafed the opinion that "you can't tell anything about Washington by the fact that we beat them by a good-sized margin back in April on the Coast. If you remember the Poughkeepsie race of 1927 you know that they beat us here by four lengths although we had beaten them by four lengths in our race on the Coast."

"Watch Washington," was the warning heard in the streets and the rowing camps tonight and the optimistic attitude in the quarters of the Huskies added credibility to the view that they may be fighting it out with crews that have been more highly regarded.

"It depends partly on the wind

APP IN SILVER GATE SWIM WIN

Forbes Cops First Honors in Women's Race

SAN DIEGO, June 23. (Exclusive) Austin Clapp, youthful Hollywood Athletic Club marvel, and Norene Forbes, San Diego miss, repeated their brilliant victories of last year in the San Diego Sun's tenth annual Silver Gate swim here today. From a field of 413 swimmers, Clapp and Miss Forbes covered the 650-yard paddle in the fastest time ever made in the respective men's and women's races.

Never before in the history of A.A.U. swimming events has there been such a tremendous entry list for a single day's competition. Out of 283 men, Clapp emerged at the long end of the horn, touching the Point Ballast finish line in 10:45. Frank Mooney of the San Francisco Olympic Club barely nosed out his teammate, Carl Stevenson, for second place in 10:57, while McGowan Miller of the Hollywood Athletic Club won fourth-place trophy in 11:12.

From a field of 130 women and girl paddlers, Miss Forbes, representing the Florence Chambers Club of San Diego, touched the finish barge after 13 minutes and 11 seconds of most consistent paddling. At midchannel she forced Olive Hatch, Los Angeles Athletic Club's sole entry, who had led the field until that time, into second place, Miss Hatch's time being 13:47 at the finish. Third place was won by Florence Chambers, representing her own club, time 13:55, after an aquatic tete-a-tete with Hilda Curtis most of the way. Miss Curtis finished five seconds later after colliding with Miss Chambers several times.

One of the most notable achievements of the day was the swim made by a 6-year-old girl, Patricia Ann Peck of the San Diego Athletic Club. Entered in the women's race, the diminutive contestant climbed to the sandy Pio Pico starting line, swam breast stroke all the way; and although she finished last, kept from 12,000 to 15,000 spectators on their toes watching her. The youngest entry in the swim, she covered the distance in 60:08. The perpetual team trophy for women was won by the Florence Chambers

Home Runs Feature as Athletics Romp Off With Final Crucial Game of Series, 7 to 4

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—The Athletics finally increased their lead over the world-champion New York Yankees to eight and one-half games by winning the last of the season's first crucial series, 7 to 4.

The winners out-hit the losers by a bare margin of one but the A's blows were far more robust than those of the Yankees. The visitors' nine hits were good for twenty-three bases, while the home club's eight ran a total of thirteen. Simmons, Fox and Haas hit home runs for Connie Mack, while Lou Gehrig drove one into the right-field stands for the Yanks, making his season's total an even score. The attendance was only about 55,000, more than 10,000 less than either of the past two days.

WILL ROGERS, JR., STARS AS UPLIFTERS TRIUMPH

With Will Rogers, Jr., playing the star role the Uplifters' poloists made a runaway of the polo clash with the Hurricane four yesterday afternoon. Young Will playing the best game of his career accounted for three goals on some flashing good mallet work. Snowy Baker, Dr. Harry Wilson and Howland Paddock, his three team-mates, also gave very fine performances for the winning team. The Uplifters won, 8 to 2.

Teddy Miller, riding in his first polo game in many months, was not up to his usual form, only showing flashes of his regular game. The Hurricanes scored one goal in the opening chukker and one in the eighth. The Uplifters went into the lead in the third period and were never headed. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the contest.

La Barba Rules Slight Favorite Over Mastro in Jack Doyle's Star Fistic Attrac

RIVAL BOXERS ON EDGE FOR OLYMPIC FEATURE

Battle Tomorrow Night Expected to be One of Best Fights of Year; Winner May Get New Title

BY KAY OWE

Fidel La Barbara, former flyweight champion of the world, rules a slight favorite over Earl Mastro, the Chicago star, for tomorrow night's main event at the Olympic.

Not that fans don't appreciate Mastro's class, but it's hard to get them to bet against Fidel no matter who his opponent may be. Boxing followers realize that the combination of the little Italian puncher and his astute manager, George Blake, is an exceedingly hard one to defeat.

If this same bout had been held a week after Mastro flashed to a win over Kid Francis last winter the swirl would have been twice as hot as it is right now. But it is the same fight now—only better because both boxers are at the peak.

Fidel
La Barba

Mastro says if La Barba is no better than the first time they fought he will stop him sure. But that's the point. La Barba seems to be better than he ever has been before with eleven "comeback" fights under his belt.

SEEK KAYO WIN

By the same argument La Barba thinks he would stop the Mastro he boxed before. But Mastro claims and his handlers "know" that young Earl is twice the fighter now he was then.

The match is the outstanding battle in the country up to Thursday night when Max Schmeling and Paolino Uzcudun barter for the heavyweight honors in New York.

Both La Barba and Mastro like Schmeling in this fight. They are riding with the Schmeling who is getting better—not with Paolino who probably isn't the man he was when he fought George Godfrey.

In the gymnasium Mastro looks like a better fighter than La Barba. He has boxed rings around all his sparring partners. This is to be expected, but it is the way he does it that impresses.

La Barba, too, has changed that style of his from the careful boxer to the aggressive fighter.

That La Barba figures the bout to be a tough one was shown by the fact he has been in the gymnasium for two solid weeks. He laid off one day during the heat wave, but came back Saturday and yesterday for his stiffest slugfests.

Mastro worked straight through until yesterday. He is taking the last three full days for rest. He wants to come in the ring full strength to match that of his rival.

OUTSTANDING BOYS

The two little Italians are the outstanding junior featherweights in the world. If they make 122 pounds the fight may be recognized by the California commission as being for the junior featherweight title.

The supporting card looks "healthier" than usual. Benny Miller, popular Jewish favorite, engages Larry Murphy in the six-round semi-wind-up. Murphy has always been a "goer" in the ring.

Miller—like Mushy Callahan who started him in boxing—has the happy knack of making friends and keeping them as he climbs. He always has most of the audience pulling for him to get over.

There's plenty of snap to the special event, too, with Charley Greenberg paired with Freddy Hawkins. Both are knockout hitters with right hands. Greenberg is hot now after a quick kayo over Battling Bolo in San Francisco.

Speed Crown Annexed by Ferguson

H. G. Ferguson, driving the Blue Streak, won the outboard motorboat speed championship yesterday afternoon at the Venice Motor Boat Speedway, traveling the six-mile course in the final heat to win in the time of 8m. 37 8-10s. The Black Maria, piloted by Al Thompson, finished second in the final event of the day, with M. C. Martin's Miss 233, representing the 233 Club, third.

All of the preliminary heats, except one special event of seven half-mile laps, were ten laps, or five miles. In the second heat, H. G. Ferguson in the Blue Streak, ran a dead heat with Al Thompson's Black Maria in 8m. 34s. flat. This race was run over with only two competitors, and the Black Maria beat out its rival by a few seconds to record the fastest speed of the day, 6m. 57 6-10s. Approximately 1500 people witnessed the program of six events. Summary of events:

First event, ten laps—Won by Kaslovich in the Wild Oat; McRae in the Kann Go, second; Archy Hall in the Silver Star, third. Time, 8m. 50 4-10s.

Second event, ten laps—Al Thompson in the Black Maria and H. G. Ferguson in the Blue Streak tied for first; M. C. Martin in the Miss 233, third. Time, 8m. 34s. flat.

Third event, seven laps—Won by Kaslovich in the Wild Oat; Archy Hall in the Silver Star, second; Stewart in the Leap'n Lena, third. Time, 6m. 16 6-10s.

Fourth event, run-off of second event—Won by Al Thompson in the Black Maria, time 6m. 57 6-10s.; H. G. Ferguson in the Blue Streak, second, time 7m. 1 5-10s.

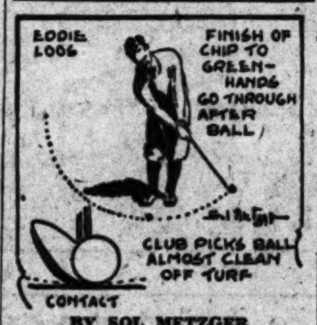
Loos Displays Chip Shot



EDDIE LOOS
FINISH OF CHIP TO GREEN—HANDS GO THROUGH AFTER BALL CLUB PICKS BALL ALMOST CLEAN OFF TURF
CONTACT

BY SOL METZGER

All aboard for Winged Foot and the United States open the last three days of this week! While there watch Eddie Loos play his chip to the green, a wrist stroke entirely, the length of the backswing of which is controlled by the left thumb.

But don't confuse a wrist stroke with no forward movement of the arms as the club goes through the ball. And don't confuse it with a pitch where a divot is taken. This shot is picked clean off the green, like a butt, else your club would stumble or stop in its forward movement.

Stroke through with the left wrist from the top of the swing and as your club goes through let the hands follow on out on a line for the cup you are shooting for, just as they do in approach putting. Tomorrow—Hagen and his long iron.

Good putting makes good golf. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, requesting his leaflet on Putting. In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Local Golfers Enter Omaha Tourney

OMAHA (Neb.) June 23. (AP)—Three hundred western and middle western golfers, including six former title-holders and runners-up, will battle the traps and rough of the Omaha Field Club course tomorrow in the qualifying round of the twenty-ninth annual trans-Mississippi championship tournament.

In a practice round Saturday Art Tverss of Minneapolis, gave an indication of what Defending Champion Art Bartlett of Ottumwa, Iowa, will have to contend with when he turned in a sensational round of 69, four under par. Bartlett went over the ground in 75, as did Bob McKee, Des Moines, 1920 champion, and Rudy Juran of Minneapolis.

Besides McKee and Bartlett, Warren Dickinson, P. H. Finkebein, William Sheehan, J. W. Hubbell, all of Des Moines, and Sam Reynolds, Omaha, who have won or finished runner-up in the event, were ready for the opening drive for qualifying positions. Jimmy Manion of St. Louis, winner of the 1924 tournament, also was expected to compete.

California will be represented by F. C. Stevens, Hollywood, and W. W. Beckwith and Guy Hansen of Los Angeles.

Match play will start Tuesday, with the championship round set for Saturday, the field will be divided into three flights of thirty-eight players each.

Match Race Planned for Legion Bill

A special match race, in addition to the big program already arranged, is planned for next Saturday night at the American Legion Speedway here, between Francis Quinn, the popular dirt-track driver, and Nick Martino, the Italian ace who won the main event of the night racing inaugural a week ago. This was the announcement made yesterday by Herb Marrow, manager of the local oval.

Quinn and Martino have become bitter rivals among the pilots as a result of their hectic contest a week ago when the Italian, driving his Rajo Special, passed Quinn on the curve in the final lap to win first place prize money. Up until the final spurt when Martino forged into the lead Quinn appeared to be leading by a comfortable margin and the sensational upset brought the 4500 fans to their feet cheering madly for the Italian.

Manager Marrow declares that he will hang up an additional prize today in an effort to sign the pair for the match race which, if arranged, should be a classic with local racing enthusiasts.

HERNANDEZ TO TAKE ON POET SATURDAY

Leo Hernandez, H. H. Petitt's Mexican knockout star, and Curtis Poet, middle-western amateur welterweight champion for the last three years, have been signed by Carlo Curtis for the main event at the Main Street Athletic Club next Saturday night.

Joe Borola won from Kano Nakamura, Japanese featherweight, in last Saturday night's wind-up at the Main-street club, chiefly as the result of two first-round knockdowns. Nakamura's strong finish came too late. Kewpie Hernandez knocked out Billy Cain in the first round of the semi-wind-up.

Coleman now appears to be at the peak of his game once more, and in shape to successfully defend his Los Angeles city championship at Griffith Park next month.

SLADE WINS, 2 AND 1

The other half of the Coleman family did not fare so well, Lester taking a 2-and-1 trimming at the hands of F. M. Slade.

Peter De Paolo of Rancho, 83-14—69, and D. P. O'Keefe of California, 76-7—69, tied for low net in the play-off and will play an additional eighteen holes sometime this week to decide who gets the trophy.

Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire, semifinalist in the Southern California women's championship at Virginia two weeks ago, paired with L. G. Trembley of Lakeside yesterday to win low gross in the mixed foursomes with an 80. Low net resulted in a tie between Mrs. J. Hollywood and E. C. Ward of Potrero, 85-12—73, and W. D. Collins and Mrs. A. G. Lind, 90-17—73. The play-off will be held next Sunday at 1 o'clock.

TOURNEY SUCCESS

California's invitational this year was a great success, thanks to the efforts of President W. O. (Bill) Pryor, Secretary Ed R Hurst, chairman of the tournament committe, George Rubsch, and Hugh Sampson, who assisted with the starting. The tournament drew 390 golfers, the largest entry to date this year, and everybody went home happy.

Following are the complete results of yesterday's mixed foursomes:

80—L. G. Trembley and Helen Lawson.
83—Jim Stewart and Mrs. C. W. Fellows.
83—F. W. Converse and Mrs. B. Greene.

ARMSTRONG ANNEXES MIDWICK TITLE

E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong, several times Southern California amateur champion, yesterday retained his Midwick Country Club championship, when he defeated J. C. Bequette, 1 up on the nineteenth hole.

The match was one of the most sensational ever played at Midwick, according to reports from Elmer Vice. Both golfers had medal scores of 73. On the 328-yard second hole, Bequette sunk his approach shot for an eagle 2. Going to the nineteenth hole, which is 445 yards, Bequette again almost holed his approach, the ball going past the pin and stopping to the left of the green. Armstrong won the match with a birdie 3, when he laid his second shot dead to the pin, and then canned an eight-foot putt.

In the eighteen-hole semifinals played yesterday morning, Armstrong shot an approximate 72 to defeat C. G. Lathrop, 3 and 2, while Bequette eliminated J. S. Rhodes, 1 up.

A. K. Bourne won the defeated eight trophy with a victory over J. L. Mothershead, 2 and 1. Bourne defeated J. M. Spalding in the semifinals, 1 up. Mothershead reached the finals with a 7 and 5 victory over Ermerson Spear.

S. W. Royce and R. M. Griffith advanced to the finals of the second flight, but did not play their final round yesterday. In the semifinals, Royce defeated Cliff Wilkins, 2 up, while Griffith won from Victor Forve, 5 and 4.

The defeated eight of the second flight was won by K. E. Clark, who defeated George Church, 5 and 3. Clark won his semifinal match from S. P. Turner, 2 and 1; Church advanced to the semifinals with a default from J. E. Bennett.

STOCKTON CAPTURES ARROWHEAD PLAY

Gail Stockton of San Bernardino and Ralph Hutchison of Girard tied for first place in the Lake Arrowhead invitation tournament yesterday, 5 up on par. Stockton won the play-off.

Stevens and Hunter Trim Fair Golfers

DEL MONTE, June 23. (AP)—Glenna Collett, women's national golf champion and Marion Hollins, former holder of the same title, lost 2 and 1 today to Paul Hunter, former California amateur titlist and F. C. Stevens, Jr., runner-up to Jack Neville in the recent State championship, in an informal match at the Pebble Beach course.

W. S. Goodrich of Hollywood won in Class B, 4 up on par, while Class C resulted in a tie between George Rogers of Girard and Phil Deiss of Sunset Canyon, 1 down. The latter won the play-off.

LUCAS, REY TOP FIELD AT SUNSET FIELDS

C. H. Lucas, formerly of Seattle, but now a resident of Los Angeles, tied with Joe Rey to lead the field in the Sunset Fields qualifying round of the public links championship, when they turned in medal scores of 79 for the No. 1 course.

Johnny Ross registered an 81 for third honors. As a result of yesterday's test, Rey, Lucas and Ross will represent Sunset Fields in the final Southern California qualifying round. This round will be thirty-six holes, medal play, and will be played over the Sunset Fields course within a few days.

MARLOW WINS PLAY-OFF AT PALOS VERDES

S. W. Marlow won the play-off for first place in the semimonthly cup tournament at the Palos Verdes Golf Club yesterday with 19 points. J. Hauerwaas was second, with 14 points.

F. R. Feitshans and P. Lydon tied for first place in the blind bogey with a 76. J. C. Low, J. Kwis and L. Hussey tied for second place with 76. W. O. Paine and Fulton Lane were deadlocked for third place with 74.

WESTWOOD NAMES PUBLIC LINKS REPRESENTATIVES

L. B. Speak, E. E. Hornbostel and Joe Guerrero were named yesterday as representatives of the Westwood Public Golf Course in the national public links qualifying round. The men will compete in the qualifying play, which will be staged at Sunset Fields in the near future.

WISE WINS PICTURE GOLF TOURNEY

Bill Wise, 76-6-70, won the William Le Baron trophy in the first annual Radio Pictures golf tournament, staged at Palos Verdes yesterday. More than forty members of the R.-K.-O. group contributed to the success of the competition.

Bill Gibbs, Ralph Townsend, S. Sanders and H. Schilling collected additional prizes awarded by Bebe Daniels, Sally Blane and others. Frank Craven annexed second low gross with an 86 while playing his 362nd United States golf course. H. Quinlan, R. Townsend, Jimmy Dugan, Kenny Koontz, J. Dill and S. Sanders won blind bogey prizes.

Malcewicz and Don De Laun to Appear in Second Bout on Program at Olympic

A switch in the all-star wrestling card scheduled for the Olympic was announced yesterday.

The match between Joe Malcewicz, the crafty Utican, and Don De Laun, young Long Beach sensation, which had originally been signed to open the triple featured event program, was moved up to the second spot yesterday. The match will be for one fall to a finish.

YANKEES LOSE TO ATHLETICS

to cover. Ed Wells was the victim today, retiring for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Manager Mack, too, had to wave frantically to the far-away left-field bull penn in the eighth to summon George Earnshaw to come to the rescue of Howard Ehmke, who, until next to the last inning, had completely baffled the Yankee sharpshooters.

Ehmke contributed to his own downfall with a wild throw in the eighth and Haas did not help the cause any when he permitted Gehrig's single to roll so far through him that Columbia Lou was able to circle the bases before the ball could be return.

STOPS RALLY

Earnshaw stopped the rally, with the assistance of a sparkling one-handed catch by Bishop of an apparent safe hit from Meusel and retired his opposition in order in the ninth, Mickey Cochran doing yeoman chore for him when he plunged into the home team's dug-out to grab and hold a foul fly from the bat of Pinchhitter Koenig.

The Athletics set out with stern determination to win the odd game of the series. The leaders and runners-up went into play with two victories each to their credit and they started a fast pace. Al Simmons, who has hit at a terrific pace in the series, opened the second inning with a long triple and scored when Foxx filed deep to Combs. Simmons single-handed furnished the next Mackmen run when he drove the ball into the left-field stands for his fourth home run of the series and eighteenth of the season. Foxx sent the ball to almost the same spot a minute later. Gehrig got one of them back with his homer in the sixth, the blow being the Yankees' third hit from Ehmke and second hard-hit blow, one safety being a scratchy affair. The A's increased their lead in the seventh when Foxx and rode home on Miller's triple, Bing running his record of consecutive games in which he had hit safely to twenty-three. Boley's single sent Miller in.

With Tom Zachary pitching in the eighth the leaders made two more. After Bishop missed a third strike Mule Haas hit far over Combs' head to reepest center field and made a home run inside the playing field. Cochrane followed with a double to left, faced to third when Simmons flied to Combs and counted on a single by Foxx.

YANKS RALLY

The Yankees arranged a rally of a sort in the eighth. It was just enough to force Ehmke out of active participation. Combs bunted and beat it and when Ehmke threw far into right field he ran all the way to third. Robertson lined to Boley but Gehrig's single scored the Kentucky Colonel and, when Haas let the ball elude his grasp, Gehrig came in, too. Ruth singled to left and scored when Lazzeri's hard hit to left caromed from the stands outside the reach of Simmons, and was good for a triple.

Earnshaw then took charge. Bishop made a circus catch of Meusel's hit and Dickey flied to Simmons.

The ninth inning was eventful only for Cochrane's courageous catch and play "for the book" by Dickey and Earnshaw. A third strike was called on the Athletic pitcher and he started to wag his glove, preparatory to pitching the last inning as the catcher dropped the ball. Dickey followed him a few steps to touch him and then abandoned the effort and started the other way to the Yankee bench. Earnshaw strolled toward the Athletic dugout and then started running, reaching first without an effort to stop him. The umpires naturally declared he was entitled to the base. The net result of this episode was to charge Max Bishop with an extra time at bat as he came up and rolled to Lazzeri. The score:

NINETEEN ENTERED IN BANNING CLASSIC

Nineteen entries already having been received for the July Fourth annual dirt-track classic of the Banning American Legion Speedway, officials of the Banning oval anticipate the largest entry list in the history of the track for the holiday event, according to Wilson R. Stone, who heads the Banning committee in charge of entries.

Included among the drivers who already have notified the Banning Speedway that they will be on hand when Fred Wagner drops the starting flag July Fourth, are Jimmie Sharp, Bill Heisler, Carl Ryder, Speed Hinkley, Walt May and Al Gordon. Rivalry is particularly keen between May and Ryder, both of whom are big favorites with the Banning fans.

Dick Daviscourt, the 225-pound Kansas mat cyclone, and "Wild Bill" Beth, the wild Candian lumberjack, will open the mat card Wednesday night with a one-fall finish match, while Nick Lutze and Stanley Stasiak will clash in the best two out of three fall no time limit final. This bout is expected to be the wildest of the evening.

There were several reasons which caused the promoter to change the order of his bouts. One of them was Malcewicz, himself, who declared he had not appeared in the first event of any wrestling card in years, and that he did not intend to start at the present time. He pointed out that he had not been beaten here this year, while De Laun, his 218-pound opponent, has been beaten but once on the Coast, and that was recently by Lutze. De Laun holds a forty-five-minute draw with Daviscourt, also.

The Malcewicz-De Laun match is almost as important as the feature event, in the opinion of mat critics. The Utican did not show his usual sensational style of wrestling when he beat Beth here two weeks ago, and unless he is in better condition for this bout, mat experts declare De Laun is due to spring the biggest upset in the mat game of the year. The Long Beach grappler is not considered a colorful wrestler, but he is very fast, strong, and has a good knowledge of many punishing holds. He is rated as a very dangerous opponent for any top-notcher who is not prepared for a tough match.

Stasiak appears to be in perfect condition for his battle with Lutze. He has scheduled only light workouts for today and tomorrow. He stated yesterday that he had practically perfected not only a defense against Lutze's new backward body slam hold, but that he had also worked out a counter-grip for it.

SEALS DIVIDE BARGAIN BILL

knocked out of the box in the third. Ernie Nevers pitched the rest of the game and he was charged with the defeat.

Hollis Thurston worked for the Seals and chalked up his second win of the series, being the only pitcher who did so.

Ruether was given a good start in the second inning when Slade hit a homer scoring Sherlock ahead of him. The Seals tied the count in the last half of the second when Wingo and Caveney hit home runs in succession. Caveney and Adamson hit safely in the fourth and then Ruether was lifted. Nevers got the side out with no further damage.

In the fifth Jolley hit a homer into the left-field bleachers, scoring Suhr ahead of him. The Missions went to the front in the seventh by scoring three runs on hits by Hoffman, Nevers, Christensen and Boone, with a wild pitch by Thurston helping. That rally put the Reds one run to the good, but the Seals tied it in the last of the seventh when Baker went in as a pinch hitter for Adamson and his single scored Wingo.

Coleman batted in the winning run in the eighth.

The veteran, Krause, was in wonderful form in the morning and he shut out the Seals by a score of 6 to 0, thus making the series all square. Elmer Jacobs of the Seals had his string of twelve straight wins stopped. Jacobs was hit hard and he was retired after the seventh inning. Jones worked the last two innings for the Seals and was not scored one. Scores:

Saddle Club in Polo Triumph

"Big" Boy Williams and Warren Jennings were in fine form yesterday and the Saddle Club poloists rode to a spectacular victory over the Saddle and Sirloin Club mallet wielders. Williams and Jennings rode over four goals apiece. Williams was particularly brilliant during the last four chukkers of the tilt which was hard fought from the opening throw-in. Winslow Felix played a nice game on defense for the winning four.

Lionel Pedley and Joe Flores were the outstanding players on the losing team. Pedley made five goals and Flores three. The game was the first of a series of three between the two clubs.

Sacramento is Double Winner

PORTLAND (Or.) June 23. (AP)—Sacramento took both games from Portland today, 5 and 0, and 10 to 4, and the series, five out of seven. The first game was a heartbreaker for Pitcher Chesterfield of the Ducks to lose, for he held the Sacs to two puny singles up to the ninth, and in that inning with the bases full and two out, caused Camilli to roll the easiest kind of a chance to Richards for a force out at second. Richards fumbled, then juggled, everybody was safe, a run came in and Rohwer with the bases full then lifted one over the right-field fence. The score:

De Lara Winner of City Crown

Jack De Lara displayed fine form yesterday in winning the Pasadena open tennis championship from Dolph Muehleisen in straight sets. The former municipal net king won the title yesterday from his San Diego rival by scores of 6-1, 6-3. Muehleisen is the present Los Angeles county champion and was the favorite to win over De Lara.

Dr. Esther Bartosh defeated Elizabeth Deike in straight sets in the women's singles. The scores were 8-6, 6-3.

Muehleisen and his partner, Ted Easton, defeated Vines and Dworkin in the finals of the men's doubles. The scores were 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Sam Gray Gets Eleventh Win of the Season

CLEVELAND, June 23. (AP)—Detroit won the final game of the series with Cleveland here today, 8 to 7.

Stoner relieved Uhle in the seventh inning and received credit for the victory.

Umpire Van Graflan was knocked out in the seventh inning and forced to leave the game. He was in Fonseca's path when the latter was rounding the sacks and was knocked to the ground. The umpire's injuries were not serious, however.

After the game, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of Cleveland filed a formal protest on the contest. He said a decision of the umpires, who called Westling's roller in the first a fair ball, was incorrect, and cost the Indians the game.

Umpire Owens called it foul. J. Sewell held the ball while Alexander crossed the plate and Shea took third. Umpire Geisel at the plate then called it a fair hit.

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—The Washington Senators today ran a winning streak to four straight games for the first time this year by humbling the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 1.

Myles Thomas, obtained by the waiver route from New York recently, limited the Sox to four hits, while the Senators pounced on Bayne and Carroll for an even dozen safe blows. The score:

BROWNS BEST

ST. LOUIS, June 23. (AP)—Sam Gray chalked up his eleventh victory of the season as St. Louis Browns defeated Chicago, 6 to 5, today in the final game of the series. Gray held Chicago to five hits while the Browns were collecting fourteen off Adkins and Blankenship. Blankenship was effective, however, keeping the five hits he allowed well scattered in the last three and one-third innings, and the Browns did not score on him. The score:

LOWER CALIFORNIA EAGER TO SEE SAL

Doug Singletary, Lower California sportsman, is making an effort to get Baby Sal Sorio to do some of his training in Baja California this summer. Singletary claims the Mexicans on the west coast are hotter for Sal now than they are for their old idol Colima. Singletary will fix a camp for the little San Berdoo Mexican if he decides to visit the home of his forefathers. Singletary formerly resided in Hollywood and is an ardent fight fan. He has a ranch half-way between Tia Juana and Ensenada.

STARS ROUT ANGELS TWICE

win that second game, Vitt sending six pitchers to the mound and using no less than sixteen athletes during the exciting struggle.

Augustus (Red) Johns was the sixth of the Hollywood hurlers to see action and it was the solemn-visaged southpaw who held the Cherubs safe after those home-run clouts had put the Stars in front. Johns was credited with the victory, his second of the week, because he was the only Hollywood moundsman who showed anything slightly resembling effectiveness during the battle of basehits and thrills.

Augie Walsh, the ace of the Angel staff, was called into action to defend a four-run Seraph lead, but he didn't have his customary stuff and was the victim of the Sheiks' desperate assault.

The first game was tame compared to the wind-up, the Stars driving Carl Holling to cover in the first inning with a five-run attack to pile up a lead that was never threatened. Frank Shellenback pitched for the Hollywooders and was never in danger after being presented with that handsome margin to work with. Shelly's spitters limited the Angels to six hits and the big Hollywood hurler turned in eight strikeouts. Earl Webb was Shellenback's favorite victim, the hard-hitting Angel outfielder, fanning on all four of his trips to the plate.

But to get back to that exciting nightcap, the Angels twice enjoyed four-run leads, but the Stars just kept right on coming and refused to be licked. Walter Kinney and Deacon Plitt were the starting hurlers, both going the way of the winds. McCabe, Marty, Hollerson, Wetzel and then Johns followed Kinney to the mound, while Holling and Walsh succeeded Plitt.

VITT USES STRATEGY

Vitt pulled off some expert strategy in the sixth when, with Ray Jacobs on second with the tying run by virtue of his double, Vitt derricked Wetzel for Johns and at the same time sent Wally Rehg out to right field in place of Bill Rumler for defensive purposes. Johns fanned Butler, but walked Dittmar. Then Gus Sandberg whistled a line drive out to right center that looked for all the world like a double, which would have scored two runs. But Rehg ran back to the stands and pulled down the ball for a spectacular catch that saved the day. Rumler, had Vitt left him in the game, wouldn't have caught that drive, so you've got to give Oscar credit for using the old berry.

The Angels scored off Kinney in the first inning when Haney walked, stole second and third, and came home when Schulmerich forced Berger, who had also walked.

Hollywood got two in the second on Funk's single, Heath's double and a couple of sacrifices. Heath came in after Schulmerich had made a marvelous diving catch of Bassler's sizzling line drive.

The Angel second was a nightmare for the Stars. Dittmar singled and Sandberg doubled to open the round, causing Vitt to send McCabe in for Kinney. McCabe fanned Plitt, but walked Statz and Haney, forcing in a run. McCabe got himself in the hole on Berger, and Walter socked the 3-and-1 offering over the left-field wall to score Sandberg, Statz and Haney ahead of him. That gave the Angels a 6-2 lead and looked like the ball game. Marty replaced McCabe after Schulmerich singled and retired the side.

The Stars chased Plitt in the third when doubles by Burkett and Carlyle and Rumler's single produced two more markers. Holling came to the rescue and quelled the uprising.

Marty yielded a run to the Angels in the last half of the third, when Dittmar singled, took third on Sandberg's safety and scored when Holling hit into a double-play.

STARS ROUT HOLLING

Hollywood came back strong in the fourth with two more runs and routed Holling. A walk, Marty's double, Lee's hit, a sacrifice fly and Carlyle's single brought Walsh in to stop the attack that ended with the Stars only one run behind.

Marty, after retiring the first two batters, blew up in the fifth, walking Sandberg and Walsh and throwing two wide ones to Statz before Hollerson replaced him. Hollerson finished the task of walking Statz and was himself yanked after pitching two more balls to Haney. Wetzel broke the wild spell by tossing a strike, but Haney then doubled to center, bringing three runs in and giving the Angels a 10-6 margin. Wetzel then walked Berger, but Haney was caught stealing third to end the frame.

Then the Stars broke loose in the sixth. Lee doubled and counted on Burkett's hit. Carlyle filed out, but Rumler singled to left. Schulmerich captured Funk's fly, but Heath belted the ball into the bleachers and the score was tied. Before Walsh could settle down, Rollings hit another homer and Hollywood was in front to stay.

Wetzel had to be replaced by Johns in the Angel sixth after Jacobs had doubled. Johns, with his southpaw change of pace, saved the day, and Lee scored another run in the seventh to insure the Hollywood victory.

Frank Shellenback, the Star spitball specialist, had an easy time turning back the Cherubs in the opener. Shellenback limited the Angels to six scattered hits and of the two runs scored off him, only one was earned. That resulted on Warren's home-run drive into the stands in the fifth.

The Stars made it a romp for Shelly by piling up five runs in the first inning, driving Carl Holling to the showers with a six-hit barrage. Ed Baecht and Al Montgomery followed Holling to the mound.

Shellenback had plenty of stuff on his spitter and turned in eight strikeouts, Earl Webb being his favorite victim. Webb fanned all four of his trips to the plate and was given quite a razzing by the cash customers.

The Stars found the offerings of Holling to their liking in the first tilt and routed the Angel hurler in the opening round with a five-run barrage that provided Shellenback with plenty of margin to work with.

Dud Lee blasted open the contest by dropping a double on the right-field line. Burkett tried to bunt and tipped up a low foul fly, which Warren caught and whipped to Dittmar in plenty of time to double Lee off second. But Dittmar dropped the throw and Lee scrambled back safely to give the Sheiks a break that they turned into three unearned runs. Carlyle then singled Lee home and scampered to third when Rumler slapped a one-base shot to right. Funk followed with a hit over second and Carlyle scored. When Heath also singled, tallying Rumler and sending Funk to third, Holling was sent to the showers and Baecht ascended the mound.

Funk scored and Heath took second while Haney was throwing out Rollings on a nice play. Bassler then rifled a single to center to bring Heath over the plate with the fifth run of the game. Only two of the Hollywood runs were earned, for had Dittmar not dropped Warren's throw the side would have been retired on Rolling's out.

The Sheiks picked up another tally in the third when, with one away, Heath walked, stole second, took third on Baecht's wild pitch and scored on Rolling's long sacrifice fly to Statz.

Los Angeles broke into the run column in the last half of the third, the score resulting with the aid of an error by Rollings. Warren walked for a starter and Baecht delivered a single to right. Statz filed to Carlyle. Warren then made a dash for third before Shellenback had pitched. Shelly turned and tossed the ball to Rollings in plenty of time, but Warren butted the Star third-sacker a la Sonnenberg and the ball squirted out of Red's glove. Warren came home on Haney's long fly to Carlyle. Webb fanned for the second time to end the round.

Burkett and Carlyle bunched a pair of doubles in the fourth to again give the Stars a six-run lead. Hollywood scored its final run in the seventh when Burkett walked, rambled to third when Rumler doubled down the left-field line, and scored on Funk's sacrifice hoist to Statz.

SUN PARCHES WINGED-FOOT

may see the dizziest three days of major golf competition in the United States Golf Association's history.

The New York State open produced a new threat for the Winged-Foot meet in Billy Burke, the new champion. He has repeatedly bested Ryder Cup competition scores since his successful rise a year ago.

Johnny Farrell is not rated much of a chance here. He needed 304 to get around the West Chester-Baltimore, which was in terrible shape and certainly two or three strokes more difficulty than Winged-Foot.

Farrell, however, on records alone, is the world's greatest golfer, granting the two most important tournaments are the American open and the British open. The Quaker Ridge Celt has first in one and a second in the other.

This is more than Bobby Jones, Hagen or Horton can show despite their great publicity. Farrell is the sort of player who steadies himself through the two opening days of medal play and quietly bobs up at the top when the play-off comes.

The five bets to win at Winged-Foot, according to the local clubhouse betting gentry, are in the order of their supposed chances: Jones, Hagen, Farrell, Diegel and Smith.

Seller Wins Tennis Crown

BERKELEY, June 23. (AP)—Robert Seller of San Francisco won the men's singles championship of the Pacific Coast today by defeating Gerald Stratford in a five-set duel at the Berkeley Tennis Club. The scores were 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 1-6, 6-4. It was the first major title taken by Seller, a junior at the University of California.

Jack Cosgrove and Fred Haas won a straight-set victory over Nelvin Whitman and Carl Holmers for the junior boys' doubles title. Cosgrove and Haas won 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

conditions," said Ulbrickson.

"My varsity is down to an average weight of 172 pounds now. They have lost five pounds to a man since we rowed Wisconsin in the middle of the month and we are outweighed, I believe, by every crew on the river except Penn. Consequently we will not show to such good advantage as the heavier crews if we have a head wind to buck.

"I will be pleased if my varsity finishes as well as third," he added, "but, of course, we always row to win."

"The junior varsity is almost as fast as the varsity at a three-mile distance and I think they have a good chance to win their event."

RIVER ROUGH

The nine coaches were praying for a change of weather as a strong southwester blew up the course all day. The wind has been in that quarter for five days and if it continues river men say it will severely handicap the crews out near the middle of the stream.

Syracuse and Massachusetts Tech then would be the worst sufferers with the chances of Columbia, California and Cornell also affected. Washington, Navy, Wisconsin and Penn, well in under the protection of the western bank would escape the full force of the breeze. It was so strong today as to cut the surface of the river into choppy waves and make rowing not so easy for California, Cornell, Columbia and Navy, the four fleets to take water for a final drill.

These four confined their efforts to a few flying starts and their workouts lasted only a few minutes.

California's mighty men were in high spirits as they lounged around their comfortable quarters in the Vassar College alumnae house.

Pete Donlon, their veteran stroke, said he expected a tough race of it, with special opposition from Columbia, and Fredericks, another member of last year's winning crew, chimed in to pay his respects to Cornell, Washington and the Navy as other worthy foes.

Cornell followers found encouragement in the word from Coach Jim Wray that Stanley Abbott, commodore of the big Red crew and stroke last season, would be at his No. 2 post for the varsity race. His illness of last week was only temporary, and Venneman, who replaced him, has now gone back to his post in the Jayvee. There were no casualties reported in the other camps and all the crews were able to give their best efforts.

The 1928 young men who will man the twenty-two shells in freshman, junior varsity and varsity races tomorrow prepared to retire early at their quarters after a day spent mostly in playing croquet or checkers or pitching horseshoes.

Eah crew had its supporters but Cornell and California were favored in the freshman race to be rowed at 5:15 eastern daylight saving time, Washington in the junior varsity event an hour later and California and Columbia in the big varsity race at 7:15 o'clock.

RIVAL BOXERS ARE IMPRESSIVE

and in the second Max made his knees sag with straight rights in close. Lucas was being painfully propped up on a succession of body punches and looking wildly toward the time keeper when allowed to stop.

With four more rounds against Marty Gallagher and George Neron, Max went through his regular seven rounds for the first time this afternoon. He looked as fit as a fighter can, full of speed—his leg muscles taut and nervous like those of a well trained race horse—and his skin brown and smooth.

A large gallery watched Max at his chores, including Gene Roman, the referee, who picked him to beat Uzcudun and Max (Boo Boo) Hoff of Philadelphia.

HOOSICK FALLS (N. Y.) June 23.—Paulino Uzcudun went through his last public workout today with a display of pep and punching power that astounded even his severest critics who have been contending that he had no more life than a wet fire cracker.

Just before today's workout the Paulino board of strategy, Trainer Arthus and Perry Bertys, decided to dispense with the services of Benny Touchstone, the Florida heavyweight who tried to punch Paulino's ears off yesterday following a knockdown. Touchstone packed his bag and announced he was headed for the Schmeling camp at Lakewood, to offer his services as a sparring partner and to show Max how to lick the Basque.

ACORNS IN DOUBLE WIN AT SEATTLE

Indians Drop Two Games to Oakland Ball Club; 4-3 and 6-4

SEATTLE, June 23. (AP)—The Indians dropped a double-header to Oakland today, winning only two games out of the seven in the series. The teams were tied 3-all in the ninth frame of the first game, but a walk, a sacrifice and two errors gave the visitors the winning run. Fisch passed Read and was in the hole to Dean when Kallio took his place. Dean sacrificed. Eckhardt dropped a fly ball and Ellsworth drop-kicked a grounder to score Read.

The Oaks copped the second game, 6 to 4, scoring five runs in the seventh inning. Seattle was leading, 4 to 1, until the fatal frame, when the Oaks knocked Wilson out of the box. The score:

Stauber Tops Trapshooters

A fine crowd of shooters visited the Los Angeles Gun Club traps yesterday to take part in the registered shoot program. A. J. Stauber with the fine score of 99x100 led the bunch. Pfirrmann with 97 was the runner-up. C. Dodson and Nutting tied for third honors with 95 each. Mrs. Knight connected with 94 and was closely followed by Marsh, Thursby, Clarke, Glass, Valleen, Ford, Jr., Gowland, Gibbons, Smith, Reinenbaugh, Gibson, Cram, Strunk and Crook.

PALISADES AREA WORK DELAYED

Most Oil Properties Will be Inactive Few Days

Suspension Due to Repairing of Main for Water

Operators Pool to Continue Ring Well Exploring

Pending the making of necessary repairs to the main supplying water to the various operators in the Palisades tract, three miles west of Santa Barbara, the majority of projects there will be inactive for ten days or perhaps two weeks, according to Victor E. Trace, city water superintendent there.

According to field reports, operators will be requested to cut down on the use of water, and only those activities which require circulation will be permitted to use water, it is said.

POOLING RESOURCES

With the exception of the Exeter Oil Company's Edwards No. 1 and the Altadena Oil Company's Mesa No. 1, all other operations in the two tracts have been idle for the past three days. Exeter's well is electrically equipped and another water supply source has enabled that company to continue in face of difficulties.

By pooling their resources, perhaps a half-dozen operators will continue to drill in the Ring Oil Company's Nugent No. 1, which tested wet at 2417 feet recently. Decision not to give up trying for production was reached by the Major, Ring, Robert Bowles, E. A. Parkford, and several other companies. It was agreed to give the Nugent No. 1 a test, to determine what the formation deeper down may be like.

FURTHER PROSPECTING

Field reports indicate that oil men are going to prospect the northern part of the field, lying toward the foothills, which overlook the Palisades tract. It is thought that the geologic structure on La Mesa is a monocline ending in a fault which is marked by the foothills overlooking the tract, and that the major oil pool, if any, lies to the north of the Lomas No. 1. The fact that the Channel Oil Company picked up an oil sand strengthens that theory, it is said.

The fact that Ring's project tested wet will stimulate the development of the tract between the Lomas No. 1 discovery well, of the Olympic Oil and Refining Company, and the foothills, it is thought. B. C. Morrison, who has just completed two derricks north of the highway, and the Indian Oil Company, which has two derricks up preparing to spud in, seem to indicate such a move, it is said. The major portion of the land north of Cliff Drive across from the Palisades tract, is held by the Channel Oil and Development Company.

HYDRAULIC USED ON TUNNEL AT PLACER

The Aladdin Divide Mining Company is driving a tunnel into an ancient river channel in Butte county by hydraulic methods. Water power is used to operate a compressor and after firing, the round water under pressure is used to clean out the face, and muck is carried out in a sluice box.

LONE STAR DEVELOPING

Texas Company Builds Compressor, Gasoline Plant and 200 Miles of Pipe Line

GAINESVILLE (Tex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—In addition to the construction of a large compressor station here, the rebuilding of a gasoline plant at Gordon, Tex., and an extension of its private telephone system, the Lone Star Gas Company will build more than 200 miles of new pipe lines during the present summer.

The towns which will be connected with the new lines are Hamilton, Granbury, Glen Rose, Meridian, Whitney, Lott, Rosebud, Morgan and Clifton, all of Texas. It will require about 100 miles of pipe line, exclusive of distributing lines, to serve these towns. This project will consist of fifty miles of six-inch line, which will tap the company's two eighteen-inch trunk lines in Northern Hood county, extending south by way of Granbury, Glen Rose and Walnut Springs, thence to a point about ten miles south of the latter town.

About twelve and one-half miles of three-inch pipe will be used in laying extensions to Morgan and Iredell, with thirty-six miles of four-inch continuing on south to Meridian, Clifton and Valley Mills. The company will build a ten-mile, four-inch lateral from its Waco twelve-inch line to Whitney, and also a six-mile four-inch line from Van Alstyne to Howe, Grayson county, while Grapevine, Tarrant county, will receive natural gas through a five-mile four-inch line off the Oklahoma-Dallas trunk-line system. Other lines will be laid.

The Community Natural Gas Company, a subsidiary, will lay distributing lines to each of these towns.

SAN JOAQUIN OIL OUTPUT ON DECLINE

Daily Average Reported as Showing Decrease of 5503 Barrels

BAKERSFIELD, June 23. (Exclusive)—Petroleum production for the San Joaquin Valley during the month of June decreased an average of 5503 barrels daily, according to figures just compiled by the American Petroleum Institute, Pacific Coast office. The actual production totaled 3,824,809 barrels for May, as against 3,866,859 barrels for the month previous, making a total decrease of 42,050 barrels.

There were 4831 wells on the curtailed producing list last month and production came from the following fields, together with the output figures as noted: Midway-Sunset, 2140 wells, 2,037,926 barrels; Elk Hills, 202 wells, 536,362 barrels; Kern River, 1052 wells, 432,389 barrels; Coalinga, 754 wells, 288,975 barrels; Lost Hills-Belridge, 332 wells, 136,024 barrels; Kettleman Hills, one well, 104,572 barrels; Mount Poso, 16 wells, 103,122 barrels; McKittrick, 268 wells, 131,496 barrels; Fruitvale, two wells, 30,374 barrels; Wheeler Ridge, thirty-two wells, 20,476 barrels; Round Mountain, two wells, 3093 barrels.

There were eighteen wells completed during the month with a total initial production of 3893 barrels daily, the largest production coming from eight new wells in the Midway-Sunset field, which added 2178 barrels daily to the output. Poso Creek's four new wells yielded 725 barrels, and 500 barrels came from the two new wells brought in at Round Mountain, later shut in. Two new wells at Kern River put out 405 barrels daily.

Twenty-three new rigs were erected in the valley and there were seventy-five wells reported as being active.

New Group to Develop Mine at Randsburg

RANBSBURG, June 23. (Exclusive)—The Minerals Exploration, Inc., of Long Beach, in taking over the El Segundo group of six claims situated outside Randsburg camp limits, through the engineer, O. P. Riker, to do considerable development from where the former owners, Joe Shay and George Benko, suspended operations.

Satisfactory surface development work was formerly completed after which a shaft picked up the eighteen-inch vein that held its width and values, $25 and $40 per ton of free milling gold ore, for forty feet straight down. Then it took an angle in the next twenty-five feet, causing a perpendicular drop to the present length of sixty-five feet.

Across the gulch there is an old ninety-foot shaft that will be dropped ten feet and a vertical shaft may be drilled from the forty-foot level in the new workings allowing additional exploration.

G. A. Powell is the president with Ward Woolridge, T. A. Winter, J. E. Platt and O. Perry Riker, as directors.

Revival of Old Placer Planned

SACRAMENTO, June 24. (Exclusive)—With Los Angeles capital said to be backing the enterprise, rehabilitation of the famous Lowden placer mine, in the Klamath River field above Yreka, has been undertaken.

Producing intermittently for more than fifty years, the Lowden is to be provided with new equipment and larger water facilities. New ditches and flumes are under construction, and building of a modern camp begun. An extensive area of virgin ground is said to be available for mining, in addition to unworked sections of the old workings. J. B. Miller is manager.

THREE NEW PRODUCERS AT OILDALE

Output of West Front Increased 650 Barrels Daily by Completions

OILDALE, June 24.—Completion of three wells on the Kern front, one with a production of 350 barrels a day and the other two turning out 150 barrels each daily, climaxed a week of activity in that field.

The Midway well No. 6, with eleven and three-quarter inch casing set at 2257 feet, came in making 350 barrels of 18.8 deg. gravity oil per day.

The other two wells were completed by the Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Company and the Standard Oil Company. The former's No. 25 well is producing with the casing set at 1882 feet, although the hole was drilled to 2208 feet. The Standard's No. 224 well on Sec. 32-23, came in at a depth of 2656 feet. Both are producing steadily.

The Richfield Oil Company has the rig up and is ready to spud its No. 27 well on Sec. 22, 28-27. The No. 28 well on the same section is in hard sand at a depth of 1690 feet.

General Petroleum is preparing foundation for the Wetmore No. 1 on Sec. 14, 28-27. Its Young No. 33 well on the same section has struck sand at 784 feet, while its Young No. 34 is standing cemented at 1687 feet, with thirteen and three-eighths inch casing set at that depth.

POSO CREEK OPERATIONS REPORTED

Completion of General Petroleum's Glide No. 26 Most Interesting

POSO STATION, June 23. (Exclusive)—The Poso Creek field attracted interest of oil men this week with completion of the General Petroleum's Glide well No. 26, which came in with a flow of 275 barrels of oil a day, testing 14.5 deg. gravity, and is exceptionally clean. The well is situated on Sec. 21, 27-28.

The Buttram Oil Company is preparing to drill here again, and has made location for its No. 2 well, 1000 feet west of its No. 1 well. The No. 2 will be on Sec. 23, 27-28, while No. 1 was on Sec. 24.

Bruce Frame's Bowles No. 1 well on Sec. 21, 26-28, at Poso Creek, is drilling ahead in silty oil sand at a depth of 1490 feet, with indications extremely favorable.

Petroleum Securities has completed rigging for two new wells, the foundation in for two more and is making a water test in a fifth well. The water test is being made in its Glide No. 15, which is down to 1805 feet with ten and three-quarter-inch casing set to 1800 feet.

Foundations are in for its Gardner No. 1 on Sec. 26 and its Glide No. 13 on Sec. 21, while the rigging is up for its Glide well on Sec. 35 and its Glide No. 16 on Sec. 21.

F. M. Sayre has the rig up for his No. 1 well on Sec. 12, 28-28.

Shell is testing its sixth cement job on its Knapp No. 1, Sec. 28, 26-28, in which the casing is set to 1463 feet. The Texas Company's Alta Vedder well on Sec. 4, 27-28, is standing cemented at 1463 feet.

Phillips Oil to Build Gasoline Plant in Texas

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Material is being assembled on a fifty-acre tract on the Houston ship channel by the Phillips Petroleum Company for the construction of a gasoline refractionating plant to cost $500,000, according to information received by the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission.

The proposed plant is designed to meet in part the rapidly increasing fuel demands of the aviation industry. The 12,000 to 15,000 barrels of gasoline which the plant will produce daily will all be of the grade used by airplanes and will be sold for that purpose, it was stated.

Adjoining the site of the proposed plant are the shipside facilities of the Crown Central Petroleum Company, and these will be used temporarily by the Phillips Petroleum Company, pending the construction of its own deep-water terminals.

PILGRIM MINE MILL AGAIN IN OPERATION

KINGMAN (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive)—The mill at the Pilgrim mine is again operating after a shutdown for the installation of new screens and for a general overhauling. Work is continuing on the rich ore shoot recently encountered. It carries values ranging from $5000 to $20,000 a ton. In addition to this four feet of $55 material has been exposed in several places. The Pilgrim has a large vein system to the north and there is a widespread belief that it can be developed profitably.

OUTLOOK GOOD AT KETTLEMAN

Completion of Two More Wells In Prospect

Elliott No. 2 and Kennedy No. 1 Encounter Gas

Standard Drilling Ahead on Fourteen Projects

Possibility of completing two or more wells at Kettleman Hills shortly is indicated by the recent performances of three of the deepest projects in that district, according to field reports.

The Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 2, with bottom of the hole at 6300 feet, and the Kennedy No. 1, at 6410 feet, had considerable gas to contend with recently. Several times the flow was so strong that baroid and hematite was pumped into the hole to control the flow.

The Kennedy No. 1 is about four miles northwest of the Elliott No. 1 discovery well, which is putting out approximately 3400 barrels of oil per day. Completion of both projects is considered by many operators as a precautionary move on the part of the Milham Exploration Company, whereby the Elliott No. 1 can be safely controlled.

Milham's Beal No. 1, as the result of a three-weeks' fishing job, lost about 600 feet of hole and is sidetracking ahead below 5700 feet.

TIE-UP POSSIBLE

The General Petroleum Corporation started to sidetrack down its Ochsner No. 2 well, on Sec. 26, 22-18, and during the process of drilling out the fish fell down the hole and a new tie-up in operations is possible, it is said. This project has been tied up about two months in a stubborn fishing job that at one time threatened to lose the hole. About 5300 feet of three-inch drilling pipe was originally frozen in the hole, and 150 feet of it remained to be pulled when General plugged back to sidetrack.

George F. Getty, Inc., is sidetracking down its Armstrong No. 1, situated on Sec. 4, 22-17, and is drilling ahead at 5620 feet. The Armstrong No. 1, on Sec. 6, 22-18, is rigging up.

The Associated Oil Company is cementing off its fishing job in the Watson No. 1, situated on Sec. 34, 22-18, and will start to sidetrack shortly. Bottom of the hole is at 4242 feet. The Smith No. 1, on Sec. 12, 22-18, is drilling ahead at 4412 feet.

The Standard Oil Company is drilling ahead in fourteen projects. The No. 81, situated on Sec. 11, 22-17, is coring ahead at 6367 feet, being the deepest of its active wells there. Eight and three-quarter-inch casing is cemented at 6080 feet in the No. 8 well, situated on Sec. 1, 22-17, with bottom of the hole at 6205 feet.

TO LAND CASING

Standard's No. 87, on Sec. 13, 22-17, and the No. 21, on Sec. 17, 22-18, are rigging up. Thirteen and three-quarter-inch casing is cemented at 5090 feet in the No. 261 well, situated on Sec. 11, 22-17.

The Armstrong No. 1, of the Shell Oil Company, is being cleaned out, preparatory to landing eight and five-eighths-inch casing, with bottom of the hole at 6390 feet. The Fay No. 1, on Sec. 28, 23-19, at 5000 feet, and the McLennan No. 1, situated on Sec. 1, 25-19, at 1500 feet, both on the South Dome, have been suspended.

The Elliott No. 12-8, of the Marland Oil Company, is swabbing, with bottom of the hole at 6100 feet. An effort will be made this week to cement out the water in the Elliott No. 2-13, with bottom of the hole at 5498 feet. The Elliott No. 2-4 and Elliott No. 2-16, are rigging up.

The Ferguson No. 1 of the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation, situated on Sec. 24, 22-17, is drilling ahead at 4412 feet. All operations on the Downing lease have been suspended.

Large Ore Body Reported Open in Pioche Mine

PIOCHE (Nev.) June 24. (Exclusive)—A vast ore body has been opened on the 850-foot level of the property of the Combined Metals Reduction Company, according to E. H. Snyder, general manager.

The deposit has been developed 400 feet continuously north and south of the shaft and 250 feet westerly, with the vein showing an average thickness of eight feet. The ore is a massive sulphide, sampling around 17 per cent zinc and 7 per cent lead, with a little silver and gold.

More work will be required to definitely establish dimensions of the deposit, which appears to be among the largest ever discovered in Nevada. Los Angeles people are understood to be the chief owners of the company.

New Flotation Mill Shipping Concentrates

FALLON (Nev.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Shipments of concentrates have started from the new flotation mill of the Chalk Mountain Silver-Lead Company, operating in the Chalk Mountain field near here.

The plant is treating thirty tons of silver-lead ore daily, and producing concentrates carrying high values in silver, lead and vanadium. Manager E. A. Dawes states the extraction of molybdenum and vanadium is gradually improving, and that ore bodies recently disclosed are showing better ore than anticipated.

The company is largely controlled by residents of Southern California and Minneapolis.

WESTERN APEX TO REOPEN

Arrangements have just been completed to start immediate operations on the promising gold-bearing properties of the Imperial Mining Company, situated at Oatman, under the supervision of George W. Long, vice-president and general manager. I. Morrison, president of the company, has an office in Los Angeles.

This corporation was recently formed for the taking over and the operation of the Western Apex and Lexington-Arizona mines in the Oatman district, both of which have already been extensively developed and having past records of gold-ore production. The Western Apex is on the extension of the United Eastern and Tom Reed vein system, while the Lexington is on an independent paralleling gold-bearing zone.

Initial operations, according to Mr. Long, are to be featured at the Western Apex mine, the intention being to start drifting on a body of commercial gold ore on the 800-foot level of the property. On the 700-foot level a 1000-foot drift has been run on the vein, varying from three to twelve feet in width and having an average gold content of $10 per ton.

Both properties have been modernly equipped with hoisting plants, air compressors and machine drills, and both are electrically powered; the intention the management being to carry on an active campaign of development and exploratory work, adding to the ore tonnages already exposed, and blocked out, until such time as regular and heavy production can be inaugurated. Frank Davis, one of the veteran mining operators of the Oatman district, is secretary and treasurer of the company.

UNIVERSITY OIL INCOME GETS BOOST

Two Separate Strikes Reported on Holdings in Texas County

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Discovery of oil upon two separate blocks of land owned by the University of Texas in Pecos county promises to add much more wealth to that institution.

One of the wildcat wells is that of Buell & Hagan which, in the latest test, filled 300 feet with oil in twelve hours after swabbing and bailing eighteen barrels of 25.5 deg. gravity oil from a depth of 1332 feet. The well will be deepened to 2000 feet unless paying production is obtained before that level is reached.

The other wildcat well is that of the Taylor-Link Oil Company which showed some oil and is now drilling below 1525 feet in gray lime. The Tidal Oil Company is also drilling a well upon this same block of university land, about three miles northwest of the well of the Taylor-Link Oil Company.

The University of Texas owns 189,960 acres of land in Pecos county, all of which is under lease for oil and gas development. Large oil and gas production is being obtained from blocks of university lands in Reagan and Crane counties.

Operations in Maricopa Flat Area Reported

MARICOPA, June 23. (Exclusive) At Maricopa Flat there has been considerable activity during the last week, climaxed early in the week when the North-American Consolidated's Sunset Extension No. 1 blew in with an estimated flow of 4000 barrels of oil per day.

It sanded up, however, and preparations are being made to bring it in under control. The project is situated on Sec. 8, 11-23, and is down 2830 feet with eleven and three-quarters-inch casing set to 2718 feet.

North American has derrick up for its Extension No. 2 and Bronco No. 2. Its Lincoln No. 1 on Sec. 18, 11-23, is standing recemented with the casing set to 1812 feet.

Midway-Northern is planning to deepen its No. 1 well on Sec. 7, 11-23. Liner is being pulled, with bottom of the hole at 1639 feet.

The Signal Oil and Gas Company's Sheehan No. 2 well has settled down to a steady production of 760 barrels of 27 deg. gravity oil per day.

Operators in Yates Field to Have Hearing

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 23. (Exclusive)—The Railroad Commission has issued notice of a hearing to be held at Forth Worth on the 25th inst. to consider the recommendation of oil operators in the Yates field of Pecos county that the allowed production of that field be increased to 130,000 barrels a day from 100,000 barrels.

At this hearing testimony will be taken on the conditions existing in the Yates field, including the potential production, the storage facilities and pipe-line outlets. Accompanying the recommendation that the allowed production be increased to 130,000 barrels daily was a petition that the proration be extended for another six months. The present prorating order expires July 1. The decision of the Railroad Commission will be made before that date.

Work Begun on Tailings Dump at Oatman Mine

OATMAN (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive)—The Tristate Development and Exploration Company has begun the process of treating the tailings of the Tom Reed mine. Jack Shank, who has been handling the affairs of the Tom Reed for several years, is in direct charge of the operations.

For the present the Tristate has the use of the Tom Reed plant but later it will have its own tank farm. It will take a plant of 1000 tons daily capacity several years to treat the tailings.

Lon Ferra announces that he has opened an eighteen-inch vein of $200 gold ore on his Quail claim, south of the Frisco group in the Union Pass section. This strike was made on the 100-foot level, where considerable exploratory work is now in progress.

GOLD MINE PROSPECT BRIGHTER

Manhattan Mining Said to Have Opened Up Rich Streak of Highgrade

MANHATTAN (Nev.) June 23. (Exclusive)—What is believed to be the source of the rich gold float ore found several years ago just east of Manhattan and which caused great excitement at that time, has recently been discovered on one of the claims of the Manhattan Gold Mines Company, and is now under intensive development, with ore that will run several dollars per pound being produced.

A streak of typical jewelry rock several inches wide and so rich that some of it appears to be one-fourth gold, was opened by a tunnel at a depth of about 110 feet, and a winze has been sunk on it to an additional depth of more than fifty feet. The high-grade ore is holding strong and regular, according to Thomas J. Lynch, president of the company, and the entire bottom of the winze, independent of the high-grade, is said to carry splendid values.

This discovery is creating keen interest in this portion of the district, about one and one-half miles east of the White Caps mine, and revives tales of the time several years ago when prospectors digging trenches in the sliderock near the base of the mountain made big money from the rich float they found in this manner.

HIGHGRADE ORE BODY IN MONO MINE

Mammoth Mining Said to Have Exposed Four Feet of $500 Gold Values

A. G. Mahan of this city, now at the property of the Mammoth Consolidated Mines Company in Mono county, California, reports that a four-foot body of $500 ore has been exposed in the face of a sixty-foot cross-cut.

The ore is a free-milling gold product and makes into tonnage rapidly as work progresses in its development. Six hundred feet from this discovery and presumably on the same ledge the 680-foot cross-cut has opened a body of ore of about the same size and gold content.

Another piece of development consists of the driving of a sixty-foot lateral to undercut a highly mineralized area whose surface croppings disclose gold values running up into the hundreds to the ton. With continued development and if the tonnage blocked out will justify, the company plans direct smelter shipments pending the construction of the proposed milling plant on the ground.

It is stated a 125-horsepower Diesel engine is en route to the mine, the installation of which will hasten economical mine development and operation. Ten men are employed under the management of M. D. Rossiter.

Mine Caves Ore by New Method

RAY (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive) An improved method of caving ore, said to reduce costs and increase production, has been adopted on the fourth, or bottom level of the Ray mine. About 75 per cent of the ore obtained from No. 2 shaft last year was extracted by this same system, which is beyond the experimental stage.

Extraction through Shaft No. 1 has been started. This will help to increase the output of the mine to the full capacity of the Hayden concentrator, which is soon to have an eighth section ready for operation.

MINE CLOSES DOWN

Mason Valley Mining to Abandon Bluestone Property

RENO (Nev.) June 23. (Exclusive)—The Mason Valley Mines Company last week closed down its Bluestone and Mason Valley mines at Wabuska and placed the Bluestone 1000-ton concentrator out of commission. Officials announced in Reno that the company had definitely abandoned the mines and would dismantle and sell equipment of the Bluestone plant and Mason Valley smelter.

The ore bodies have been exhausted and efforts to develop commercial tonnage in adjacent properties have proven vain. A year ago the company employed a crew of about 500 men.

North Star Mine Stops Producing

SACRAMENTO, June 24. (Exclusive)—The Empire-Star Mines Company, recently acquiring the historic Empire and North Star mines at Glass Valley, has discontinued all production from the North Star mine and started a comprehensive prospecting and development campaign.

This property has been opened to an incline depth of 8600 feet, corresponding to about 4100 vertical feet. Production is being increased from the Empire mine, and it is reported the two deep shafts of the group will be connected and exploration of a large virgin area begun. Production from the Empire is understood to be averaging around $90,000 monthly.

SAPPHIRE MINING VENTURE APPROVED

A permit to sell $200,000 worth of stock has just been issued by the California Corporation Commission to the Clear Lake Gem Mining Company, which proposes to mine for sapphires and amethysts on a 1120-acre tract near Lower Lake in Lake county.

LOST DUTCHMAN BELIEVED FOUND

Death Valley Mine Being Operated

Wide Interest Aroused In Southwest

Discovered by Jayhawker Party in 1850

STOVE PIPE WELLS, DEATH VALLEY (Cal.) June 24. (Exclusive) Resumption of operations in the Emigrant Springs mine, believed to be the famous "Lost Dutchman," has created considerable interest in mining circles.

Question of ownership, following the death of Joe Sutherland and J. Alrich, one-time owners, is said to be settled. The new operators and owners are H. W. Eichbaum, of Catalina and William Corcoran. Eichbaum is said to have invested approximately $30,000 for machinery to develop the work in the mine when litigation was started to quiet title. He is said to be the builder of the first road into Death Valley.

Corcoran is said to be the discoverer of Emigrant Mines about ten years ago. At that time he took out about thirty tons and ran it through the mill at Gold Dollar mine in Skiddo. Gold Float found in Emigrant Canyon for the last fifty years has been the lure to countless prospectors, and that source is now believed to have come from the Emigrant Springs mine.

Last November the vein was uncovered and a 400-foot tunnel was run into the ore. Assays showed high grade running from $15 to more than $30 per ton, with the main ore body around $37 per ton with approximately $3 going into the tailings.

High-grade ore is now uncovered to a width of six feet, the vein surfaces for three-quarters of a mile and widens to thirty feet. Machinery is being hauled from Los Angeles over the new Eichbaum Road and by muleback up to the tunnel, which is 1000 feet above the road and the canyon floor.

Tracks are being laid for the ore-dump cars. A compressor has been installed and a mill will be erected within ninety days, according to the new operators. With a crew of thirty men on duty at the time, indications are that it will prove to be one of the best investments developed in Death Valley.

Of the twenty-three claims, embracing the Emigrant Springs group, six are being operated. Much of the territory in the vicinity of the Emigrant Springs mine has been prospected for years by old-time prospectors familiar with the border-town mines.

Two German members of the Jayhawker party in 1850 are said to be the first to find gold near the reopened mine. For years, efforts have been made to find that spot where gold was spurned by the emigrants in their mad scramble for water. Expeditions have been sent there to locate the find, but to no success. It has since been called the "Lost Dutchman" and the recent success in the Emigrant Springs mine has led many to believe that the rich vein has at last been found.

NOTED OLD PROPERTY TO REOPEN

Antigua Cortez Silver in Sonora Being Revived by Seattle Group

NOGALES (Ariz.) June 23. (Exclusive)—One of the famous old silver mines of Sonora, the Antigua Cortez, is being reopened by a company headed by H. L. Williams, Seattle capitalist. The Antigua Cortez is near Camou, five miles west of the Noche Buena, and has been idle since 1810.

Around the mine are the ruins of perhaps seventy-five arrastras which were used to reduce the ore which Indian laborers extracted by the crudest methods. One of their methods of breaking the rock was to drill holes and then fill them with lime and water, the natural expansion of which did the work. The ore was carried up rough stone steps in baskets.

It is planned to build a mill for the reduction of a great quantity of ore that was exposed some time ago by the Mexicans, but was too low in grade for them to mill profitably.

CALIFORNIA OIL TO OPEN TEXAS OFFICE

MIDLAND (Tex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—The California Oil Company will open its West Texas offices in Midland the 29th inst. The company will occupy five offices in the new petroleum building, and has purchased a tract of land in the city on which three buildings, a subsurface geological laboratory, a repair shop and storage garage will occupy a space 200x100 feet. Seven families are moving here from Colorado, Tex., where a large California refinery is located. William Simpson is manager.

NEW FINANCING PLANS DEVISED

Comstock Company Officials in Announcement

Funds Sought to Continue Gold-Mine Work

Outfit Holding Concern for Three Properties

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive)—A new plan for financing the New Comstock Mining Company, the holding concern for the Katherine, Sheeptrail and Pyramid gold mines, has been announced by the officers to the stockholders. It is hoped by this plan to raise money for continuing work on the 600-foot level, with the expectation of picking up there the rather good ore exposed on the 400 and 500-foot levels.

The New Comstock has 2,000,000 shares outstanding, 1,500,000 of which were issued in exchange for property. Now, each shareholder is to be allowed to purchase at 5 cents, for each two shares of the old, one share of a new issue of 750,000. If the allotment is not exhausted the remainder will be offered to the public.

Operation of the Katherine mill is expected to defray part of the development costs. In addition to Katherine ore, the mill is doing some custom business. Considerable tonnage of $8 ore is promised from the Black Dyke, where equipment is being overhauled preparatory to resumption of development and extraction.

Ultimately, the Black Dyke will have its own reduction plant. A. M. Bilsky, of Montreal, Can., closely associated with the Hollinger interests, has undertaken to finance the company to that end.

Among the smaller properties of the Katherine section that are under development is the Standard group, owned by Charles Adams and Tony Vrang. They have a network of veins and on one have put down a shaft more than forty feet, which has opened a fine showing of free milling gold ore.

DAWSON TO BE PLACER MINE HEAD

Angeleno Resigns Post as Pacific Copper Company Superintendent

E. R. Dawson of Los Angeles, superintendent of the Bonney mine of the Pacific Copper Company at Lordsburg, N. M., has resigned his position and will become superintendent of the Boulder Dam Gold Placers, Inc., at the mouth of the Grand Canyon on the Colorado River.

Preparations are now under way for the installation of a pilot plant for testing the values of the Boulder Dam Company's gold placer diggings. Later, construction of dredges and the building of a dam will begin. The dam is to be employed in the hydraulicking of the high bars along the river course.

The existence of gold-bearing gravel beds at the mouth of the canyon, where the heavier gold naturally would settle, is a traditionally known fact, according to Dawson. The discovery of old channels in the high bars, together with the demonstrated richness of the low bars, which may be dredged, gives to the entire enterprise an interest seldom encountered in placer mining operations, it is said.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Fourteen Samples

VISTA, June 7.—Question: I am sending under separate cover a sample of rock which shows up on the side of a hill on our ranch. This was exposed by a ditch digger and is very near the surface. I will appreciate it if you will give me, through your paper, a report as to its value. X.

Answer: Instead of one sample your shipment shows fourteen specimens to say nothing of the chips mixed therewith. The four specimens found at bottom of sack show up as follows: The two whitish ones are silicious baryte mixed with iron oxides; zinc and arsenic traces. The big sample is probably massive garnet chiefly, microscopic pyrite present. The three samples of No. 3 react for zinc, lead and antimony—traces of each, and the seven remaining of No. 2 contain, more or less, lead, arsenic and iron oxides. We made no fire assays for gold and silver.

A Mixture

LINWOOD, June 7.—Q.: This sample comes from Oro Grande. Give general analysis. J. S.

A.: Qualitative analysis only. It carries silica, iron oxides, titaniferous iron, biotite (black mica of the mining boys in the hills) baryte and manganese—each, in greater or lesser percentages.

Native Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Q.: Rock found near San Bernardino Mountains. Please assay yellow rock for gold and mercury. The black rock for gold and silver. W.

A.: The grayish sample coated with yellow and red iron oxides is massive garnet and carries no free gold. Mercury not present. The blackish rock is hornblende with hornblende schist; carrying traces of magnetite and traces of micacious iron (hematite.)

Three Samples

OSDICK, June 8.—Q.: Samples 1 and 2 are from the Argus range of mountains. Please state whether or not No. 1 carries silver. Try No. 2 for silver. Is there aluminum in either sample? Sample No. 3 is from petrified forest; is there any mineral in this rock? R.

A.: Specimen No. 1 is greenish, altered Epidote, some chalcedony and in part opal silica. Another No. 1 is a mixture of chalcedony and opaline silica. No. 3, at one time, was wood; it shows some Algae as coating on one edge and carries limonite with more or less chalcedonic matter. There is a low percentage of alumina in No. 3. For silver values—if any—please consult assayers.

Three Specimens

MINA (Nev.) June 9.—Q.: Samples from Mina, Nev. Please analyze same. E. T. F.

A.: One of the samples is of silica and baryte. Iron oxides present. Another one is crushed quartz, and the remaining sample is altered rock carrying more or less silica, aluminum silicate, iron oxides and baryte. All of the specimens represent doubtful commercial values—unless assayers find gold or silver.

Cinnabar Present

BEVERLY HILLS, June 9.—Q.: Is there anything of value in this ore and to what extent—percentage? I have been told it carries a big per cent quicksilver. K.

A.: The sample runs low in cinnabar and shows traces of metacinnabarite. Ore represented by the sample should carry 1.50 per cent mercury.

Coarse Sandstone

CALABASAS, June 10.—Q.: The inclosed comes from my ranch near Calabasas. Would like to have analysis for oil. Thanks in advance. T.

A.: No tests made of quantitative values. The samples are on the order of sandstone conglomerates and carry no hydrocarbons. The fine-granular earth and mineral matter was not analyzed. Oil doubtful.

Quartzitic Rock

POMONA, June 10.—Q.: Samples for analysis, please. O.

A.: They carry traces of pyrite, chalcopyrite and molybdenite, each, and represent doubtful commercial ore values.

Tetrahedrite

EAGLE ROCK, June 11.—Q.: Will you kindly analyze the inclosed piece of ore and state what the grayish part is, also, if it contains gold or silver. This piece was found about forty miles north of Wenachee, Wash. Thank you very much. V.

A.: The sample is in part ferruginous quartz and carries base metal sulphides which gives the name to this low-grade Tetrahedrite, as "Fahlerz." It is not the high-grade Tetrahedrite known to the mining boys in the hills as gray copper ore. Pyrite (iron disulphide) is present in good percentage. Marcasite (white iron pyrite) is also present and chalcopyrite (iron-copper sulphide) found sparingly. Reactions for zinc-arsenic noted. Galenite found in traces and free gold absent.

Five Specimens

TWENTY-NINE PALMS, June 12.—Q.: Please classify and analyze the five samples which were taken from a locality about seventeen miles southeast from here. T.

A.: Sample No. 1 is probably from a cavern; it resembles grape-like forms of large-size oolitic limestone, and is composed of lime carbonate (Travertine.) No. 2 is Celestite (strontium sulphate.) No. 3 is coated with travertine and calcite of granular forms, and the Kernel of the samples seems to be a variety of silica. No. 4 is Calcite, and No. 5 is strontium sulphate.

Not Radioactive

ORANGE, June 13.—Q.: Will you please test the rock for platinum and radium as I have every reason to believe it contains both. Will you please tell us what is in this ore and accept our thanks. B.

A.: The specimen is too small in quantity to make the full tests asked for. It carries no flake platinum, however, and the concentrates from the sample were too few to obtain satisfactory results. If we had one ounce of concentrates taken from similar rock by crushing and panning it would be a pleasure to analyze it for you.

Three Samples

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Q.: Sample No. 1 was found in Piute Mountains. I understand that silver is present in this rock and if so, in what form? No. 2 found back of Glendora, in San Bernardino county; analyze for anything of value. No. 3 is also from Piute Mountains. M.

A.: No. 1 is quartz slightly stained and streaked with limonite (hydrous iron peroxide.) No mineralogical silver present. No. 2 is a mixture of common black tourmaline (Schorl) carrying garnet traces, and hornblende present. No. 3 is iron-bearing quartz; the red coloring matter is that of iron (hematite) and not cinnabar. Traces of microscopic pyrite found, with traces of micaceous iron (hematite.)

Tungsten Absent

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Q.: The two samples under separate cover come from Los Angeles county, and I am told No. 1 is tungsten. No. 2 is a red ore and I believe it is cinnabar. Please test same and report in your usual column. T.

A.: Sample No. 1 is magnetic iron ore and carries no tungsten. Try a small chip of like mineral with a magnet and see how quickly it sticks to the magnet. No. 2 is an earthy hematite, and of rather doubtful value as a pigment for crayons, etc.

Production at Wright Creek Mill Boosted

KINGMAN (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Following the installation of equipment that increased its capacity from seventy-five to 100 tons a day, the mill at the Wright Creek mine has resumed operations. A Hardinge ball mill now does the grinding, and a new launder is working well. The ore is reduced eighteen to one, and it is claimed that a 10 per cent higher saving of values is now effected.

Most of the ore treated comes from the mine, but the stock pile is being drawn upon to some extent. Another five-foot vein of milling grade ore was opened only a few days ago.

A new road has been built to the Silverado mine, in the high Wallapai, and a shaft is being sunk on the main vein.

Arizona Area on Mining Map

GRAND CANYON (Ariz.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Coconino county expects soon to have its first producing mine. The Coconino Copper Company is preparing to ship ore to the Humboldt smelter, near Prescott, which is to reopen in July.

Some new machinery is to be installed at the mine, which lies about ten miles south of Grand Canyon. The company recently held its annual meeting and employed Howard Marine of Flagstaff, as general manager.

Fruitvale Hole of Standard in Shale Formation

FRUITVALE, June 24. (Exclusive)—At Fruitvale interest is centering this week on the Standard Oil Company's K. C. L. No. 5 well, which is drilling in sandy shale containing thin streaks of oil sand. The casing is set at 4456 feet.

The Western Gulf Oil Company's No. B-8 deep test at Fruitvale is down to 6565 feet and to date has shown nothing that is particularly encouraging.

George Getty's Farrel No. 1 is shut in at 3760 feet; the Shell Oil Company's K. C. L. No. 1 has suspended operation after being drilled to 5935 feet and after eighteen-inch casing had been set to 890 feet. The Western Gulf's K. C. L. No. D-1 is standing cemented with ten and three-quarter inch casing set to 3739 feet.

MEXICAN EAGLE OIL OUTPUT REPORTED

MONTEREY (Mex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Marked success is being met with by the Mexican Eagle (Aguila) Oil Company in developing a large oil supply upon its lands in the Tonala district, State of Tabasco, Isthmus of Tehuantepec, according to the petroleum bureau of the Mexican government.

Daily production of oil from the company's wells in the Tonala district is now 24,000 barrels. The oil is sent through a pipe line to the company's refinery at Minatitlan.

From
Wichita to Los Angeles 3 pints of Oil!

The oil consumption in an Axelson Airplane Engine is considerably less than in any other motive power in the 150 H. P. class. For instance—from Wichita to Los Angeles—including side trips—a total of 1930 miles—on 3 pints of oil—just an average run. The lubricating system is an Axelson development. The oil is circulated throughout the engine automatically and recovered.

SILVER IN OPEN CARTS CROSS LINE

Millions In Bars Brought Over Like Cordwood to Facilitate Inspection

A Los Angeles mining engineer, returning from a long stay in Mexico, states that during the past three months $3,253,897 in Mexican bar silver was brought into the United States across the international bridge at Laredo, N. M., in open mule carts, to insure quick customs inspection, much of it being consigned to Los Angeles and San Francisco for absorption by the market of the Orient.

In 1928, he says, $13,604,545 in bar silver from the mines of Mexico was passed over the Laredo bridge, and that for the first quarter of this year 5489 bars of silver, averaging sixty-five pounds in weight and valued at 57 cents per ounce, were conveyed across the bridge from Mexico.

Much of the ore from which this silver was recovered originated in the States of Durango, Nuevo Leon, Zacatecas, Jalisco, Aguascalientes and Guanaquata, entering this country, it is said, free of tariff duty. The crude ore is treated at the smelting plants at Monterrey and Torreon, by which one-sixth of the world silver output, it is asserted, is smelted and refined.

Home Brew Was Beauty Lotion, Prisoner Says

BALTIMORE (Md.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Homage to Apollo and not Bacchus brought Frank Pidgeon before United States Commissioner Supplee on a charge of manufacturing and possessing liquor in violation of the Volstead Act.

At least that's what Pidgeon told the court when he took the stand in his defense. Just like the man in the advertisement, Pidgeon said he had suffered because blotches on his face marred his manly beauty and physicians had told him he must take yeast. Pidgeon said he tried to take it plain, with bread, in milk, in coffee—in fact, in almost everything but spinach or ice cream.

But when prohibition agents stated they found seventy-eight gallons of the concoction known to them as home brew, and with it bottling apparatus, etc, in his home, Commissioner Supplee held Pidgeon pending analysis of the beauty lotion.

Angelenos Buy Cinnabar Mine

RENO (Nev.) June 24. (Exclusive) The Adamson group of seven cinnabar claims in the Antelope Springs district, near Lovelock, has been purchased by the Lacey brothers, owners of the Lacey Manufacturing Company of Los Angeles. The property lies southwest of the rich quicksilver mines of the Pershing Quicksilver Company and has a good showing of cinnabar.

A compressor has been purchased and arrangements made for vigorous development of the locations. The Laceys are also interested in mining properties at Seven Troughs and other Nevada camps.

SILVER BOW MINE ON PRODUCING LIST

TONOPAH (Nev.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Production has started from the Silver Bow mine, east of Tonopah, owned by the Leighton Mining Company of Los Angeles. The new flotation mill is treating twenty-five tons daily, with two shifts employed, and turning out a ton of silver-gold concentrate valued at about $600. Large tonnage of profitable ore is reported exposed. Manager H. H. Leighton is planning to place oil-burning furnaces at intervals along the three-mile pipeline to keep the water from freezing in the winter months. It will be a novel experiment in Nevada, and is certain to be watched with considerable interest.

POWER LINE TO TAP NEVADA MINE AREA

The building of a power line to serve the mines in the Poorman Creek and Gaston Ridge sections of Nevada county is expected to materially aid development in that region. The line will be built by the Pacific Gas and Electric from Allegheny to the Spanish group and from that point, branch lines will be run to the Ancho, Twin Sister, German Bar and Gaston properties.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR NEW OIL HOLE

MIDLAND (Tex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Water and gas lines are being laid for the T. & P. Coal and Oil Company's new well to be situated on Sec. 21, 2-36, in Lea county, New Mexico. This project is situated about fifteen miles north of Jal, and will spud in shortly, according to reports.

United Gas to Have Pipe Line of 4600 Miles

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Stockholders of the United Gas Company have just been informed that upon completion of pipe lines now under construction, the company will have more than 4600 miles of pipe lines, extending from St. Louis and Wichita, Kan., on the north; El Paso on the west; Monterrey, Mex., on the south, and points in Eastern Louisiana on the east. The company has a number of subsidiaries, including the Duval-Texas Sulphur Company which is developing a large sulphur company in South Texas.

The United Gas Company, through its subsidiaries, owns leases covering gas rights on over 245,000 acres in fifteen separate fields, and gas purchase contracts covering production during the life of the leases on over 224,000 acres in thirteen separate fields, according to O. R. Seagraves, president.

The company owns leases covering oil rights on more than 151,900 acres in fifteen separate fields, has 403 gas wells producing with a daily open flow in excess of 7,368,000,000 cubic feet, and twenty-seven of these gas wells having a daily open flow in excess of 545,000,000 cubic feet have been brought in since the first of this year, it was reported.

New Ore Finds Stir Interest

RENO (Nev.) June 24. (Exclusive) The Superior district, thirty-five miles north of Tonopah, is claiming much interest from strong corporations as a result of impressive ore discoveries at surface. The United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company has taken options on fifty claims, and a large group has also been taken under option by the Treadwall-Yukon Company.

Huge deposits of copper-silver ore are said to be exposed, with most of the material of good smelting grade. Superior was the scene of a brief silver rush twenty-three years ago, but prospectors speedily abandoned their locations when copper began to show abundantly as the ore was too low grade to ship to copper smelters.

New Owners of Mine Confident

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 24. (Exclusive)—Boston and New York capitalists who recently purchased the Ainsworth group of claims in the Paradise district, under the name of Coronado Copper Corporation, are confident that they will soon add another important producer to Arizona's list of copper mines.

Orders for $100,000 worth of machinery have been placed and there is $100,000 available for development, it is stated.

Prior to buying the Ainsworth property, the Coronado Corporation had it under lease for some time, and sampled it thoroughly. It is understood that the purchase price was $150,000.

REPORT OF GOLD ACE STRIKE CONFIRMED

CARRARA (Nev.) June 23. (Exclusive)—Superintendent Sol Camp of the Gold Ace Company has confirmed reports that the new vertical shaft had intersected the rich ore shoot at an approximate depth of fifty feet and about fifty feet from the incline workings. Sufficient work has not been done to determine the extent and value of the ore, but persistence of the rich shoot has apparently been demonstrated. The management states a tunnel between the vertical shaft and the old workings has also entered excellent ore, with the vein at least five feet wide.

OUTPUT REPORTED AT OAK HILL GOLD

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (Exclusive)—Twenty tons of ore sampling better than $50 per ton are being shipped daily from the Oak Hill gold mine east of Waterford, a pioneer camp of Stanislaus county. The product comes from a two-foot vein on the 450 and 500-foot levels. The management states another vein eight feet wide averages $7 per ton. Arrangements for steady production from both ledges are being made. Southern California capital is largely interested.

GOLD DREDGING IN SHASTA AREA ENDS

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (Exclusive)—Gold dredging has ceased in Shasta county with removal of the last goldboat of the Gardella Dredging Company from the old camp of Horsetown to Jenny Lind, Calaveras county. A few years ago five dredges were at work in Shasta, largely concentrated in ranches near Redding. The gold has been extracted and barren heaps of rocks and pebbles alone mark the sites of once prosperous farms.

SHIP RATE WAR AGAIN IMPENDS

Conference Failure in Offing With Luckenbach Action

Thackera Faces Hard Fight In Efforts for Harmony

Seafarer Will Retire After Twenty-six Years

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Failure of the Intercoastal Steamship Conference and another westbound rate-slashing war again impend, according to shipping men, unless the threatened bolt of the powerful Luckenbach Line can be forestalled. The latter has served notice of withdrawal effective August 9, next.

Amelioration of the difficulty is declared one of the stiffest assignments for Robert C. Thackera since he became chairman of the conference two years ago, two years in which he has surmounted many obstacles and effected the first protracted peace after years of warring.

Luckenbach's insistence that the weekly service of the Quaker Line should make it a Class A line, instead of a B line which shares on pool money contributed by A lines, has extended to a point where resort yet may be had in court.

Luckenbach's check to B lines provided that no portion be distributed to the Quaker Line, and Thackera has returned it, resulting in no payment to any B line. The latter assert it is a hardship they shouldn't bear, and rumblings of court action have been heard.

Legal recourse, however, has been deferred in the hope of a conference agreement.

VETERAN PURSER QUITS SEA TOMORROW

Charles G. Hadicke, veteran purser on the Dollar Line, is quitting the sea. When the globe-girdling liner President Monroe, on which he came in yesterday, arrives in San Francisco tomorrow, he will bring to a close twenty-six years of seafaring. It has been a career which has taken him more than a million miles, and thrown him in contact with thousands of world-famous folk, with a multitude of lasting friends who even planned their trips to ride on his ships.

Hadicke first went to sea out of Antwerp with nothing but a happy heart. Today he is the exception to the adage that "a rolling stone gathers no moss," though it gets a fine polish. He has acquired both, and recently a bride as well. Ten years of his sea service were given to Red Star liners, eleven to Pacific Mail vessels, and five to Dollar ships.

Inauguration of the Norwegian-owned Klaveness Line service between the Pacific Coast and South China and the Dutch East Indies definitely has been set for October, according to word received by officials of the McCormick Steamship Company, newly appointed agents for the line. The Bronxville will make a special voyage here in August, but the motorship Summerville will formally open the service two months later. Other vessels to participate will be the Bronxville, Pleasantville, Corneville and the Bonneville. All are modern and fast, and the Klaveness Line is declared ready to add more such ships rapidly.

Forty-five of the seventy-two passengers arriving on the Dollar round-the-world liner President Monroe yesterday disembarked at Los Angeles, and as many more will take passage when the ship sails for San Francisco and the Orient at noon today. Among the travelers are Charles W. Benedict, Riverside capitalist, and Mrs. Benedict, completing the globe circuit; Dr. Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminology at Harvard law school, en route to San Francisco, and Mrs. C. D. Wolcott, member of the Federal Indian Commission, on a survey of Northern California tribes. The vessel also discharged several score wild animals, shipped from Cairo, Egypt, for the Christian R. Holmes Zoo at Santa Barbara, and another consignment is bound for the Fleischacker Zoo in San Francisco.

Passing of the Mexican States Line from active operation in the California-Mexico trade is reported imminent, with the tying up of the line's last ship, Sinaloa, at San Francisco this week. Starting six years ago with four "mystery ships," so named for their feats during the World War, the service gradually diminished. The Guerrero has been laid up at San Francisco since April, 1926, and the Chiapas an equal time here. The Oaxaca was sold, became a yacht, and later was wrecked in Alaska. Rumors are the National Navigation Lines, operated by the Mexican government, may acquire the Sinaloa. The latter company now operates the Bolivar, Washington, Moctezuma and the Jalisco, the only service carrying passengers and freight between Mexico and California exclusively.

The world's largest tank motor ship, the C. O. Stillman, sailed with 150,000 barrels of fuel oil yesterday for the nitrate plants of Chile. She also carries several thousand barrels of Diesel oil for fuel. She belongs to the Imperial Petroleum Company.

Contention between Mexican and American governments over border closing hours will have no effect on the Pacific Steamship Company's week-end excursions to Ensenada, according to a statement just issued by R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent.

"By reason of our agreement with Ensenada port officials, it is possible for the Admiral Line ships to leave Ensenada at 2 o'clock every Sunday morning and arrive in Los Angeles at 5 pm., Sunday. The United States customs office is represented officially by inspectors on board the ship, who meet all passengers at the gang plank as they go on board for the return trip, Schutten announced.

The palatial Admiral liners Emma Alexander and Ruth Alexander alternate every Friday evening, leaving Wilmington at 8 o'clock, and the service will be continued through the summer and early fall.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (AP)—The West Cusseta, first of the three Dieselized Shipping Board vessels to begin the J. J. Moore & Co.'s service on the South African run, will be ready for service this week, V. H. Pinckney, general manager of the operating company, announced the vessel will arrive here from New York about July 24, next, and leave on her first around-the-world voyage about August 13. She will be followed at monthly intervals by her sister ships, the Crown City and West Honaker.

All three vessels were built as wartime steamers at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation and have been converted to Diesel propulsion. Passenger accommodation has been added. Ports of call will be Capetown, East London, Durban, Lourenzo and other cities.

The ships will load at British Columbia, Puget Sound, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Pinckney said the vessels will bring back chrome and manganese ore, both needed on the coast since development of the steel industry here, tanning bark and other South African products.

SEATTLE, June 23.—The Tanana, Alaska Steamship Company freighter, will sail July 2, next, for Southeastern and Southwestern Alaska points in the cannery trade. Return of the vessel to active service indicates that Alaskan fisheries are nearing the peak of the season's production.

Thirteen vessels are now in regular service for the company, including five passenger liners. The Alameda, with a capacity passenger list, also will sail July 2 for southeastern points.

War Veteran 93, Daughter Only 17 Years Old

MANITOWOC (Wis.) June 23. (Exclusive)—A contrast of ages between a Civil War veteran and his daughter, probably unequaled anywhere, exists here in the combination of August Meyer, who will be 93 years of age in November, and Margaret Meyer, 17. Miss Meyer was a graduate of this year's high school class. The unusual situation attracts particular attention at this time for the reason that recently newspapers published a story from Toledo, O., which stated a Civil War veteran there 80 years old had a son 19. Miss Meyer's mother is sixty, and is her father's second wife and he her second husband. She was previously married to a nephew of her present husband.

GRANDFATHERS AIDED PRIZE-BOOK WRITER

MANHATTAN (Kan.) June 23. (AP) Both his grandfathers played a part in the story which won for Dr. Fred A. Shannon this year's Pulitzer award for the best book on United States history.

One of the history teacher's grandfathers was with Gen. Sherman during the Civil War, while the other was in the trans-Mississippi army. Dr. Shannon admits their stories of army service may have been partly responsible for his prize-winning work, "The Organization and Administration of the Union Army."

Dr. Shannon is an associate professor of history and government at Kansas State Agricultural College.

SPECIAL FOOD GIVEN ILL ZANZIBAR SULTAN

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive)—Two princes are now visiting London, and both have suites at the Hyde Park Hotel. One is the Maharajah of Alwar, a tall, muscular man, who is a crack shot and an adept at polo and tennis, and the other is the Sultan of Zanzibar.

Each Prince has his own guards, and the Sultan, who has been ill, has special food prepared for him. He intends to see as many London spectacles as possible. Already he has been to the derby and seen the trooping of the color on the King's birthday, and he hopes also to see polo and cricket matches and to visit other race meetings.

KERN RIVER WELL PREPARING TO TEST

BAKERSFIELD, June 24. (Exclusive)—Gatton & Gould found rather good oil sand in their No. 1 well in the Kern River field and are preparing to make a test. The well is down 1450 feet with eight and one-quarter-inch casing set to 1183 feet. The Delfino No. 1 well, being drilled by the Taft Drilling Company southwest of Bakersfield on Sec. 2, 30-27, is drilling ahead at 1540 feet in hard sand.

Murder Plot Laid to Wife

MEXICO CITY, June 23. (AP)—An asserted attempt at murder which had its origin in darkest Africa and the jungles of India came to light here with the arrest tonight of Mrs. Soledad Morales De Learn, Mexican wife of an American citizen. She was charged with a plot to poison William A. King, business rival of her husband and also an American.

King said the two men were engaged to supply zoos with animals captured in India and Africa and that an intense rivalry developed between them. King recently arrived with two hippopotami for the Chapultepec Zoo. Mrs. Learn arrived a little later.

FOUR MISSING BOYS FOUND BY FATHER

COLUSA (Cal.) June 23. (AP)—Four young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stone, missing from their home at Chico, Cal., since last Tuesday, were found here today by their father. The boys, ranging in age from 5 to 16, were well and happy, none the worse for their adventure. Taking two boats out for a row on the Sacramento River, they had not returned. Fear of a mishap was expressed by their parents after one of the boats was found overturned on a sandbank further down the stream.

SCHOOL REBELLION INQUIRY STARTED

SASKATOON (Sask.) June 23. (AP) School authorities of Pike Lake, Sask., near here, are investigating the causes of a "rebellion" of pupils which culminated Friday, when classes were stopped and the children sent home. The teacher, Miss Eileen Fields, was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. The children shouted, "Down with the English!" and at one time stuck an American flag, torn from a reference book, on the blackboard.

BAY CITY BOY DROWNS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (AP)—John Truman, 15 years of age, was drowned in San Francisco Bay off Hunters Point today, when a rowboat capsized.

WOMEN IN PARLIAMENT DESCRIBED

Personalities of Those Recently Elected to Office Revealed

LONDON, June 23. (Exclusive) Among the fourteen women elected to the new Parliament are very interesting personalities. Besides such veterans as Lady Astor, the Duchess of Athol and Miss Ellen Wilkinson, there are two comparative flappers in Miss Megan Lloyd George, who is brilliant enough soon to overcome the handicap of having such a famous father, and Miss Jennie Lee, the miner's daughter, who has been elected in Lanark Twica within a few weeks, and whose brains, charm and personality make her the darling of the Labor party. Each young woman is only 24 years of age.

Four brainy women members are Miss Susan Lawrence, Dr. Ethel Bentham, Dr. Marion Phillips and Mrs. Mary Hamilton. Miss Lawrence was educated at Newham, is noted for her tact and has one great ambition—to become Minister of Health in a Labor government.

Dr. Bentham is a Quaker, is interested in babies, deliberately avoids asking concessions because of her sex and cultivates the impersonal in her attitude. Dr. Phillips is a D. Sc., and Mrs. Hamilton has several novels and a life of Ramsay MacDonald to her credit.

Lady Cynthia Mosley, a daughter of the late Lord Curzon of Kedleston, joins her husband on the Labor benches. Miss Margaret Bondfield, who began life as an elementary school teacher, became a shopgirl to discover what the conditions were like and has stuck up for women's rights ever since, has the distinction of being the first woman to become a member of a British Cabinet.

Buffalo Riding Once Sport of National Guard

SACRAMENTO, June 23. (AP)—Members of the California National Guard in training at the annual encampment at San Luis Obispo probably would think that some one had missed a cog or two if there appeared on the camp bulletin board such general orders as the following, issued for the enlightment of the Illinois National Guard, Second Squadron, One Hundred and Sixty Cavalry in 1842:

(1.) Members of this command will be careful not to fire in the direction of the C. O.'s quarters when shooting at buffaloes.

(2.) The troop officer having the best trained remount for this year will be awarded one barrel of Rye—.

(3.) Student officers will discontinue the practice of roping and riding buffaloes.

(4.) Attention of all officers is called to regulations providing that all officers will wear beards.

Adjt.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt, commander of the California National Guard, declared before leaving for camp that through the loss of buffaloes, beards and barrels conditions have greatly improved for guardsmen.

STUFFY ALCOVES IN FARM HUTS BANNED

EMDEN (Germany) June 23. (AP)—With the campaign of the insurance companies against the "schlafbutze" (sleeping alcove in the peasant huts of East Friesland) another relic of the Middle Ages is disappearing.

As in most cases the "schlafbutze" is no more than a recess in the wall of the thatched hut and closed from the rest of the interior by a heavy woolen curtain, it is in great demand in winter as a retainer of warmth. Anything like ventilation is out of the question in this windowless alcove, which often becomes a hotbed of infectious diseases, especially tuberculosis.

Italy Observes St. John Feast

ROME, June 23. (AP)—The Feast of St. John the Baptist, the first martyr beheaded in the calendar of Christendom, was celebrated all over Italy today. It is the great summer festival of the common people.

In Rome there were a large fair and popular dancing, accompanied by quaint songs in Romanesque dialect, just outside St. John's Gate to the south of the city, within a stone's throw of St. John Lateran, the "Mother Church of Christendom."

SUN TAN DRESS UNDER FIRE

Crusading Dean of Women Begins; Gives Indiana Co-eds New Warning

BLOOMINGTON (Ind.) June 12. (Exclusive)—Now the Indiana University dean of women, Miss Agnes E. Wells, is campaigning against the sun tan dress. She has requested a woman's apparel store here not to sell such dresses and some summer school co-eds say they have also been warned not to wear "such clothes."

Other edicts by Dean Wells recently promulgated are that all co-eds must wear bloomers, even in summer, that dates on school nights must not exceed ten minutes, that there shall be no hand-holding on the campus and that no students have automobiles.

PARLIAMENT TO CONVENE TOMORROW

Opening, However, Will be Void of Formality Due to Indisposition of King

LONDON, June 23. (AP)—The new Parliament will open Tuesday without formality or state ceremony. Owing to the indisposition of the King the actual opening will be in the hands of the five Lords Commissioners, Lord Sankey, new Lord Chancellor, at their head will read the Kings speech from the throne which will reveal the Labor government's legislative plans for the session.

The royal speech, it is understood, will cover: Anglo-American conversations, Rhineland evacuation, resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia, ratification of the Washington eight-hour convention, unemployment relief schemes with the creation of an unemployment and development commission; a shorter working day for miners, bills on pensions and to amend the factory acts, and a royal commission on liquor licensings.

New Yorkers Weary of Life

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Five persons, one a former millionaire, committed suicide in New York City today. Three hanged themselves, one jumped from a third-story window and the fifth died by gas.

Brooding over the loss of his $1,000,000 clothing manufacturing business in the last four years, according to his widow, Max Coleman, father of six children, crept from his bed early this morning and hanged himself from a steam pipe in the cellar of their home in Brooklyn.

Solomon Farber, 56 years of age, also of Brooklyn, a retired merchant, Mrs. Rose Binker, 21, of Roshysville, Pa.; Joseph Janatsch and Julius Meanin were the others.

REFUGE FOR SLAVES MADE NURSES' SCHOOL

NEW YORK, June 23. (Exclusive) Ninety years ago a group of citizens secretly managed here a refuge for runaway slaves, and now that refuge has evolved into the Lincoln Scholo for Nurses. The woman heading the committee in support of it is Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, who in a few years more may be the undisputed ruler of New York society, according to the experts on the subject.

PILOT WINS AFTER PLANE MOTOR DIES

SEATTLE, June 23. (AP)—A cut mouth for the pilot, a bad shaking for two passengers and a smashed wing and landing gear for the airplane were the results here today of a motor going dead at a 400-foot altitude because of a faulty gas feed. Harold Richmond, the pilot, took a long glide to escape high-tension cables parallelling a vacant lot in which he landed. The passengers, uninjured, left without giving their names.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR RAMON GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de este diario

En el tercer párrafo de la Plática en que transcribí el artículo de Luis Gabaldón, dice lo siguiente: "No obedece su determinación a disgustos familiares ni a penas de amor, porque entonces habría cola a la puerta de los conventos."

"Cola", en este caso, significa "la hilera de personas que esperan vez para entrar en una parte o acercarse a un lugar con algún objeto". Cuando una gran aglomeración de gente quiere comprar billetes de teatro o de ferrocarril, o necesita cobrar o depositar dinero en un banco, es de rigor en toda comunidad culta hacer cola o formar cola (to stand in line, to stand in queue) frente a la taquilla del teatro o las ventanillas de la estación de ferrocarril o del banco. Es la única manera de guardar el orden en tales ocasiones, y de hacer que a cada comprador, cliente o parroquiano le toque su vez o su turno después de los llegados primero que él y antes de los que llegaron después. El estudiante de español no tendrá, pues, dificultad en comprender las siguientes frases: "No voy a ese cine los sábados, porque tiene uno que hacer cerca de una hora de cola para comprar el billete"; "¡Qué cola, Dios mío; llega hasta la esquina y da vuelta!"

En el párrafo siguiente nos dice Luis Gabaldón que "Maud Loty tenía un perrito, un perrito que era una monada, el dulce encanto de su amita". El substantivo "monada" y el adjetivo "mono" son de frecuentísimo empleo en la conversación familiar española, y a cada rato los oímos, sobre todo de labios femeninos, aplicados a una persona bien proporcionadita, bella, bonita, simpática, atrayente; o a una cosa delicada, pequeña, graciosa, primorosa. Son voces tan usadas como el adjetivo familiar "cute" en este país, y de significación análoga: "Mira, qué vestidito tan mono, o qué monada de vestidito (Look, what a cute little dress).

En el mismo párrafo nos dice el escritor que "los amigos y admiradores de la actriz, cuando la enviaban flores, acompañaban siempre al obsequio una cajita de bombones para el chucho". La puridad gramatical exige que se diga, "cuando le enviaban flores", en vez de "cuando la enviaban flores", ya que "le", y no "la", es el dativo de "ella". "La" es el acusativo de este pronombre personal femenino, y no debe emplearse sino cuando el substantivo femenino a que se refiera sea complemento directo del verbo. La cláusula siguiente, en que se habla de una mujer, está ajustada a los preceptos gramaticales: "LA conocí en el baile, y LE envié flores al día siguiente". Con todo, escritores de nota han empleado "la" en dativo, y tal práctica es muy frecuente en Castilla: "LA conocí en el baile, y LA envié flores al día siguiente". La Gramática de la Academia Española reprueba este uso. Sobre los casos de los pronombres personales castellanos publiqué un largo estudio en Pláticas de años anteriores.

Dase el nombre de "bombón" a un confite (candy) que, por lo común, contiene licor. "Bombonera" es una caja para guardar bombones.

"Chucho-cha" es voz familiar que significa "perro, perra", y se usa asimismo como interjección para contener o espantar a un perro o a una perra: "¡Cucho!", "¡Chucha!" En Cuba y en Méjico, "Chucho y Chucha" son diminutivos familiares de los nombres "Jesús" y "Jesusa o María de Jesús".

"Relamerse" es lamerse los labios con la lengua una o muchas veces, y es operación que se hace, real o figuradamente, cuando se espera uno un sabroso bocado o un suceso harto placentero: "Fulano se relamía de gusto al pensar que pasaría sus vacaciones en Nueva York." La locución inglesa equivalente es "to lick one's chops or lips". Con análogo valor úsase en español la expresión "hacérsele a uno agua la boca" (to water at the mouth): "Se me hace agua la boca de ver la comida que me tiene preparada" (My mouth waters at seeing the meal he has got ready for me).

"La dueña", sigue diciendo Gabaldón, "ante desgracia tal, se ha recluido . . ." Quizá mis lectores, estudiantes de español, adviertan que "dueño" tiene a veces género epiceno, y puede emplearse con terminación y artículo masculinos para denotar a quien tiene el dominio de una finca o de otra cosa, aunque sea mujer.

Por echarla de remirados y pulcros en el hablar, advierte el señor Cuervo en sus "Apuntaciones Críticas", que dicen algunos y algunas: "yo soy 'la dueño', tú eres 'la dueño' de la casa"; y lo peor del caso es que indudablemente se ha tomado esta peregrina jerigonza de una gramática castellana publicada años atrás por un compatriota nuestro, en la cual se leen las siguientes palabras: "Tan correcta sería la frase 'este hombre es el dueño de la casa', como 'esta mujer es la dueño', etc."

Este es un error garrafal, porque, o se considera a "dueño" como epiceno (esto es, como significativo de los dos sexos sin variar de género gramatical), y entonces hay que decir, "el dueño de la casa es Diego; el dueño de la casa es María", o bien se le dan las dos formas "dueño" y "dueña". De lo primero son argumento las expresiones "mi dueño", "dueño mío", que se dirigen así a hombres como a mujeres, y pasajes como los siguientes: "¿Quedará desengañado de que Marcela no ha sido 'el dueño' de aquesta casa?" (Calderón, "Casa con dos puertas mala es de guardar", jornada II.); "Muy como señora habláis, Mencía. ¿Sois vos 'el dueño' de esta casa?" (Id. "El médico de su honra", jorn. I.); "Y por dicha no sería ella 'el dueño' del papel" (Alarcón, "La industria y la suerte", acto II, esc. XI).

Por supuesto que, con igual corrección, podría haberse dicho "dueña" en todos esos pasajes.

New Large Well in Ellwood Field

SANTA BARBARA, June 23. (Exclusive)—The tenth producing well, Luton-Bell, No. 7, of the Barnsdall and Rio Grande combination in the Elwood field, was brought in this afternoon as the largest producer of the season. It was flowing approximately 4000 barrels a day tonight.

Three hundred feet of oil sand, the greatest depth ever cored in any of the Elwood wells, was penetrated before the well was placed on production.

AUTHORESS MAKING SHORT VISIT HERE

Alice Williamson

Alice Williamson, better known for her many books under the authorship of C. N. and A. M. Williamson, arrived yesterday for her seventh consecutive annual visit to Los Angeles.

"I am here for but ten days, but the year would not be complete without renewal of friendships in this city," she said at the Hollywood Hotel. "I am just globe trotting, which is particularly refreshing when I am finishing my memoirs, which I will publish under the title 'The Inky Way.' Incidents of my life since I left New York for London as a timid American girl of 18, come crowding back upon me in travel.

"I am deeply interested in my book, 'Bill the Sheik,' for which Bruz Fletcher of Los Angeles has written the score for a musical comedy," said Mrs. Williamson, who incidentally, has had twelve of her books produced in silent drama.

"The talkies mean a new and deeper actuality for the screen and will in time exercise a marked influence on future fiction," she said, adding, "the sound pictures will, I believe, advance men more than it will women, but the latter are forging ahead so rapidly in America and grasping at the reins of endeavor in all lines with such abandon that I almost feel that they need four-wheel brakes.

"I was born in America and am not biased because I happened to marry an Englishman, but while English women are also advancing, it is with more patience and a safer dignity. If American women become too dominant and aggressive I fear that the better class of American men will turn from them and stick to single blessedness. The idea that a woman can not have a 'career' and be married is a foolish fancy that seems to be fad of the day among American women."

Mrs. Williamson married an officer of the British army who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

OIL TANKS MENACED IN GRASS FIRE

County Department Aided by Company's Workers in Halting Flames

A grass fire near One Hundred and Twenty-eight street near Avalon Boulevard, about 2 p.m. yesterday, burned over ten acres and menaced a score of huge oil storage tanks on the property of the General Petroleum Corporation for several hours before it was brought under control.

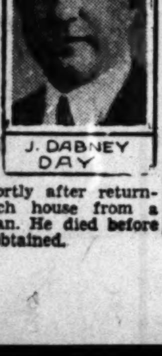
The county fire department responded and, with the help of the company's fire-fighters, managed to check the spread of the flames after a hard struggle. A eucalyptus grove also was endangered, but the fire was checked at its edge.

J. DABNEY DAY RITES SET

Final Rites for Banker Who Expired Unexpectedly Saturday Will be In His Home

Funeral services for J. Dabney Day, one of the most prominent bankers and Christian philanthropists of Los Angeles who died unexpectedly at his beach home Las Tunas Saturday afternoon, will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in his home, 310 South Lafayette Park Place. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery. Four ministers will officiate at the funeral ceremonies. They are Rev. J. A. Vaus, Rev. Cortland Myers, Rev. H. O. Anderson and Rev. J. W. Johnson.

Death brought an unexpected end to the career of this noted banker whose rise in the financial world of Los Angeles had been spectacular since his arrival here in 1920.



J. DABNEY DAY

There was no indication of fatal illness. According to his physician, Dr. P. G. White, Mr. Day had been in good health for some time. He was stricken with what his medical adviser thinks was a heart attack shortly after returning to his beach house from a swim in the ocean. He died before relief could be obtained.

Mrs. Day and her aunt, Miss Susie Relyea, were with him when he passed away. Mr. Day had a spectacular career in the business world of this city. He was called to the First National Bank to take the position of vice-president nine years ago. At that time he was vice-president of the City National Bank in Dallas, Tex.

HEAD OF BANK

Due to his knowledge of cotton and commodity conditions and an intense interest in the commercial development of Southern California, he soon became one of the important figures in the commercial world of this region. Mr. Day was elected president of the Citizens' National Bank and became chairman of the executive committee of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank. Since that time he had devoted his life to the upbuilding of the twin banks and

STOCKHOLDERS SUIT VICTORS

Win Authority to Inspect Company's Books

Directors of Steamship Line Defendants

Plaintiffs Want Concern's Affairs Wound Up

Directors of a foreign corporation cannot deny California stockholders the right to examine and inspect the books of the company.

A foreign corporation doing business in California subjects itself to such regulatory measures as the State has established for all corporations.

A foreign corporation by-law which would deny the stockholders of this State the right to inspect its books would be contrary to public policy which demands that those who own the stock of the corporation know how its affairs are being conducted.

Such are the principles laid down by Superior Judge Yankwich, when he ruled that the California and Eastern Steamship Company, although it is a foreign corporation, must allow Charles C. Pierce, S. N. Benjamin and other of its stockholders to inspect its books.

WRIT GRANTED

Judge Yankwich granted Pierce and Benjamin a writ of mandate against Frank C. Hill and Raymond C. Hill, respectively, president and secretary of the corporation, ordering them to allow the inspection of the books of the company they head.

The California and Eastern Steamship Company is organized under the laws of Delaware, but has its main offices at Los Angeles.

It appeared at the hearing before Judge Yankwich that the company had been engaged in the business of transporting freight by sea. Its ships were sold in January, last, and for the past few months the company has been doing no business other than settling some small claims against it. Some $200,000 realized from the sale of the ships is on hand. A controversy arose between the directors and some of the stockholders, the directors insisting that the company is about to purchase other ships, while the plaintiff stockholders insist on dissolving the corporation and distributing its assets.

COURT'S VIEW

At the hearing on the petition for a writ of mandate the directors of the company insisted that the stockholders were endeavoring to obtain the books with the idea of harming the corporation by dissolving it.

"This," says Judge Yankwich, "is not the injury for which the law intended that the right of inspection be denied. The stockholders have rights and if they believe that the corporation's affairs should be wound up, their right to inspect the books should not be denied merely because the directors think otherwise."

One of the grounds urged by the directors for refusing the right to inspect the books was that such right does not extend to foreign corporations organized in other States and engaged in interstate commerce.

Fight to Snuff McKeon Well Fire Continues

Roaring flames yesterday continued to pour from the casing of McKeon No. 2 oil well in Santa Fe Springs field, which has been burning two weeks. At the same time night and day crews of workmen continued their tunnel to reach the casing fifty feet under ground where attempts will be made to halt the flames by tapping and diverting the flow of crude oil and gas through an auxiliary pipe.

Efforts to drop a huge funnel over the top of the well have been given up, and this plan will not be attempted until the tunnel crew has succeeded in reducing the force of the flames.

DIRECTORS CONSIDER CLUB DEAL

Los Angeles Athletic to Take Over Control of Hollywood Organization

A deal is now under way whereby the management of the Hollywood Athletic Club shortly will be taken over by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, it was learned last night from sources close to the directorates of both organizations. That the deal has been pending for several weeks is well known among members of the clubs, but the first definite information as to the details was obtained yesterday.

According to reports, the combine will be consummated within the next ten days. It is known that the board of directors of the Hollywood club has placed the proposal before the members with the recommendation that the terms of the downtown organization be accepted. A decision is expected to be made at the next meeting of the club.

The articles of agreement are said to give control of the business affairs of the Hollywood club to the Los Angeles Athletic Club. By this consolidation the Los Angeles body becomes the largest organization of its kind in the world. This club now controls the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, the Rivera Country Club, the California Yacht Club and the Santa Monica Athletic Club. The Mercury institution has for some time been affiliated with the Uplifters Club.

Despite the fact that none of the officers of either club will make an official statement relative to the deal, it was admitted by them that one is pending.

According to the circular sent out to the members of the Hollywood club, they will be given the privileges of the downtown organization for $1.00 per month in addition to their regular dues.

The Hollywood Athletic Club was founded six years ago, and is situated at Santa Monica Boulevard and Hudson avenue. It has a membership of more than 1200. F. A. Hartwell, capitalist and publicist, is president of the organization. He succeeded George L. Eastman.

It is reported that Frank A. Garbutt, vice-president of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, has been largely responsible for the joining of the organizations. Mr. Garbutt could not be reached last night for a statement concerning the merger.

COST MAP RECOMMENDED

The Public Works Committee has recommended the approval of the assessment district map for the improvement of One Hundred and Eleventh street between Avalon Boulevard and Figueroa streets.

HOT WAVE DUE TO CONTINUE

Forecast Affords No Immediate Hope of Relief; Beaches Have Largest Crowds in Years

A little more of the same is the official promise of the Weather Bureau for today and tomorrow, with no immediate hope of relief from the scorching heat wave. The forecast, issued last evening, is "fair Monday and Tuesday with high fog near coast. No change in temperature."

The maximum temperature recorded yesterday was 82 deg., which sent record throngs scurrying to the beaches for a few hours' relief. Santa Monica estimated that fully 100,000 persons congregated in that vicinity while the crowd at Redondo, Hermosa and Manhattan was estimated at 50,000.

PEAK TEMPERATURE

The mercury attained its peak at 11:30 a.m., according to the bureau, after which it registered a decline of 2 deg. within a half-hour and gave promise of continuing its descent today.

With the heat seemingly unabated, the entire city awakened yesterday morning, grateful to be confronted with a day of rest, a day which it could devote to keeping cool. Accordingly, the parade commenced at the break of dawn. In limousines, flivvers and electric cars the pleasure-bent hordes swarmed to the seashore. The return journey in most cases did not get under way until the sun had disappeared in the west.

LIFE GUARDS BUSY

The large number in the surf, combined with a rip tide and heavy seas, kept life guards busy throughout the day. Several poor swimmers who ventured too far out were taken from the water and sent home. Others were warned of the danger of the waves. None of those overcome by the water were seriously injured, and no accidents were reported along the miles of ocean front.

All the bath-pavilions reported doing a capacity business, some of them presenting the spectacle of a long waiting line of eager patrons. It was not at all uncommon to find two customers "doubling up" in the use of one locker.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN ENDS LIFE IN SURF

After handing a note to a bystander on the beach, an unidentified man yesterday ended his life by drowning, according to a harbor police report. He plunged into the surf at Brighton Beach on Terminal Island. Three Los Angeles men, Harry Earl of 225 Bloom avenue, Bert Robinson of 722 East Twelfth street and C. C. Greatrake of 1444½ West Twentieth street, made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue him. Up to a late hour last night the body had not been recovered.

The note, which the bystander turned over to the authorities, directed that Melvin W. Stone of 1808

Weeping Bridegroom Hits Girl's Picture and Cuts All of Arteries in Arm

When Roberto Romero, 18 years of age, married Carmen Martinez, 17, the parents of the girl objected and took the bride home with them. Roberto protested but went to his home at 238 North Avenue 19 and consoled himself by looking at a large framed picture of his bride.

He looked at it for two weeks. He also wept a little but he heard nothing from his bride. Last night he took his customary place before the picture of the smiling Carmen and began to weep a little. He also began to think. This process developed the idea in Roberto's head that it was highly possible that Carmen did not want to return to him.

At the thought Roberto's anger began to grow. Suddenly he leaped from his chair, grabbed Carmen's picture and delivered a smashing blow to her pictured face. His fist went through the glass and wooden backing and his hand was almost severed from his arm. His yells brought neighbors who were unable to withdraw his hand from the wrecked picture without serious damage to his arm, so they called the police.

With Carmen's picture still inclosing his arm he was rushed to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where doctors worked more than an hour sawing off the frame. All of the tendons and arteries had been severed and wrist bones were broken. The doctors fear Roberto may lose his arm.

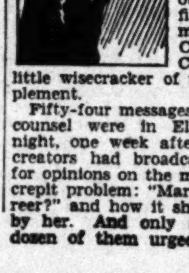
STREET LINES ORDERED

An ordinance adopted by the City Council has established setback lines in Heliotrope Drive between Oakwood avenue and Beverly Boulevard.

ELLA'S ADVISERS SAY "MARRY!"

Comic Strip Heroine Urged by Vast Majority of Fans to Wed Persistent Suitor and Be Happy Ever After; Letters Show Public's Interest in Series

Well, they don't wish Ella Cinders any hard luck, but they'd like to see her send her career on its way and then sentence herself to life, imprisonment in a bungalow built for two by becoming Jim Blunt's storm-and-strife. That is to say, not all of them, but most of them—forty-eight, to be statistical, out of the day's fifty-four admirers of Bill Counselman and Charlie Plumb's little wisecracker of the comic supplement.



JIM BLUNT WHO WANTS ELLA TO MARRY HIM.

Fifty-four messages of advice and counsel were in Ella's mail last night, one week after her waggish creators had broadcast an appeal for opinions on the moth-eaten, decrepit problem: "Marriage or a Career?" and how it should be solved by her. And only an even half-dozen of them urged her to cling tenaciously to her freedom by telling Mr. James Blunt, her current Romeo, to toddle along and sell his papers.

ELLA'S OUTVOTED

There was a "Mrs." a "sis" and a child with a broken leg among the advisers—yes, and even a poet who marshaled his sage opinions on metric feet. So poor Ella's in a terrible stew as to what to do. If she abides by the verdict of the majority she will step into the double harness with Jim, move into a little cottage on the ranch where they can keep a cow and have cow's milk for breakfast, and keep a calf and have calf's liver for dinner, and some day, perhaps, have a little hedge run-

GIRL KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Another Woman Victim of Traffic May Succumb; Man and Two Boys Injured

One girl was killed and one woman was probably fatally injured as a result of traffic accidents in Los Angeles and vicinity over the week-end.

Miss Betty Hewitt, 20 years of age, living at 618 West One Hundred and Ninth Place, died last night after an automobile collision at Eighth avenue and Sixty-seventh street, in which she received a fracture of the skull. Miss Hewitt was riding with Melville Mundell, an 18-year-old student of Manual Arts High School, living at 4042 1-2 Denker avenue, accompanied by her sister, Belle, and James Murray, 17-year-old high-school student of 5029 Gramercy Place, when their machine collided with one driven by Miss Margaret Hill of 2859 West Eighth street.

Miss Hewitt was thrown against the windshield, fracturing her skull. The other occupants of the car escaped with minor injuries. After a police investigation, no arrest was made last night.

While playing catch in the street in front of his home yesterday, Theodore Fay, 13, living at 2526 Dunsmuir avenue, stumbled into a parked car and fractured his skull. He was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Blanche Berlin of Hollywood was critically injured as the result of an automobile collision on Whittier Boulevard near Whittier yesterday. She was taken to the Murphy Memorial Hospital at Whittier suffering from possible fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries after the car in which she was riding with Mrs. T. L. Cross of Rivera, collided with a machine driven by Dr. C. C. Violett of Garden Grove. Mrs. Violett, riding with her husband, received minor cuts. The other occupants of the machines were not injured.

Orto Overstreet, 44 years of age, of 1423 Lyman street, victim of a freak hit-and-run traffic accident, was transferred from Georgia-street to the Hollywood Hospital suffering from possible internal injuries.

Overstreet, while waiting for a street car at Washington Boulevard and Oak street, was caught between two automobiles and knocked down. Both cars raced away. Another motorist, John Ray of 1163 East Fifty-seventh street, chased and caught what he believed to be the driver of one of the cars. The man denied his car struck anyone and was not held by police.

SCANTY-SUITED BATHERS JAILED

Santa Monica Police Arrest Twelve in Raids

All Men Who Appear With Too Much Tan Space

Victims of Old Beach City Law Pay $10 Each

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, June 23.—Because they tried to tan too much of their bodies on the Santa Monica Beach today, more than a dozen bathers, mostly from Los Angeles, were arrested. The local police "wagon" was kept busy hauling in the offenders against a city ordinance which decrees that a man may not let down the upper portion of his bathing suit on the public beach. As they were brought into the station they were released on $10 bail.

"That's an expensive day at the beach," one youth declared. "Next Sunday," he added, "I'll try to find a beach where they have outgrown the hoop-skirt era of prudishness." He was told by officers that at Venice and all the bathing beaches of the Santa Monica Bay district they are enforcing the bathing-suit ordinance. At Venice, however, no arrests were reported. Offenders were told to leave the beach by the police.

SILENT ON "COVERAGE"

Chief Webb of Santa Monica declared that his in structions are to enforce the ordinance. He admitted styles in bathing suits have changed radically during the last ten years, but he refused to predict how many square inches of body coverage the bathing ordinance will require ten years hence.

"Until the statutes change to keep up with the styles," he said, "we will continue to arrest any man who is stripped to the waist on the beach. As for the backless bathing suit for women the Santa Monica ordinance permits only a V-shaped opening in the back. Women's bathing suits which expose the entire back to the waistline are not permitted.

The chief denied that a sermon preached recently by Dr. McCartney, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, had anything to do with today's wholesale arrests.

NAKED PAGEANTRY

"We started enforcing this ordinance last summer," the chief declared. As the third wagonload of tanned and healthy looking prisoners came into the station, he was heard to mutter: "Comes again this pageantry of nakedness."

The first bathers arrested gave the names of M. Meros of 942 South Catalina street; T. E. Smith, 2109 Estrella avenue; H. J. Kisger of 6261 Country Club Drive, R. L. Durham of 1628½ North Cherokee street, Irving Bernstein of 1612½ Westmoreland street, Matt McGuckie of 5165 West Jefferson street, Joe Capitan, 1121 West Seventeenth street and Daryn Ferguson, 4661 North Hill, all of Los Angeles, and Fred Smith, 1325 Raymond street, Glendale. Most of the arrests were made in the vicinity of the Strand and Ocean Front, Ocean Park. Bernstein is a minor and was accompanied to jail by his mother.

BEWAIL MONEY

Disturbing the peace was the charge on which the bathers were booked, stripping the bathing suit to the waist being held offensive conduct in the ordinance. All the bathers were young and the loss of $10 seemed to affect them more deeply than any sense of shame and humiliation over being arrested and taken to a police station.

"That's a lot of dough to me," one youth commented solemnly as he left the station to go back to his girl and the flivver he had parked on the beach road. No women were arrested today, though several are said to have adjusted shoulder straps hurriedly when the police began to haul in the men.

New Curb Aimed at Auctioneers

The Police Commission has recommended to the City Council an amendment to the auctioneers' ordinance which will require them to keep a record of all second-hand merchandise bought or sold, with the names and addresses of persons from whom objects are purchased. This was referred to the Police and Fire Committee.

A N OLD woman sits on the porch of a weather-beaten adobe house at Taos. She makes a precarious living posing for artists and photographers. She is the daughter-in-law of Kit Carson.

She is the widow of the son who was born to Kit and the beautiful and beloved Josefa.

THE CHARMING ROMANCE

This was one of the most charming romances of border history.

Kit—with his flowing auburn locks, was a gay boy with women. Josefa was the undisputed Spanish belle of Santa Fe.

She was warned against him—but she followed the dashing young scout down to Taos. And when she died, the broken hearted Kit lived only a month.

They are buried side by side in the cemetery at Taos.

TAME WILDNESS

In one thing I have had a blow of disappointment.

You naturally would have a right to expect a village where the penitentes lash themselves with ropes of cactus thorns and walk on sharp spikes, to live up to the part.

But Chimayo is a tame town. It looks like an adobe town inhabited by Babbitts. The penitentes themselves are fat, dumb-looking Mexicans. They look as though a flock of volcanoes would fail to excite them to the point of cactus whips.

HOW COME?

If all the Chimayo blankets I have seen on sale in Hollywood are genuine, the inhabitants of the place—men, women and children—must have started working at the beginning of the Christian era and kept at it, twenty hours a day even since. It is only a tiny village of a little sunlit valley.

PELTS FOR COFFINS

Taos once was the most important trading post between Denver and California.

There still are old trading stores here where the Indians bring in their pelts to trade.

They want—among other things—mechanical toys and coffins.

One old buck came in last year with a bundle of coyote skins which he traded for an electric toy train.

This summer he came in with more coyote skins and wanted another toy train. He said he ran the other one until it wore out.

PREHISTORIC

So much prehistoric stuff has been found in New Mexico that collectors have turned to other things.

The museums are seeking post-Spanish pottery rather than the pottery of the lost prehistoric tribes.

The prehistoric relics are absolutely endless. In the forgotten town of Puye, near Taos, the people lived in caves with stone houses in front. In one mountain more than 1000 of these cave dwellings have been found.

HIGHBROW

These art-colony towns are so high brow they suffocate me. The night clerk of the hotel is just now talking to a late sitter. He is explaining the psychological value of colors. He says that certain greens look one way on the palette; but "lack the serene logical quality" of land-

Long Beach Man Accused of Killing Wife Shot Down by Police

KELLER TAKEN IN OWN HOME

Detectives Awaiting Return Forced to Use Guns

Fugitive in Hospital With Other Victims of Fray

Wounds Serious but May Not Prove Fatal

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 23. — The intensive man hunt launched here yesterday following the slaying of Mrs. John Keller and the wounding of a friend, Eddie Fink, and Policeman J. M. Bullard, was brought to a dramatic close early this morning when two officers, lying in wait, shot down John Keller, the asserted killer, as he entered his dead wife's home at 1617 Santon Place. Three shots were fired into the body, one penetrating the chest, another the abdomen and the third the right foot. The wounds were reported serious, though not necessarily fatal.

Anticipating the probability that Keller would return to the scene of the shooting in search of a change of clothing preparatory to fleeing the city, Police Officers R. H. Holt and J. F. Claussen were detailed to take possession of the dwelling and await the arrival of the accused man. At 1:40 a.m. Keller threw up a window and climbed into the house.

GIVEN ONE CHANCE

Because the man was known to be armed with two automatics of his own and a heavy caliber police revolver he had taken from the unconscious Bullard after yesterday's affray, Holt and Claussen had instructions to "take no chances." Therefore, they gave Keller but one opportunity to surrender. As he stepped over the window sill the policemen switched on the lights and covered him with their guns, at the same time shouting a command to Keller to put up his hands.

Instead of complying, however, Keller plunged both hands into his pockets after his own weapons. As he did so, Holt and Claussen opened fire and dropped him before he could draw one of the guns. Then they disarmed him and removed him to Seaside Hospital, where Fink and Bullard, his asserted victims, are fighting for their lives.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Brayton announced that he will present the entire case before the grand jury immediately and if Keller lives, will ask one indictment charging first-degree murder and several counts of assult with intent to kill.

While the body of Mrs. Keller lies at the Clinkenbeard funeral parlors, surgeons at the hospital reported today that Bullard will recover and that Fink has an even chance.

PAST INVESTIGATED

Investigation of Keller's past has disclosed, according to police, that he is a brother-in-law of J. Dawes, a police detective of Chicago, and that he was married in Murray, a suburb of Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1916. At that time he was known as Joe Kendall, and his wife lived with her parents in Murray, where they are widely known.

The information on the life of Kendall was disclosed by parents of the dead woman in a telegram to police here. It has also been revealed that Keller is 55 years of age, and his wife 28. She is the mother of six children, five of whom are being cared for by the Social Welfare Bureau here, and the sixth is living with Mrs. Keller's parents in the former Utah home.

Suspicion that Keller is an escaped convict is being investigated, police announced.

The combination of liquor and desperation over his wife's refusal to become reconciled to him today are blamed by the police for yesterday's fusillade of bullets. Policeman Bullard rushed to the Stanton Place address in response to a call from neighbors, who stated Mrs. Keller had reported her husband had threatened to shoot her. The officer was accompanied by two newspaper men. As he stepped onto the porch he received a bullet in the stomach. As he lunged forward the other bullets imbedded themselves in his leg. The reporters summoned help and when reinforcements arrived they found Mrs. Keller and Fink also wounded. Keller had fled. His wife died shortly after arrival at the hospital.

Keller's captors, Holt and Claussen, late today were cited in the daily police bulletin for extraordinary heroism.

WHOLE STATE BAKES; HIGH MARKS IN VALLEYS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23. (AP)—California's summer sun continued today to bake the State for the fifth day of an almost unprecedented heat wave. The heat was tempered slightly in the San Francisco bay region, where a maximum of 86 deg. was recorded. But new high records were established elsewhere, it being the hottest day of the year in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, with the mercury far overtopping the 100 mark.

Ranchers, orchardists and vineyardists welcomed the heat. Fruit and grain ripened fast and grapes have escaped the menace of mildew, which was made serious by recent damp weather, and other crops generally were declared to be thriving. Only State and Federal foresters and owners of timberlands were made apprehensive by the hot spell. The heat is making brush and timber powder dry and potential flaring fuel if ignited by campfires or careless smokers.

Sacramento reached a new hot weather mark for the year when the United States Weather Bureau reported 105 degrees. At Fresno a maximum of 106 was reached and Needles reported 116 degrees. Eureka was cool at 64. Other high marks were: Oakland 95; Stockton 104; Napa 103; Santa Rosa 100; San Jose 101; San Diego 70; Hetch Hetchy 92; Red Bluff 106.

TRAFFIC CRASH FATAL TO GIRL

Robert Romero, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Romero, suffered a possible fracture of the skull when he was struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of his parents' home at 430 North Ancon street, San Pedro. He was taken to San Pedro General Hospital for examination. The driver of the car, Henry Tousseau of 119 North Palos Verdes street, San Pedro, was not held by police.

Four were hurt at Eighteenth and Main streets when two cars collided. Manuel Leyis, 1708 East Jefferson street, driver of one of the cars, was the most seriously injured. In the car with him were Mrs. Petra Velasque and G. Rulis. Both were knocked unconscious. The driver of the other car was A. F. McHugh, 850 South Vermont. He was cut on the head and had several body bruises.

Motor Freight Services Given Utility Permits

Four new motor freight services have been approved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation and application of a fifth will be passed on by the board later.

The new services include the Robert V. Hardie for a freight line between Los Angeles, Lone Pine and Bishop, the Citizen's Truck Company, for operation of forty-three trucks and twelve trailers between Los Angeles and the harbor; the Compton Milk Transportation Company, for a service between Compton, Hynes, Artesia and Los Angeles, and Atlas Transfer, for a freight stage line between Los Angeles and the harbor.

The Apache Motor Express Company, which seeks to operate a motor-truck service between Los Angeles and Yuma, Ariz., has been given time to iron out internal difficulties before action is taken on its application.

FT. WORTH HERO FLYER ARRIVES

Maurice Morrison were to have started yesterday has been postponed until 7 p.m. today, it was announced.

The delay, it is explained, is to permit additional test flights in refueling contacts and final adjustments in the apparatus with which gasoline, oil and food are to be transferred during the flight.

The local flyers who are to assail the 172-hour record recently established by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly at Fort Worth, Tex., were busy yesterday in grooming their Cessna monoplane for its test and making a final check for its 110-horsepower Warner motor.

They went aloft for a test flight yesterday morning, and planned to make several practice contact flights last night. The refueling plane is to be piloted by Earl Gordon and Roy Minor, veteran flyers.

SHOENHAIR AND HAWKS PREPARE FOR FLIGHTS

A bump on the nose, received yesterday by Lieut. Lee Shoenhair, transcontinental flyer, during a forced landing at Dubois, Pa., will not prevent the pilot from again trying to lower the coast-to-coast record, he declared in dispatches received here last night.

The fuselage and landing gear of Lieut. Shoenhair's monoplane were damaged when he was forced down on an emergency field during a flight from Cleveland to New York, and it will be three or four days before he can take off.

The aviator said he will fly from New York to Los Angeles and then again nose his ship toward Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in a second attempt to wrest the nonstop record from Capt. Frank Hawks.

ATTEMPT FAILS

Lieut. Shoenhair took off from the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport early last Saturday morning and was forced down at Cleveland when fog brought the "ceiling" down too low for flying.

Yesterday's minor crack-up did not injure Shoenhair other than shake him up and give him, in his words, "a bump on the head."

Capt. Hawks was scheduled to take off at 1 a.m. from Metropolitan today for New York. He expects to reach Parks Field, St. Louis, at 10 a.m. and hopes to touch his wheels on Roosevelt Field tonight.

NEW TRIAL TOMORROW

He will have a radio receiving set installed in his new plane to receive weather reports, will take on 600 gallons of gas and pull the throttle open, heading for Los Angeles tomorrow.

If everything goes right, Capt. Hawks said, he will be back here not later than 6 p.m. next Wednesday. He will stay just long enough at Metropolitan Airport to load up with 500 gallons more of gas and turn his ship's 400-horsepower Wasp motor again toward New York in an attempt to lower his own west-east record of 18h. 21m. and 59s.

The record this way is 24h. and 51m. set by the late Harry Tucker, Santa Monica sportsman, and Capt. C. D. Collyer, but Capt. Hawks hopes to hang a new one up on his New York-Los Angeles hop.

FOR ROUND-TRIP MARK

The round trip is expected by Capt. Hawks to take but thirty-six hours. He plans to make it from east to west in eighteen hours and the return trip in sixteen hours. His plane is faster than Shoenhair's and he can hop it up to 187 miles an hour and expects to average 170 miles an hour over the two hops of 2646 miles each.

On his record flight Capt. Hawks averaged 170 miles an hour and feels certain that the new speed cowling with which his ship is equipped and further streamlining will enable him to tumble all records.

BOULEVARD STOPS WANTED

A petition from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, asking that boulevard stops be installed at all intersections on Santa Monica Boulevard between Santa Monica and Beverly Hills has been received by the City Council and referred to the Board of Police Commissioners and the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL LEADER EXPIRES

Dr. Henry Brodbeck Pioneer In Southland Work

Final Rites Wednesday For Los Angeles Dentist

Layman First M. E. Church Highly Honored

Dr. Henry W. Brodbeck, 74 years of age, for fifty years a pioneer in Pacific Coast Sunday-school church and educational work, passed from life yesterday of a heart disease at his home, 1751 Buckingham Road.

DR. HENRY BRODBECK

Until two weeks ago, when he was stricken with influenza, which is believed to have been responsible for the heart disorder, Dr. Brodbeck continued to practice dentistry at his offices in the Van Nuys Building.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., from the auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, at Eighth and Hope streets. His body will lie in state for two hours preceding the services, it was announced by Dr. Elmer E. Helms, pastor of the local church, who will officiate.

LONG ACTIVE CAREER

At the time of his death Dr. Brodbeck was superintendent emeritus of the First Methodist Sunday School, and had been its active leader for thirty-four years until two years ago. From 1893 to 1895 Dr. Brodbeck had acted as president of the Southern California State Sunday School Association.

Besides his work in organizing the youth of the State in compact religious groups, Dr. Brodbeck took an active part in the Young Men's Christian Association and served as a member of the board of trustees of the University of Southern California for several years.

Shortly after his arrival here from Cincinnati Dr. Brodbeck helped organize the Newman Church, which since has emerged as the Church of All Nations.

GIVEN HIGH HONORS

At his own expense he bought the building of the old Baptist Church at the corner of Sixth street and Broadway, had it cut in two and moved to a site on Towne avenue to house the congregation of the then newly-organized Newman Church.

Following his affiliation with the Methodist Church here Dr. Brodbeck was accorded the highest honor that can be attained by a layman of the church when he was sent as a delegate several times to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a conference which is conducted every four years and from which emanate the laws and policies of the church.

Dr. Brodbeck was born in Lawrenceburg, Ind. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Zrodbeck, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Noerenburg.

VENICE BOULEVARD DIAGRAM COMPLETED

The Assessment Bureau today will file with the City Council the assessment district diagram for the opening and widening of Venice Boulevard between Sixth avenue and Highland avenue. The assessment for the project is estimated to cost $403,000 for the payment of land condemned. The opening and widening of Venice Boulevard are being carried out in three sections, eventually affording a broad thoroughfare from Alameda street to Overland avenue in Venice.

LINES CREATED BY ORDER

The City Council has passed an ordinance creating setback lines in Alexandria avenue between Fountain avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard.

scape when it gets on to canvas. I would like to explain what he says about the use of Indian reds; but I can't spell the words.

SUPERSTITION OR WHAT?

The Indians have had a queer effect on some of these artists. They more than half believe what you call either religion or superstition.

There is something peculiarly appealing about it. There is so much of it that seems like an echo of Nature herself.

Even the hard-boiled archeologists who dig into the ruins, look grave and a little embarrassed when they speak of the strange miracles of the Navajo medicine men.

"There are many things that are hard to understand," they say.

The ideas of Deesh-o-Hay, the Apache scout who told me of the Indian control of material things by mental force, do not sound so foolish to these scientists as they did to some of my scornful friends in Los Angeles.

EX-SLAVE IN COURT ON ALIMONY CHARGE

Edward Cruse, 86-year-old negro, who purported to be the only living ex-slave in Southern California, was taken into Superior Judge Rosenkranz's court on complaint of his wife, Cora Cruse, who complained that he owed her $1250 alimony. Divorced four years ago, he was ordered to pay $5 a week for the support of his three children. Cruse declared he paid the money—to the children. His wife admitted that he had given them "small change" from time to time, and had admonished them to spend it before their mother could get any. Judge Rosenkranz ordered the $5 a week alimony order suspended, and told the aged man to pay his wife $10 a month.

GAS IN THE INDUSTRIES

2,000,000 cubic feet a day

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC Shops cover more than 50 acres, and are completely equipped to repair and rebuild locomotives. Nearly 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day is used in carrying on many of the processes involved in this work.

PICTURE shows locomotive being fired by gas to get up steam.

II.

Gas helps to run a Railroad

NATURAL GAS has displaced oil, coal, wood and gasoline as fuel for a great variety of purposes at the Southern Pacific Railroad Shops in Los Angeles.

What Gas Does
These processes include forging, brazing, getting up steam in locomotives, rivet heating, mold drying, sand drying, soft metal melting, brass melting, paint removal, tire setting and fuel for power plant boilers.

Better Results
In every case where gas has been applied in the Southern Pacific Shops results have been better, spoilage has been cut down, and costs lessened.

The Perfect Fuel
Gas is the perfect industrial fuel. It is always ready, when and where it's wanted; it gives quick, uniform, controlled heat; and permits clean, convenient working conditions.

60,000 Uses
The things gas does in the Southern Pacific Railroad Shops are only a few of its applications to industrial processes. There are over 60,000 different ways gas is being used in industry, the American Gas Association reports.

Gas Can Solve Your Fuel Problem
If you use heat in your business, let our Industrial Engineer show you how "you can do it better with gas." Call our Commercial Engineering Department—FAber 0141.

Slayer of Cooley Confession

May Finish Case of Defense

Proceedings Will Trial Near End

… night garage … for Victor A. Cooley, "as-… man whom he is … killing, is scheduled … on the witness stand today … Hardy's court, where he … on a charge of murder. … it was announced yes-… probably will be the con-… for the defense and … his examination and … will consume the … part of the day.

… charges Howard en-… apartment where he and … the night of April 16, … beat Cooley with a ham-… Cooley died April 20 without … consciousness, and the … case is based principally on … said to have been ob-… by District Attorney's opera-… a few days after Cooley's …

… their opening statement De-… Attorneys Josiah Coombs and … indicated How-… will repudiate the confession on the ground it was obtained under duress and at a time when Howard believed Mrs. Pearl Cooley, widow of the slain man, was under suspicion.

The attorneys told the jury they [illegible] to prove by Howard's testimony that he was a friend of both Cooley and the latter's wife and that he made the confession to save Mrs Cooley, whom he was led to believe was in danger.

Another principal element of the defense hinges on the testimony of M. R. Gehrke and his wife, who said they heard a woman's scream in the vicinity of the apartment-house the night of the attack on Cooley. This testimony is designed to offset the State's contention that Howard alone, entered the apartment and attacked Cooley.

The case probably will go to the jury tomorrow.

INAUGURAL DINNER FOR PORTER TO DRAW CROWD

JOHN C. PORTER

Several thousand persons are expected to attend an informal inaugural dinner to be given in Shrine Auditorium banquet room next Monday night with John C. Porter, Mayor-elect, as guest of honor, it was announced yesterday by the Porter inaugural committee. Members of the committee include John A. Quinn, Albert E. Sherman, Mearl Allen and W. J. Mosher.

The dinner, which will be on the day the new administration takes office, will have as its chief purpose, it was stated, to brng together a large representation of all classes of citizens in sympathy with the announced program of the Mayor-elect. The dinner will be, in a sense, invitational, but all citizens interested in good city government will be welcome. These are invited to send applications for tickets to inaugural committee headquarters, 519 Merritt Building, phone, VAndyke 5108, or 342 South Flower street, phone MUtual 8832.

The dinner will be a democratic affair, it is said, by the committee members. Addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers and an entertainment program will be given.

HIGH LANDS FRAUD CASE TO BE HEARD

Samuel Mooes Will Face Federal Judge Today on Imperial Area Deals

While Federal agents were looking for Samuel Mooes, president of the Deming Land Company, a promoting company of Los Angeles, arrangements were made for his appearance today in United States District Judge James's court. He is scheduled to appear for arraignment and entry of plea on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Mooes first was accused in a complaint and later in an indictment of misuse of the mails in connection with the sale of mountain tops for agricultural purposes. The land, located partly in Imperial Valley, is said to be too high for irrigation from the Boulder Dam, as was said to have been asserted by the defendant. The operations of Mooes and his associates, is said to have involved investments of about $100,000.

SAN DIEGO TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY FETE

Invitations to the dedication of a historic museum on Presidio Hill in San Diego on July 16, have been received by the County Board of Supervisors. The occasion is the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the city of San Diego in 1769. The museum is located in Presidio Hill Park, on the site of the original presidio building established by the Spanish conquistadores at the time the Mission San Diego was founded by the Franciscan fathers.

M' LADY, TH' WAGON WAITS, SAYS COURT

Jocelyn Lee

Jocelyn Lee, Wampas baby star, will get a free ride in a police patrol wagon unless she appears in Traffic Court before 5 p.m. tomorrow, Municipal Judge Swain has asserted.

The film actress is accused of failing to make a boulevard stop at Robertson and Santa Monica boulevards on the 11th inst. When she failed to appear in court Judge Swain issued a warrant for her arrest, but ordered it held up for a week to give Miss Lee an opportunity to appear in court.

"I don't mind waiting a week," Judge Swain declared, "but that's long enough. If she doesn't appear by the time court closes Tuesday she may receive a night visit from police warrant officers and get a free ride to a police station."

Miss Lee in signing the traffic tag issued to her by Police Officer M. J. Clark gave her address as 253 La Pere Drive, Beverly Hills.

TAX EXPERT WILL BE IN CITY WEEK

Blight to be Available for Consultations on Franchise Assessments

Reynold E. Blight, State franchise tax commissioner, will be in Los Angeles all this week and is available to taxpayers who desire to consult him regarding the franchise tax.

"The noteworthy MacAllen decision handed down by the United States Supreme Court this month which held that income from tax-exempt securities could not be included in the net income measuring the franchise tax payable to the State, is quite disconcerting," he said yesterday. "The decision was rendered in an action brought under the Massachusetts franchise tax law. If the principle should be applied to the California act it will cost the State between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 in revenue.

"A petition for a rehearing has been presented to the Supreme Court and the States of New York, California, Oregon and Wisconsin are submitting briefs. Test cases will also be brought under our California act with the hope that the language of the present law may amply demonstrate the constitutionality of its purpose and method. Although the banks would profit largely by the reaffirmation of the Supreme Court decision, they are earnestly supporting the present franchise tax act, and in New York and Massachusetts have agreed voluntarily to pay their franchise tax without protest, including in the return all income from tax-exempt securities. It is expected that California banks will follow their lead."

COURT FINDS COMMUNIST PAIR GUILTY

Robboy and Kiosz Fined for Handbill Distributing and Give Notice of Appeal

After having the case under advisement for several weeks, Municipal Judge Northrup has handed down a decision finding Joseph Robboy, 3625½ Brooklyn avenue, and Georg Kiosz, 1302 West Pico Boulevard, both self-asserted Communists, guilty of violating the city handbill ordinance by passing out radical literature. He fined them $15 each.

At the same time he found Vartin Galalin, 1023 Wall street, and George A. Abajian, 342 East Fourth street, not guilty of the same offense. In this case, Judge Northrup held, Galalin and Abajian were distributing handbills tending to be of an educational nature.

The dodgers passed out by Robboy and Kiosz advertised a "May day" Communist picnic and urged a demonstration "for the defense of the soviet union," evidence produced at the trial showed. The two men gave oral notice of appeal from the court's decision, Judge Northrup setting their appeal bond at $25 each, which was furnished.

FIRE ENGINEER NAMED

E. M. Straus was yesterday appointed fire protection engineer for the Union Pacific system, according to an announcement made by H. C. Mann, chief engineer of the Union Pacific. Straus came to the Union Pacific in 1917 commencing his career as draftsman and in 1920 was placed in charge of fire insurance covering property of the Union Pacific.

Bank Robbery Trial Today

Douglas R. Barlow, 30 years of age, is scheduled to go to trial today before Superior Judge Doran charged with the robbery of the Sixty-eighth street and Western avenue branch of the Bank of Italy more than a year ago.

The defendant was arrested a month ago after a long search by police and private detectives following identification of his picture by H. S. Davison, manager of the bank, as the man who committed the robbery.

George Damon is Barlow's attorney.

NATIVE SON TOOTHFUL ONE

Edward Enfiajian has more teeth than he has months to his life, being 15 months of age and having sixteen dental projections. He is a Native Son and a 100 per cent American on one side, the descendant of a Forty-niner, while his ancestry is a mixture of Armenian, English, Irish, Scotch and French. Edward's father, A. M. Enfiajian, 601 South Hobart Boulevard, when 9 years of age was smuggled out of Armenia by his mother, who was a teacher in the American mission at Harput. The child was placed in the care of a caravan of Persian merchants to save him from a massacre in which many Armenians were slain.

His Forty-niner grandfather on his mother's side crossed the plains with Kit Carson in a covered wagon train. Edward did better than that by coming to California at the very beginning of his life.

LAND ACQUISITION ORDERED

The City Council has adopted a report of the Finance Committee directing that the City Attorney proceed to acquire a twenty-five foot strip of land along the northeasterly side of Cypress avenue between Cazador street and Verdugo Road, and that $7077 be drawn from the permanent improvement fund to cover the cost of the acquisition.

Chamber Wins Ad Club Award

A blue ribbon significant of the first award, was presented to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce "for the most effective campaign of community advertising" in a recent exhibit held at Barker Brothers' auditorium in connection with the advertising achievement week conducted by the Los Angeles Advertising Club.

The second prize was awarded to the All Year Club, the awards being made by the judges on the effectiveness of the campaign, measured by results obtained from money expended.

Today's Bible Text

My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth. 1 John iii:18.

NOT ALWAYS

Making a man feel at home doesn't mean that he is having a lovely time.

KICKLESS

A kickless alcohol has been invented. Now if some one will invent a kickless public, the editor will be much obliged.

IN REVERSE

A motion-picture company is reported to have made $7,254,570 net profits the past six months. Once money talked; now the talkie makes money.

GERMAN PROHIBITION

A German judge sentenced two young burglars to six months in prison and five years' total abstinence from the movies.

IN SHOES OF BLUE

Putting the men into blue shoes is not the easiest thing in the world, but the dealers are making progress. They have gained the attention of Hollywood Boulevard.

LONG-FELT WANT

One of the new electrical devices not only gives a coat of artificial tan, but pants and vest of the same colorful material. It's a fine thing to get your sunburn without pang or pain.

OPERA AND OATS

Marian Talley, the opera singer, is now on her thousand-acre farm near Levant, Kan. Her nearest neighbor is nearly two miles away, so that there is small chance for community criticism when Marian goes forth to warble to her porkers.

WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Trotsky wants to return to this country and resume the editorial work on the New York Socialist publication he left back in 1913. But there isn't a chance. The only way he could get into this country would be by swimming and he is not good enough for the long stretch.

JUSTICE IN ACTION

Further evidence of the way they do things in England. It is mentioned that there were but eighteen murders in the metropolitan district of London last year. Seven of the murderers committed suicide either before or after arrest and the other eleven were all duly apprehended and convicted in court. That makes a score of 100 per cent. It is a ghastly joke to compare the record of any large American city with this showing. Justice is mighty efficient in England.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

One of the heads of a great life insurance corporation, who is also a physician, asserts that health must become a national habit and a public business. People have as much right to it as they have to their job or their church. Science and sanitation have extended the expectancy of human life almost a dozen years beyond what it was a couple of generations back. It is now approaching the sixtieth year, which means that miracles have been accomplished in checking infant mortality. Much health machinery is in motion in the world.

MASSED FARMING

Henry Ford says that the bulk of the country's raw materials should come from the farm rather than the mine. The motor magnate would put the agriculturists into mass production without waste or duplication. Under his dispensation a section of land would be a unit of production and the whole country would be mapped and scheduled so that the sales force would know where every onion reared its head. Big business and chain-store methods would be introduced into the farming game and the farmer who raises timothy and turnips this year may be harvesting alfalfa and artichokes the next. The crop commission would decide. This would be putting the ranch industry ahead of General Motors and the steel trust in the domain of big business. But it would take what there is of romance, initiative and adventure out of the land game.

AIRCRAFT IN DEFENSE

While commercial development of aircraft is being undertaken for its own sake, at what is now a tremendous rate after a rather slow start, the bearing of this development on national defense should not be overlooked. It provides, at small cost to national taxpayers, the best sort of assurance that both planes and trained pilots, in any necessary quantities, will be available for use in the event of war. For trained pilots a large number of commercial planes in service are desirable; for the quick production in time of need of military airplanes, a large number of airplane factories in running order are required. The commercial development program, with air mail as its nucleus, makes sure of both requirements.

Both army and navy, of course, should have planes and trained flyers also, but both obviously can be less in number than if the commercial program did not exist.

There are few modern devices that become obsolete so quickly as airplanes. This was demonstrated conclusively at the air meet with which Mines Field was opened, when some very splendid army airplanes were outperformed and outmaneuvered by navy planes, because the latter were newer models. There was no essential difference in the skill of the pilots; it was all in the machines. Toward the close of the meet some planes still newer in construction arrived at the field and outflew the planes of the Navy, for precisely the same reason.

Such rapid obsolescence does not matter so much for commercial purposes; but for military purposes it is of supreme importance to have the best as well as the most airships. A few miles in speed, slightly better agility, slightly greater stability make a tremendous difference from a military point of view.

From time to time alarmists clamor for the immediate construction by the government of thousands of airplanes, declared necessary to protect the country from invasion and to put our air force on a level of numerical equality with those of other countries. No invasion is threatened, to be sure; there is not even a serious cloud in the sky; but it is contended that the planes would be ready when and if required. What a serious waste of money would have been occasioned had the agitation of a few years ago been heeded is now apparent. If the great number of airplanes demanded then had been built, not one would be worth anything today for combat purposes.

The moderate building program that was adopted, and spread over a period of five years, is proving immensely better as well as cheaper, since it is continually adding planes that are, at least when delivered, up to date, and aiding in the development of new types and new engines. As against a program of standardization and mass production, which would have been required for the other scheme, this program of mingled construction and experimentation supplies all legitimate needs at less expense and is superior from a standpoint of national safety.

So powerful is the United States becoming in the air, through commercial aircraft development, that all thought of attack upon it by that means must be given up, if it was ever seriously entertained anywhere.

J. DABNEY DAY

It falls to the lot of few men to build and hold for themselves a place in the affectionate regard of a fast-growing community as firm and as sure as that held by J. Dabney Day, president of the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank, who died suddenly Saturday afternoon; a position all the more unusual because Mr. Day had been a resident of Los Angeles for less than ten years.

The antithesis of the old-fashioned banker, he was affable, kindly, approachable, human; always ready to advise, and if necessary to help. His keen interest in life, great executive ability and complete understanding of his fellow-man almost at once marked him for a distinguished career; a career which always tended toward new heights.

This was particularly the case after he came to the Coast in 1920. Within three years he became the executive head of a great banking institution and with wide recognition throughout the financial world as a man of accurate vision and practical application.

Outside of a busy and constructive life in the marts of big business J. Dabney Day found time to give literal exemplification to his firm conviction that a business man and a banker may be a militant Christian and make such a merger notably successful. He brought into his everyday affairs a constant application of the Golden Rule. He believed and acted upon the precepts laid down by the Nazarene and he proved in every concern of life that business and religion are compatible.

His interest in and time given to church activities was great, but unostentatious, while his philanthropies were many and always promoted with the sincere desire to help others over some of the rough spots along the road.

It is nothing less than the truth to say that in the passing of this outstanding Christian gentleman the Southwest is deprived of one of its ablest citizens; a man whose delight was to make clear the way, and to bring within the ken of those he contacted something of his own radiant outlook; his own belief that because God is in His heaven all must be right with the world.

J. Dabney Day stepped behind the curtain in the full flower of his vigorous usefulness sure that what is to come is better than that which has been. He leaves behind a record of accomplishment and unselfish outgiving that will find its reflection in the lives and hearts of his fellow-citizens for many years to come.

KNOCKING GIN

There is a strong movement on foot among society women in some of the eastern cities to cut out the cocktails and serve no booze of any kind at their dinners. If they can make gin unfashionable a lot of folks would drop it from their list. They don't think much of it, anyhow.

BREAKFAST CLUB

Sacrifice and suffering for the public weal are looked on as the loftiest form of patriotism—so some Los Angeles genius got the idea of organizing a breakfast club. It is a classy organization, which costs its members a good deal of money, not to mention sleep. And because it was something new and different—as to hours, at least—the idea is spreading like forest fire and other breakfast clubs are being organized far and wide.

The idea of breakfast clubs is to promote fellowship, exuberance, hospitality and good will between communities. But in connection with the luncheon clubs, they also are promoting the growth of a leisure class. For after one gets through with a breakfast club, which runs an hour overtime, it is about time to go to his luncheon club, and after that what is left of the day?

The Low-Down on Ourself

We know it's confessing a mean disposition, but we wouldn't belong to a breakfast club for pay. To confess a still meaner disposition, the same is true of luncheon clubs. While we're at it, we might as well confess that we don't belong to any club, lodge or community organization. If everyone were like us progress would cease and business stagnate. So we hope all you breakfast clubbers will feel this is just an added compliment.

But to visit a breakfast club for the first time is an experience. In spite of the early hours at which most of the members have had to leave the downy they are wide awake. The spirit of buoyant good fellowship is rampant. The programs are extremely good—so good that many thousands listen in on the radio. At the Long Beach Breakfast Club the other day we sat on the terrace of the Pacific Coast Club, with the sun-spangled sea below, and listened to spontaneous wit from the chairman and some beautiful singing (besides which the clubbers also sang) and thought we'd never seen a livelier crowd in a lovelier setting. But we also thought, of every clubman there, "You're a better man than I am, Raisa Din."

In Closing—

May we take this occasion to heartily thank those breakfast clubs which have not invited us? We have greatly enjoyed the meetings of those which we have attended. We would not have missed the pleasure for anything. But we are no hog for early engagements. We thank you.

The New Currency

The new currency which will go into circulation July 10 is on display in local bank windows, so that all of us may have a chance to see it. The $1 silver certificates are the bills for which there is greatest need, but $2 greenbacks, $5 Federal Reserve notes, $10 Federal Reserve notes and $10 national bank notes also will be put into circulation as speedily as practicable, while $20, $50, $100, $500, $1000, $5000 and $10,000 notes are to be issued, though some of us won't get to see them.

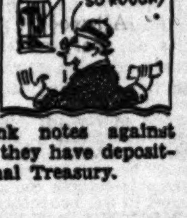
OH! PRETTY! PRETTY!

Physically, all the new currency will be the same size, about one-half inch narrower and one-half inch shorter than the currency now in use. The words, "One," "Two," "Ten," etc., are printed in large letters on the right-hand side, an innovation which may make even $2 bills popular. At present nobody likes to have $2 bills. They are circulated so little that we forget about them and are likely to hand them out for "ones."

What Do You Know About Money?

The banks are looking forward to a good deal of annoyance. At first there won't be nearly enough of the new currency to go around, yet customers will be wanting all small currency or all large currency so as not to have two sizes. But installment collectors will continue to accept either kind.

The change reminds us that most of us know very little about the money we handle every day. There are five different kinds of currency in general use now—silver certificates, greenbacks, national bank notes, gold certificates and Federal Reserve bank notes. Legally, not one of them can be considered "coin of the realm," though all currently are accepted as such. Most of us have never noticed the difference between a silver certificate, which calls for redemption in silver when presented at the national Treasury, and greenbacks, which do not specify whether they are redeemable in gold, silver or paper. There are differences as important between gold certificates, national bank notes and Federal Reserve notes. Three Los Angeles banks, we are informed, have the right to issue national bank notes against government bonds they have deposited with the national Treasury.



WELL?
OH, YOU ARE SO ROUGH!

Our Ignorance

We knew the country was in need of smaller bills. But we thought it was of smaller "gas" bills.

DANGEROUS MEDDLING

The proposal of Senator Glass to tax stock-exchange speculation out of existence has, according to reports from Washington, been taken up seriously by some of the insurgent Senators, particularly Senator Brookhart, and there is talk of including it in (of all places) the tariff bill. It seems clear that any such measure would be dangerous, interfering seriously with the financing of industry and with legitimate business.

The stock speculator has his faults, but he also has his uses. His proper function in the stock market is to act as a stabilizer. His operations prevent prices from going too high and too low—stop excessive swings, keep the spread between value and price from becoming too great. He is by no means a mere parasite but sometimes a valuable intermediary in the process of getting stocks from those who really wish to sell them to those who really wish to buy them for investment purposes.

To eliminate him would be to raise the cost of obtaining necessary capital for the expansion of industry, on which prosperity depends, by much more than the amount of his winnings, in frequent instances. The objection to speculative transactions arises when their volume becomes out of proportion to investment transactions. This has been the case in the past year. It is admittedly a dangerous tendency, but not so dangerous as attempting to cure it with ill-conceived legislation. Regulation of the stock market should be done, if at all, only by those who know something about it. The ignorance of Congress, and particularly of Senator Brookhart, on the subject is dense.

Warning the public against over-speculation is one thing; attempting to kill off speculation is another.

OREGON'S FOREST LAW

In view of the rapid depletion of our available timber land and the apparent general indifference of our State and national legislators to proposals for removing the menace of complete denudation it is refreshing to note that one State has adopted legislation looking to reforestation on a large scale. That State is Oregon, which has a law under which it is believed that more young trees will be planted on cut-over areas than would be the case under any other plan short of compulsory reforestation, which, of course, would be rather difficult to enforce.

This law calls for the immediate classification of all forest lands in the State by the Board of Forestry. Lands which are more suitable for timber production than for any other purpose will be designated as reforestation areas. On such lands the regular real estate tax will be abolished, and instead their owners will pay a 5-cent fee per acre annually and a 12½-cent yield tax. There is also a provision under which new timber land may be brought under the forest law tax.

But in order to take advantage of the lower taxes the owners of forest land must contract to use it for growing trees for a definite period sufficient in length to allow the trees to grow to maturity. For removing any timber crop permits must be procured from the Board of Forestry.

If such States as Michigan and Wisconsin had enacted such a law years ago they would not now be in a state of practical timber poverty. Oregon has seen great areas of its timber land denuded in the last few decades. What the builders of Los Angeles know as "Oregon pine" used to come from that State, but now most of it is from Washington. California would have been in a sad way of late years if it had had to depend upon its own timber resources. Redwood was used almost exclusively in housebuilding up to the 90's, but now pine has largely taken its place because of the lack of supply and the higher prices.

Another generation will see how the Oregon forestry law is to work out. It doubtless will be in a position to thank the legislators of the present age who had the forethought to enact this salutary legislation.

FIDDLING

Quite recently a man fiddled every step of the way across the continent from New York to Los Angeles. If, like the Arkansas Traveler, he left a trail of music, there may have been some justification. However, the emphasis appears to be on the steps rather than on the notes. And there does not seem to be any curtain call for a return.

Pyle's bunion derby and this fiddling marathon both began in New York and ended in Los Angeles. Maybe this violinist was from some Gotham theater orchestra that had listened to a walking delegate. However, he showed considerable judgment: he set out for California.

If he had kept a record of how many strings were sawed in two en route and how much rosin was sprinkled on the highway, conclusions in the interest of science might be drawn. Did the fiddler fiddle his expenses out of it or did some one finance the trip? Was the fiddle derby developed by some special violin maker? No other contestants have come in and no trophy seems to have been awarded.

It was just a case of plain fiddling. The number of fool marathons is increasing. However, this gymnast is not the only fiddler in the world. Some have fiddled their way across the continent without any instrument. They may be found haranguing groups at the Plaza. Some are fiddling on various subjects in Pershing Square.

THE FRUIT FLY

BY RANSOME SUTTON

Some years ago I was in Cuernavaca, about fifty miles south of Mexico City, and there I saw some of the finest looking oranges in the world. They were as large as grapefruit and as yellow as gold. I bought one and peeled the rind off, only to find it full of little green worms. Practically every orange in the whole State of Morelos, I later on learned, was alive with these little green worms.

The fly rendered all those beautiful and always loaded groves useless—good for nothing but firewood. I learned a few facts about the fly. It lays its eggs, a numerous mess of eggs, in the young fruit soon after the blooms fall. It was quite particular as to the kind of fruit, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, tangerines and limes being preferred; but I was told that it sometimes laid eggs in other kinds of fruits.

As a matter of fact, insects are very particular about the kind of fruit or plant they leave their eggs on. The cabbage white butterfly, for example, lays eggs on nothing but cabbages, and a female will die before depositing eggs on any other kind of plant. Since Mexicans, working on the Southern Pacific years ago, brought passion vines into Southern California, one of Mexico's little calico-colored butterflies has become quite common here; and every passion vine from San Diego to Santa Barbara will now be found, at certain seasons, specked with eggs. Potato beetles lay eggs only on potato plants, and I believe all insects are likewise particular; because a female insect always seeks the kind of a plant she was hatched on as a place for her own eggs. They are just as particular as human mothers as to the food their babies eat. More particular, perhaps, because when a female insect's babies emerge from the eggs, the mother herself is dead. So she takes no chances—hunts around until she finds the kind of a plant upon which she hatched, then and there lays her eggs. Insects have been known, however, to change plants. The Colorado beetle, for example, stopped laying eggs on wild potato plants as soon as domestic potatoes were planted in Colorado—the native haunt of the Colorado beetle—and that particular beetle then quickly spread over the whole United States.

The Mexican fly called the Morelos fly is supposedly the American cousin of the Mediterranean species. I have talked with men who have seen both, and they say both belong to the same genus. The life history of the Morelos fly can be told in a few words. It lays eggs, preferably at least, in oranges. Inside the growing orange, the eggs hatch, and the wormlike larvae feed upon the juice and pulp, which are milk and gruel to them. As the oranges ripen, they fall to the ground. Then the larvae eat their way through the rotting rind and bore down an inch or two in the soil. There they metamorphose into flies, and the flies repeat the egg-laying process. It is the larvae, not the flies, that damage fruits.

Now here's one very encouraging fact: the larvae cannot live long enough to metamorphose into flies in dry soil. Our irrigated orchards may be damp enough for the metamorphosis, but the odds are otherwise, especially at the time fruits ripen and fall of their own accord. The soil is kept moist while oranges are maturing, but water is turned off during the picking season. If an infected orange fell upon dry ground, the maggots would dry up. In Florida and the orange lands of Mexico, it rains frequently, the soil is always damp and humidity in the air strains out the ultra-violet light which is so harmful to things that live in the dark, and so helpful to things that live in the light. Fly larvae always shun dry light.

Sixteen years ago, when the Century Dictionary was published in revised form in this country, both Florida and California had a great scare over the Morelos cousin of the Mediterranean fly. In the supplement to the dictionary, after describing the fly, it is said that "its accidental introduction into the southern United States, and especially into California, is greatly feared." We have recovered from that fear.

Always when so great a danger is feared, people get unduly excited and do silly things—as, for example, when we soaked the tires of automobiles in oil during the foot-and-mouth-disease scare. Of course the thing to do is to keep the Florida fly out of the State if possible; but, if we cannot keep it out, we must not go to hysterical extremes before finding out whether or not the larvae can metamorphose under Southern California conditions. The probabilities are that, during the last twenty years, there have been thousands of Morelos flies in this State, and if the Florida fly comes, it may suffer the same fate here that the Morelos flies suffered. With so much at stake we have reason to be worried and watchful; but, before it gets here, our citrus growers will probably know enough about it to deal with it sensibly. The fact that the Morelos fly never liked our dry climate is a pretty good indication that the Mediterranean-Florida fly may not like our dry soil and white sunshine for the same reason.

Submarine Plane Success

Designed to be carried in a submarine a seaplane completed for the British Air Ministry has been making successful trial flights off the British coast. The machine is a small two-seater driven by an engine of 120 horsepower. Its wings fold back so that it can be lowered into a special hangar built into the submarine.

THE READING HABIT

BY FAITH HOLMES HYERS

The world of books is a country every graduate may explore for himself. Its routes hold infinite variety and its scenes reveal untold possibilities. Book ways will carry one many a league in any direction and passports may be had for a song. An excellent way of procuring a trancontinental, transworld ticket is to visit the public library and register an intention to travel the road of print.

School curricula today tend to encourage reading adventures. Every high school has its required reading list. Every study course has its collateral reading suggestions. No student completes the high school course of a metropolitan city without calling on the resources of the public library for reference, research or statistical information and for cultural and literary material. Some recognition of the wealth of free books available through the library system provided by a great democracy is known to every boy and girl today. But commencement brings a new freedom and new possibilities in the use of books.

For twelve years, the reading of our high school boys and girls has been directed and reading hours have been largely consumed with prescribed or suggested reading. Commencement finds the graduate for the first time in his reading life, free to choose—to select and to follow his own taste in the world of books.

The young reader is faced with a highly developed publishing and printing organization, with an output of 200,000,000 books in the United States in one year. The subject of business, alone, inspires the annual publication of 10,000,000 books in the United States. How will the novice in reading find his way in this maze of print?

Librarians, alive to the need of road maps, charts and waymarks, for the self-made reader, have provided all sorts of "readers' guides" to every field of writing. Book lists on all popular subjects are freely distributed. Individual reading lists are compiled on request. Reading courses, comparable to any authoritative home study course, have been published by the National Library Association. These courses prepared by leaders in specialized fields provide a systematic, but delightful "follow up" of forty live subjects from popular science to advertising.

To those whose hobbies direct their reading and those who are at home in the world of books, finding one fascinating interest after another—and to those who enjoy a friendly guide to the riches of the "word"—to readers, nonreaders, adventurers, realists and romanticists—the library says, Welcome, Graduates!

"DIRT" AND "EARTH"

Somehow it irritates me to observe, as I frequently do, such signs as "Free Dirt," "Dirt Wanted" or "Free Dump for Clean Dirt." Many other vulgarisms, including "naborhood," "hi grade" and such, I will pass with a smile, but this use of "dirt" has power to annoy me, though of course it shouldn't. Still this usage is very common and is becoming more so. Many cultured people unthinkingly speak of "dirt roads" or say that "dirt is being excavated or filled in for a foundation." Of course the removal or accretion of surface matter may be necessary, but is the house going to rest on dirt?

The Standard Dictionary defines dirt as "any foul or filthy substance," and puts the vulgar use of it down as an American colloquialism. Dirt has been referred to by some writers as "matter out of place." But I submit that the earth in what is known as a "dirt road" is not out of place, but properly in place, as is also that dumped on lots for filling-in purposes. Dirt is refuse. Nobody really wants dirt, no matter how many signs they may display inviting its reception on a particular site.

It would have been more alliterative but far less poetic if Keats had sung of "the deep delved dirt." Had Whitman alluded to "the good gray dirt" what a paradox it would have been, and yet there are people who plant trees in the "dirt" and cultivate and irrigate it. What we remove from the ground when digging a post hole is not dirt, but earth. And I wish we might return to the general use of the good old word for which our biblical and other classic writers never have substituted "dirt."

In making an excavation in sand, loam or clay a contractor will haul away truckloads of what he calls "dirt," but should he die his ghost might readily be forgiven for haunting forever the ministerial agent who would commit his body to the earth with the words, "Dirt to dirt, ashes to ashes, dust to dust."

BAILEY MILLARD.

Wealthy in Ten Years

An American salesman who has been several years in Australia says that it is no uncommon thing for a man by farming to accumulate sufficient money to warrant his retirement in that country in ten years. The land is an asset of Australia. Farmers can start with little or no capital and in ten years can amass sufficient competence to retire, he said. He can take up 2000 acres at 50 cents to $5 per acre and can get advances from the National Agricultural Bank with which to make the improvements.

The farmer has thirty years to pay off his farm and the interest is only 5 per cent. The first five years he is not required to pay any interest at all. No man can take out more than 2000 acres in his own name, but he is allowed to take out that much for each of his sons. The great problem of the country, however, is labor. The native labor is of a very indifferent character, but this is largely overcome by the use of agricultural machinery and the machinery from the United States is the most favored by the farmers of Australia.

ENJOYING YOUR BEACH VACATION

The annual family quarrel of whether the vacation should be at the mountains or at the beach is now in full swing in many parts of the land. Whether you finally select the mountains or the seashore, you should live so as to obtain the greatest possible benefit from your vacation. You can return full of health and vitality from either place, or you can return a frazzled bundle of nerves.

Vacations are usually planned with only one object, and that is to have a good time. One often finds that it takes weeks to recover from a vacation which was not planned from a health standpoint. Often one is worse off in health and spirits. A change of scenery and of habits during the vacation should be productive of marked benefit, but this is often not true.

It is a good plan to resolve that this year you will not make the same mistake of previous years. Should you decide to live at the beach, it is good to select your living quarters as close to the seashore as possible, and have your bed close to the window so that you can obtain the fresh breeze of sea air during the eight hours of sleep you should take each night. The first thing in the morning, put on your bathing suit and take your morning calisthenics on the sand. If you have not been exercising much, do not overdo at first, but gradually increase the exercise each day as the strength of your muscles permits. After a few of these exercises, take a walk or a run for at least a mile along the beach. Rest on the sand every few minutes. Then slowly enter the water and enjoy your morning swim in the breakers. A five or ten-minute swim is enough to get the best results. After emerging from the water, return to your room at once and dress for breakfast. You will probably have a good appetite, but it is best not to overeat, and a simple breakfast of eggs, toast and stewed fruit will be more beneficial to you than overloading on hot cakes, sausages and waffles.

Following breakfast, relax for an hour, perhaps reading the morning paper or a good book. It is well to take another walk and a rest before lunch, which should consist of some light meal, such as fruit or perhaps a salad and cooked vegetables. After lunch, you can don your bathing suit again and lie on the sand, but be careful not to expose the body to the point of inducing sunburn. Fifteen minutes of exposure is enough for the first day and you can add four or five minutes daily as your skin becomes tanned. The rest of the time it is well to wear some covering to protect your skin.

No matter how good the ocean dip or the sunshine feels, it is best not to overdo at first. Choose your evening meal as carefully as you would at home, and after the meal take in a good picture show, or a long walk on the beach.

Try to go to bed early so that you can secure at least eight hours' sleep and be ready for another day for constructive vacationing.

In tomorrow's article I will tell you how to obtain the greatest benefit from your stay in the mountains.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Enlarged Tonsils

Question: John M. writes: "Please tell me the proper cure for enlarged tonsils, or should they be removed?"

Answer: The cure of diseased tonsils, or the reduction of enlarged tonsils is simply a matter of dietetics. I have prepared a 500-word article on this subject which will tell you exactly what to do. Send a large self-addressed envelope and ask for the article called, "Save the Tonsils."

Dates

Q.: Bertha W. J. asks: "Are dates healthful, and if so how should they be used—in what combination with other foods?"

A.: Dates may be used with buttermilk. In this way they make an excellent combination which creates a beneficial chemical condition in the intestines.

Seasickness

Q.: Mrs. H. G. F. writes: "I am going to Europe very soon, but I am a very poor sailor. Do you think I could get over my tendency to seasickness if I eat only certain kinds of foods?"

A.: It is probably true that a vast amount of seasickness is caused simply by biliousness. Yet there are many people in good health who become nauseated whenever they sit in a swing or are subjected to any regular motion, such as they get when on a ship. This may be due to defects of vision, which can be cured by properly fitted glasses; or, it may be caused by an improper amount of balancing fluid in the inner ear. In the latter case, one may be unable to overcome the trouble except by staying in bed and lying in a horizontal position. This will generally overcome seasickness, no matter what the cause. This would be a good time for you to try a fruit fast, using only one kind of fruit on any one day.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

SMOKE SCREEN

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

"Tom wants to study at home. He hates school. Says the boys in his class are a lot of babies and he has nothing in common with them. He really is superior and I don't blame him much. I'm inclined to let him have his way."

The picture is full of danger signs—signs which are hard for a loving parent to recognize.

When any youngster professes contempt of his natural playmates, even if he has an extra good set of brains, it is time to see what is the matter. For something is the matter. His pose of scorn without doubt is no more than a smoke screen to hide from himself and everyone else his inner conflicts and feelings of inferiority.

Even if a child does his lessons quickly and stands at the head of his class there is no reason why he should not wish to play with children of his own age. For children do not meet on an intellectual plane. Their contact is in terms of sociability and activitity rather than in the interchange of ideas. A good game of baseball has little or nothing to do with the I. Q's of those participating.

Don't let yourself be fooled by the pose of superiority. When your child is most contemptuous he most needs help. He is in flight from the real world. Watch him carefully. Win his confidence.

Get him to talk to you freely and find out what lies behind his pose. He need not know that you have discovered his secret. With shrewdness and sympathy you can lessen his fears, diminish his conflicts, and help him make the essential social adjustment.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Will Keep Their Color.

Hang the kiddies' colored rompers and dresses out on the line wrong side out and they will not fade nearly so quickly.

Avoid buying woolen materials having a series of holes along the selvidges. This usually means the fabric has been stretched and is therefore likely to shrink when washed.

A Real Necessity.

Carpet sweepers are invaluable for the times in between vacuum cleaning but the sweeper must be kept clean, all lint removed from the brush and the bristles wiped with a cloth dipped in kerosene occasionally. Then you will get real service from the sweeper.

Whiter Towels.

If towels are laundered at home there comes a time when some sort of whitening process is necessary. Place the towels in a boiler of cold water to which has been added white soap flakes and the juice of one lemon. Set a low burner and gradually let the water come to a boil. Wash and rinse well and hang while very wet in the direct sunlight.

The Upper Crust

Sometimes the upper crust of the pie is hard to manage so that it arrives on top all in one piece. Try this. Roll out the pastry on a floured board and then invert the board right over the top of the pie. The crust will fall off in one piece just where it belongs.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Announcement is being made by Mrs. James Harvey Hays of 245 East Holt avenue, Pomona, of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Florence Evelyn Hays, to Dr. Edward Pence Garvey of Pasadena, the wedding having taken place at 5 p.m. Saturday in the Church of the Angels, which for the occasion was decorated with gladioli and tall cathedral candles.

The bride, gowned in ivory chiffon, real lace and satin, was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Charles Clay of Berkeley, who wore flowered chiffon in the autumn shades. Little Sarah Virginia Shellnut of Claremont was a petite and dainty flower girl.

Dr. Garvey chose for his best man Carl Croft of Pasadena, while Ellsworth Betts, Edward Erickson and Howard Wilson of Pasadena and Charles Tanner of Los Angeles served as ushers. Robert Paden Hays of Pasadena gave his sister in marriage.

Following the reading of the ceremony a wedding supper took place at the Vista del Arroyo. In attendance were several guests from the north, among them Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hays of Burlingame, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clay and James Hays of Berkeley, and Miss Julia Bain of Piedmont, as well as Miss Margaret Martin of La Jolla.

The bride was graduated from the University of California in Berkeley, and is a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority, while Dr. Garvey, who also attended the University of California, was graduated from Leland Stanford dental college. He is a Delta Sigma Delta member.

Dr. and Mrs. Garvey, after a honeymoon passed motoring through California, will live in Pasadena. Mrs. Hays is leaving immediately for a summer's trip abroad.

For Brides-Elect

Much feted these days is Miss Jean Melville, daughter of Mrs. George W. Melville, whose wedding with J. Calvin McDowell will be an event of Friday in the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Melville Brown and Mrs. Gordon Pollock entertained with a delightful tea for the bride-elect using the Pollock home at 6655 Alta Loma Terrace as the setting, while tomorrow evening Miss Melville will share honors with another bride-to-be, Miss Katharine Tilden, at a dinner-dance to be given by Mrs. Rollin B. Lane. Mrs. Lane has chosen the Club Casa del Mar in which to entertain, and guests will be the members of the two bridal parties.

Both Miss Melville and Miss Tilden are members of the Round the World Club founded by Mrs. Lane, and the two girls have the distinction of being the first brides of the club.

Surprise Marriage

Coming as a complete surprise, announcements of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Dean Cline to Carl Albert Naether are just being received by their friends.

The wedding took place the 14th inst. on the upper veranda overlooking the garden of the Mission Inn at Riverside, with Rev. Ira Barnett of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carlyle Abbott of Los Angeles, uncle and aunt of the bride, were the only attendants. The bride wore an ensemble of orchid chiffon and velvet, and Mrs. Abbott dark blue and gray silk, with matching hat.

After a wedding luncheon at the Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Naether motored to San Diego, where they are passing several weeks of their honeymoon. Mrs. Naether was one of the successful June candidates for a master's degree at the University of Southern California, where she has been a fellow in English for the last two years. Mr. Naether is an associate professor at English at the same university and the author of a number of books on business writing and applied psychology.

Here from New York

Mr. and Mrs. Feg Murray (Dorothy Hanna) and children have arrived from Great Neck, N. Y., where they now make their home, to visit Mrs. Murray's mother, Mrs. Ella Ballard Hanna of 468 South Lake street. The greater part of the summer will be passed by the party at the summer home of Mrs. Murray's grandparents, Ballard House, at Catalina, and many affairs are being arranged both in town and on the island, that the visitors may renew many former friendships.

Board Entertained

A charming hostess of last week was Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, president of the Around the World Club, who entertained Friday at luncheon in her home for members of the board of the organization. Preceding the event was a brief meeting at which plans were made for the coming year. The club's officers include Mrs. Thompson, president; Mrs. Hector Geiger, first vice-president; Mrs. Edward Uhl, second vice-president, and program chairman; Mrs. W. W. Watson, recording secretary; Mrs. James A. Lindsey, treasurer; Mrs. Rollin B. Lane, chairman of membership; Mrs. Frederick Stith, chairman of revision; Mrs. A. A. Clay, chairman of house, and Mrs. Russell C. Buffum, chairman of press.

The official season of the club for this year ended the 13th inst., when Mrs. D. E. Hartwell was hostess for a tea given in the Huntington Art Gallery.

Impending Marriage

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Harris of 7626 Lexington avenue, Hollywood, to C. Arthur Pilgrim, will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday evening, with Rabbi Julius Leibert officiating, followed by a reception. No cards are being issued.

Statistics prove that for every three men aged 75 and 80 there are four women, while for every four men over 85 there are seven women.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

SAUTED HAM SANDWICH

Cut white bread in slices one-fourth of an inch thick, cream a fourth of a cupful of butter with a fourth of a teaspoonful of dry mustard, and spread on the bread, place a slice of baked ham on this, cover with another slice of bread, beat one egg with two tablespoonfuls of milk, coat the sandwich with the egg mixture, and brown in melted butter on both sides, remove to a warm plate and garnish with two slices of fried pineapple which has been sprinkled with brown sugar.

BAVARIAN CREAM PIE

Soften one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatine in one-third of a cupful of cold milk, make a custard with one cupful of milk, add to it the yolks of three well-beaten eggs, to which has been added two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, place in a double boiler and cook until the mixture will coat a spoon, remove from the fire, add the softened gelatine and beat until the gelatine is dissolved; place the mixture in a bowl, set the bowl in ice water and when the custard begins to set fold in one and one-half cupfuls of cream that has been beaten stiff, add a few grains of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla, when the mixture will hold its shape turn into a baked pie shell and garnish with maraschino cherries, place in the refrigerator until cold.

DEVILED BRAINS

Take three sets of brains, allow to soak for ten minutes in cold water, place in a saucepan, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and just bring to a boil, remove from the fire, cool and remove all the membranes, place in a saute pan one tablespoonful of butter, when hot add two tablespoonfuls of flour, rub until smooth and brown slightly, add one cupful of tomatoes that have been rubbed through a sieve, season with salt and paprika and a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, a few grains of cayenne pepper; cut the brains in small pieces and add them to the mixture, place the mixture in individual molds, sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with butter, place in a pan and bake in the oven until brown, serve with green peas.

TOMATO AND ORANGE SALAD

Three medium-sized tomatoes, three oranges, one medium-sized cucumber, one small onion, one cupful of salad dressing and half a cupful of whipped cream, peel the tomatoes and place on lettuce-covered plates, sliced, peel the oranges, slice and divide into quarters, place on top of the sliced tomatoes, chop the cucumber fine and the onion, add to the cooked salad dressing, half a cupful of whipped cream, then fold in the cucumber and the onion, also add to the dressing the chopped whites of two hard-boiled eggs, place a spoonful of the dressing on top of the salad, rub the yolks of the eggs through a sieve, over the top of the boiled dressing. Garnish with sprays of parsley.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ZEALOUS YOUNG MOTHERS APT TO OVEREMPHASIZE VITAMINS AND CALORIES

Mrs. S. H. writes:

"Apropos of your very wise article recently with its comment on 'It's good for you,' being a phrase which takes the heart out of a child's appetite, let me tell a story told me at the New York City Mothers' Club when I was president. It seemed that the grandmother of one of the children was to take him from New York to her farm to enjoy country life. Sitting on her lap the small boy listened with sparkling eyes to the enumeration of coming delights.

"'And you can see the cow being milked, and take the eggs all warm out of the nest . . .'

"'Yes, yes,' commented the child excitedly.

"'And you can ride on the hay wagon.'

"'What fun, what fun!' said the child.

"And the grandmother paused to see what further delights to offer, but the child interposed: 'And we won't have any nourishing food!'

"The mother who told this did it rather ruefully, her mistake had been so obvious. The overzealous mother who studies feeding needs to remember that to be digested properly the food must be attractive to the child and be eaten happily. I am the grandmother of six beloved children, and I read your articles every day and find them just what the young mother needs."

ANSWER

How nice of you to write and tell me this. I feel sure if we can only enlist the interest and aid of grandmothers in carrying out modern ideas that most young mothers will find the road very easy going. The chief trouble with the older generation is that they cannot adjust themselves to new conditions and new ways of doing old things. "That isn't the way it was done in my day," is the end of all arguments with them. The most difficult problems I have to answer are those letters from despairing young mothers who want to know how they can keep meddling and opposing grandparents out of the family pie. So you can see that when I find a grandmother who is riding right beside her daughter or son and applauding newer methods of child care and finding them of interest, it seems to me the most important item of your interesting letter.

It always does seem difficult for the young mother, who is so "sold" on food properties, not to list them as assets when she wants the child to eat them. One mother wrote me recently asking me to write all about vitamins. Another mother asked me to tell exactly how many calories a day she should give her two-year-old child, she wanted to be sure to feed him just right. A knowledge and interest in both calories and vitamins is to be encouraged until it arrives at the stage when the child is being fed calories and vitamins and not just good appetizing food in the amounts that are pleasing to him or her. When food degenerates into symbols, then we ought to halt and face about and jerk up our sense of humor. The child who is given a varied diet of all kinds of food is bound to get his calories and vitamins and never even know it.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Youth sweeps to a new conquest, as from the wraith of "Clarence" emerges the more-than-mere-phantom "Jonesy." To interpret—one may trace the lineage of the current attraction at the Vine Street Theater to a certain Booth Tarkington forebear. However a mere family resemblance doesn't diminish either the mirth, the novelty or the enjoyment of the latest production sponsored by Franklin Pangborn. Perhaps even it increases this.

"Jonesy" is a comedy written by Anne Morrison and John Peter Toohey, and is still on the boards in New York. While Mr. Pangborn is presenting it, he himself steps out of the picture by not appearing in the play. The featured actor is James Spottswood, but the tokens of approbation are most amply distributed to a cast which includes additionally Kenneth Gamet, Jane Winton, Pauline Garon, Helene Sullivan, Charlotte Stevens and others.

You will find this entertainment capitally refreshing. I do not believe that Mr. Pangborn has presented a better during his association with the Hollywood Theater. The offering could be improved at times by a more adroit stage direction, and the subduing perhaps of a tendency to noisiness, but the general scope of the presentation is more than engaging.

"Jonesy" has to do with the bright undergraduate, who after valiantly providing more or less trouble for everybody manages most agreeably to make good, and even do better than that. To begin with, he has fallen in love with an actress, and he has also sold the family automobile to pay a gambling debt. Both are considered complicating if not actually disgraceful adventures—the romance with the actress because it a small town that is the parental habitat.

This is the very slight substance of which the plot is fashioned. It must be added, though, that the youth's father wants a post in the office of the actress's very influential uncle. Also said uncle is very much opposed to his daughter being on the stage. And she in turn is very much in danger of arrest for appearing in a too piquant costume—or rather a piquant lack of costume.

One by one the situations arise that divulge these facts, the while much humorous dialogue embellishes their disclosure. Perplexities are plentiful, and they seldom if ever fail to be laughable. The tempo is, or should be, rather farcical (the piece played a little slow last evening) and once the play gets moving nearly everything is of the sure-fire order. The tag line for the first act, and some of the lines in the last, are especially worth attention. And while "Jonesy" is yet another play of the "great American home" it is essentially a lively one. One naturally links it with the "Clarence" type of stage creation, but as hinted at the start of this review, that does not detract from the amusement.

What happens revolves mostly about the father, mother and son as portrayed respectively by Mr. Spottswood, Miss Sullivan and young Mr. Gamet. Nevertheless the roles portrayed by Miss Winton, especially, Miss Garon and Miss Stevens are definitely important.

Gamet reminds one of Emerson Treacy—who is rather well-known to audiences here—in his naively wise utterances. I presume that is due to the fact that there is only one way to portray youthful precocity obviously and effectually. And Gamet seems in general capable in evoking hilarity.

Mr. Spottswood and Miss Sullivan manage exceptionally well with their impersonations. Miss Winton is quite convincing. She plays the girl with stage ambitions. Miss Garon is very pepful as her rival in romance. Miss Stevens does a bit of pleasing character work as the sister of Jonesy. Lester Lonergan, Jr., and Cyr Forrest, as two plumbers, gratuitously introduced, helped the gayety. Anne Anderson, Carlyle Moore, Jr., and Walter Bonn are others.

"Jonesy" is a good light entertainment.

Warner Starts "Noah's Ark"

"Noah's Ark," Warner Brothers' spectacle, comes to Warner Brothers' Theater today for its first popular run. This picture was in the making for a period exceeding three years, was produced at a cost of $2,000,000, and has a cast of over ten thousand.

Two distinct sequences are depicted in this production, one modern and with the Great War as a background, the other harking back centuries to Noah's era with exactly similar characters encountering like adventures. The story was written by Darryl Francis Zanuck, who also supervised the production.

A romance is woven into the story through a rapid succession of events and when all the characters are caught in the whirl of war, they are taken back to the days preceding the launching of the Ark.

Dolores Costello plays the starring role in the picture, directed by Michael Curtiz, and in the supporting cast are George O'Brien, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Guinn Williams and others.

UPTOWN HAS WARNER OPERA

Dolores Costello's latest Warner Brothers screen drama, "The Glad Rag Doll," will be the Fox Uptown's principal screen feature for the next four days, starting tonight. This is said to be one of the star's most colorful vehicles. A distinctive cast appears in support of Dolores Costello who is making her first screen appearance since her recent marriage to John Barrymore. Martha Green, the California Orange Girl, presides at the Fox Uptown organ. Starting Friday the Uptown will offer "Thru Different Eyes."

Who is Mrs. George Fawcett in private life, will have the leading role in "The Old Shoe," opening tomorrow night at the Egan Theater. The play is by her daughter, Georgia Haswell Fawcett.

HILLSTREET HAS COLLEGE SHOW

This is collegiate week at the Hillstreet. Ye college spirit runs rampant through the R.-K.-O. show. Colorful, tuneful and mirthful it is an educational program. The settings and equipment are more than ordinarily attractive.

Graduating with honors from the institution of jazz are the Fourteen Bricktops. These fiery lassies headed by Bobbie Grice are well schooled in syncopation. Working in in perfect harmony, they render first the more animated popular rhythms, then start off along "The Road to Mandalay" and end with Victor Herbert's "Ah, Sweet Mystery of life."

Among the prize pupils of the day are Clara Barry and Orval Whitlege. To the soft strumming of a piano they talk of this and that and amuse with their witticisms. Miss Barry reaches the climax with an impersonation of Sophie Tucker.

Two youthful students are Madie and Ray. First, they astound with their contortions, which is not the half of it. The way they can wheedle a rope into wondrous whirls almost out-Rogers the famous Will. At one time Ray has eight ropes going in unison.

The Runaway Four trip in and out at odd moments, sometimes bursting into song, sometimes cutting capers; but usually trying to keep an unconscious member from falling into the orchestra.

Then there is Ada Brown, Mammy of the Campus. Her "Dusky Stevedore" and "Real Estate Papa" were hits of the show.

Passing to the extreme of tragic melodrama is the Tiffany Stahl feature, "Two Men and a Maid." The gentlemen are Buster Collier, Jr., and Eddie Gribbon, the maid, Alma Bennett. It would not be fair to say these players did not do all they could to help out, but the story material falls below average. Miss Bennett's performance as Rose, especially, is her best. Only the work of the cast makes it seem at all plausible.

Disillusioned by a marriage of five hours, Buster vanishes into the Foreign Legion to forget and be forgotten. In the wilds of Algeria he meets Rose, who has been waiting for him all her life. However, the adjutant has already picked this desert flower for himself. So Buster and Rose go through every stage of romantic suffering until she is mercifully, though accidentally, shot in the back. Scorched by burning sands and lined with care, Buster returns to his wife.

Any strength of realism is destroyed by the obviously manufactured desert scenery. There are several spasmodic talking sequences and a trained choir of hillsmen to add to the sound effects.

MUSKETEERS RIDE AGAIN AT THEATER

"Iron Mask" Has Popular Appeal as Feature Attraction of Pantages

Surrounded by four acts of fair vaudeville, the feature of the current offering at the Pantages Theater is the film, "The Iron Mask," as originally presented, portraying the adventures of D'Artagnan and his Three Musketeers. The production is being given a popular run, and proves so with the audience. Douglas Fairbanks and his "One For All, and All for One" brothers ride through numerous escapades and rescues to the delight of the assembled house, which seems to be present for the express purpose of seeing them, and not the variety show.

Jack Merlin, comical magician of sorts, and Ann Clifton, a male impersonator, provide the gist of the stage entertainment. Merlin sallies forth into the perspiring audience, appropriates hats, rings, and other useful and ornamental pieces of attire, and promptly makes them disappear. They reappear tied to flowers and guinea pigs—believe it or not. Merlin's tricks are interspersed with the usual patter on current subjects. And there is a company, consisting of a pretty lady, who walks on the stage and then promptly walks off again.

Ann Clifton is first a man, then a woman, and sings in corresponding manner. Her voice, it appeared, is better suited to her first role. She offers a light but pleasing recital of songs, and is well received.

Tropical Tropics, a conglomeration of singing, dancing, with three men and two girls, is a mediocre presentation, although it keeps the audience interested in its variety. A sister team, and a hoofer of talent furnish the bulk of the act's entertainment. A humorous gentleman of the burlesque show type also appears. Clemens Bellings, dogs and pony go through various maneuvers. One of the canines provides much merriment by stiffening out its tail at its master's coaxing. Over the said member rings are thrown. Pathe News completes the program.

Producer Brings "Holiday" Here

O. D. Woodward has announced that the Philip Barry comedy, "Holiday," which was one of the successes of the New York theatrical season, will come to the Biltmore Theater September 2. Woodward further announces that the Biltmore and Mason theaters will be his producing centers starting in September.

The complete cast of "Holiday" will be announced within a week, Woodward said. He states that he intends to give his offering one of the finest casts seen in years.

DUFFY PICKS PLAYERS FOR "BIG POND"

Robert McWade Has Leading Role; Lucile Nikolas Also Cast in Comedy

Lucile Nikolas, one of the younger Broadway leading women, will make her first appearance on the Pacific Coast when she appears as the American daughter in the comedy, "The Big Pond," which Robert McWade and the Henry Duffy Players will present at the Hollywood Playhouse, starting Sunday.

Miss Nikolas will have her original role of Barbara, which she created in the New York production of the comedy last autumn. She has played leading roles in the Broadway presentations of "Time," "Across the Street," "Sisters" and "The Tightwad."

Robert McWade will be starred in the role of the father and Donald Randolph will be the dashing young Frenchman, Pierre De Mirande. James Bush, juvenile with the stock company at the Morosco, now the President, will be seen as the American youth, Ronny Davis. Leah Winslow will return to portray the diplomatic mother, Jane Morgan will be the newspaper woman and John Mackenzie the Italian servant. Rehearsals are now in progress under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

Embryo Talking Star Found at Carthay Circle

At the Fox Carthay Circle Theater where Janet Gaynor is making a hit in her first talking triumph "Four Devils," there is a new talkie star brought to Circle audiences from far-off Ireland, via the Fox Movietone.

This 8 or 9-year-old Irish colleen has a winning smile and a rich Irish brogue that brings down the house whenever she appears. She recites a little poem and does it in a manner that would make her fortune if she were in Hollywood now where unusual voices are much in demand.

Her appearance is in a special Fox Movietone News subject taken in an out-of-the-way place in the Emerald Isle by one of the foreign talkie outfits of the Fox organization and is another of the many unusual features on the Circle program, which includes Carli Elinor's noted Circle Concert Orchestra and the first appearance of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in a special Movietone talk.

SONG CYCLE LEADS BILL AT ORPHEUM

John Thomas Obliges With Ready Encore; Ballet and Band Also Featured

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

A baritone singer, named very simply, John Charles Thomas, stepped out on the Orpheum rostrum Saturday afternoon and immediately an audience which had been only spasmodically aware that a program of the varieties was in progress came to attention.

Thomas displayed a deep, rich voice to excellent advantage in "Homing," "Old Man River," "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" and "Toreador." Uncontent with this repertoire, appreciative listeners clamored for more and were obliged in encore not by one, but four more lightly sentimental pieces. It is gratifying to note that this cumulative encore came from Mr. Thomas not grudgingly, bit by bit after repeated curtain calls, but all in one as a gracious after-program.

Preceding Thomas, there was a performance of musical numbers by the United States Indian Band, a presentation of a fantastically patterned group of dances from the Albertina Rasch ballet, and rather good song stories and jokes from one George Beatty.

Eighteen Indians from as many different government reservations and each one in his respective tribal costume, made up the band. Although their music was enjoyable—particularly a symphonic number "When Summer is Gone" and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," the bright personality of the leader, Chief Shunatona, colored the entire offering. Chief Shunatona not only proved an astonishingly agile dancer, but through provocative remarks succeeded in directing a spotlight of sympathetic admiration toward his entire race.

Tracing their steps to the clashing, pounding, rhythmic movement of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," the Albertina Rasch Dancers aroused immediate and alert interest from the dance-conscious portion of those present. They followed their striking introductory number by a medley of light, graceful ballet movements, all of which were delightful in design and skillful in execution.

George Beatty is a raconteur of fair distinction. He started out with a song story—something about the girl who will squeeze tooth paste from the top of the tube—and closed with a squeaky violin bit. The best of his offering is in his impersonation of an inebriated person.

Betty and Jerry Browne are a cute pair who essay the collegiate type of thing in dance and song. Bee Star is an excellent aerialist, Jack Norton and Lucille Haley have a comic skit while the Bell Thazers bring the show to an end with stunts of equilibrium and strength.

Arlen Seen in Starring Role at Paramount

"The Man I Love," an all-talking story of the prize ring, with Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Baclanova, Harry Green and Jack Oakie, comes to the Paramount Thursday.

The story brings Arlen to his first starring role. He is seen as Dum Dum Brooks, a contender for the championship of the world. His championship battle is staged at Madison Square Garden and is said to be made realistic by the sound reproduction. A short subject will be the featured surrounding item of the new show. The subject, "Dear Teacher," features Smith and Dale of the Avon Comedy Four, who have been seen in "The False Alarm Fire Department" and other talking comedies. Jack Powell, trap drummer, is one who supports the comic pair.

Richard Dix in his first romantic role, that of a British soldier, in "The Wheel of Life," with Esther Ralston, has its last showing at the Paramount Wednesday night.

Noted Player Will Appear at Biltmore

Ethel Barrymore and her New York company of fifty players will be seen at the Biltmore Theater starting July 15, according to Lee Shubert, following the closing of the actress's New York season in her own theater. She will present two plays, "The Love Duel" from the Hungarian of Lili Hatvany, as arranged for the stage by Zoe Akins, and "The Kingdom of God," from the Spanish play of G. Martinez Sierra, adapted by Helen and H. Granville Barker. These two dramas present Miss Barrymore in two roles of great contrast.

The noted actress, it is said, has sacrificed her summer holiday so that she may present these plays throughout the country. She believes that the road is as important as New York, and she insists on touring in the roles which she has presented in New York.

GALA EVENT PLANNED FOR HARRY RICHMAN

Preliminary preparations are being completed for Hollywood's welcome to Harry Richman, noted figure of New York night club life, to take the form of special festivities in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel on Thursday night.

A special musical tribute will be paid to Richman by Irving Aaronson's Commanders, the orchestra of the Roosevelt, which came from the Club Richman in New York. Richman has consented to act as master of ceremonies for the occasion. To supervise the festivities, a special committee has been appointed, including Joseph M. Schenck, Louis B. Mayer, Jack Warner, Fred Niblo, Sid Grauman, Irving Thalberg, Col. Harry M. Baine, president of the Hollywood Boulevard Association, and Harry Hammond Beall, president of the Wampas.

on "The Value of Clear, Co-operative Thought." Dr. Thomas said in part: "Orthodox Christians have had many of the doctrines of Christ written in their hearts; otherwise Christianity could not have survived a theology founded on the doctrine of hell and the depravity of man. Many still believe in the depravity of man, but even this fragment of an obsolete theology is destined to crumble beneath the power of Christ's words, 'the kingdom of heaven is within you.' To occult science belongs the distinction of proving why these things are so, which is the first step in their attainment, and is the searchlight which will make luminous the truths contained in every book of the Bible. If orthodox persons care more for the truths of that sacred book than they do for the glaring absurdities they have blindly built from it into their crumbling structure, they will welcome this searchlight."

SCRIPTURES READ BY CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

"Is the universe, including man, evolved by atomic force?" This question was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday at all branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The Bible citations included a portion of the prayer of David from the twenty-ninth chapter of Chronicles I: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and Thou art exalted as head above all. Both riches and honor come of Thee, and Thou reignest over all; and in Thine hand is power and might; and in Thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all. Now, therefore, our God, we thank Thee and praise Thy glorious name." Among selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were several passages from the chapter entitled, "Science of Being," one of which reads as follows: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them."

INSURANCE AID PLANNED BY CHAMBER

New Committee to Give Counsel on Policies and Other Special Service

The inauguration of an insurance service to its members was announced yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce in disclosing the formation of a life insurance committee.

"It is of importance to note," President Crandall said, "that through the organization of this group to conduct a new phase of chamber work, that the life-insurance fraternity of Los Angeles has become more definitely a part of the organization. It is in a sense an indication, too, that business in the city is becoming more convinced of the value of assisting the chamber in its program for the development of Los Angeles county."

Mr. Crandall said that the committee will give counsel on all matters pertaining to the surrender of policies, or other details of insurance work. The same service will be extended to agents and underwriters. Will G. Farrell is chairman of the new committee, and George H. Cecil is vice-chairman. Following are the members:

M. P. Hawkins, Fred C. Hathaway, George W. Ayars, J. Charleville, Wilmer M. Hammond, Roy H. Sheldon, Clark E. Bell, F. E. McMullen, Kellogg Van Winkle, George A. Rathbun, W. K. Murphy, H. S. Standish, Charles E. Bent, Robert A. Brown, Roy Denny, Robert J. Giles, John Newton Russell.

EULOGY PAID MAJ. LUMBY AT SERVICE

Fellow Salvation Army Officers Voice Tribute to Worth of Departed

The contributions of the late Maj. Walter Lumby of the Salvation Army to the spiritual and material well-being of his fellow-men were eulogized by officers of Temple Corps No. 1 at memorial services conducted last night at the Salvation Army Temple, 832 West Ninth street. Leading the services was Lieut.-Col. John D. Sharp, acting chief of the South Coast Division of the army.

Others who spoke in addition to Lieut.-Col. Sharp were Commandant Hedley V. Jones of Temple Corps, Maj. Joseph Faulkner, retired, and Maj. Robert McClelland, chaplain of the men's social service department. Telegrams were received and read from Commander Evangeline Booth, Commissioner Adam Gifford, head of the western division of the army, and Commissioner William Peart of New York City. Music was furnished by the Temple junior and senior bands and the corps songster brigade.

For two decades Maj. Lumby had been a leader in Salvation Army activities in this city and had served the Temple Corps in various important capacities. For a number of years he was superintendent of the Evangeline, the Salvation Army's residence for young women in this city.

Film Stars Give Greeting to Royal Pair

The first talking picture to bring the Spanish language to the screen will be formally presented to the King and Queen of Spain during the next few weeks, it became known yesterday.

The production is American-made, features a group of the leading film stars and represents the combined efforts of Paramount, United Artists, First National, Fox, R.-K.-O., Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer, Harold Lloyd and Universal studios.

This picture will have its first showing in July, when it is presented before their majesties at the International Exposition in Barcelona. The production is comprised of a series of special talking sketches recorded in Spanish. It will be shown in the "Palace of the Motion Picture Industry."

STARS GIVE GREETING

In each of the sketches, some of Hollywood's leading film stars address a few words of greeting to the people of Spain, and express in ways best suited to their talents—singing, dancing, speaking—their wishes for the success of the exposition.

The players appearing in the production include Maurice Chevalier, Harold Lloyd, Norma Talmadge, Gilbert Roland, Dolores del Rio, Lupe Velez, Clara Bow, Baclanova, Bessie Love, Raquel Torres, Norma Shearer, Bebe Daniels, Reginald Denny, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Warner Baxter, June Collyer, Sue Carroll, Nick Stuart, Louise Fazenda and Farina.

The film will run for an hour, and will be shown every day during the exposition, which is scheduled to last until December 29.

VENTURA SUGGESTS IDEA

The idea for the production originated with Marcel Ventura, who has been in the United States as Spain's delegate in the interests of the exposition.

During the run of the production at Barcelona millions of visitors from all parts of the world will view the spectacle of Hollywood film stars speaking in Spanish from the screen. Many of these visitors will come from South America to view the exhibition of their mother country.

Latin-America's interest in talking pictures will be greatly stimulated by means of this production, Ventura believes, in pointing out that the Latin motion-picture market is the second largest in the world, ranking next to that of the English-speaking nations. Spanish-speaking people who view American motion pictures number more than 131,000,000, he declared.

Oil Engineer to Meet Here

New discoveries made within the past year in oil-well drilling and production methods will be discussed at a three-day conference of drilling and production engineers from all parts of the United States to be held at the Biltmore starting Wednesday.

An inspection of Southern California oil fields by airplane and automobile is planned for the closing day. Aerial transportation has been assured for approximately fifty persons.

ST. LOUIS BEAUTY WINS IN CONTEST

Alice Burns

The honor of winning the first beauty and personality contest ever decided through the medium of the talking picture goes to Miss Alice Burns, 17 years of age, it was announced yesterday by the board of five judges headed by Monte Blue, screen actor.

As the winner, Miss Burns received the title of "Miss St. Louis" after traveling from St. Louis to Hollywood for the finals of the contest. The judges cast their ballots after seeing the contestant and hearing her and seeing the screen test filmed at Warner Brothers studio.

The first part of the contest was conducted under auspices of a newspaper and the Skouras theaters in St. Louis. A popular vote there selected three girls, Dorothy Jaggi, Dorothymae Joerding and Alice Burns. The three then came here for the finals.

The judges included Blue and the talkie directors Alan Crosland, Lloyd Bacon, John Adolfi and Roy del Ruth.

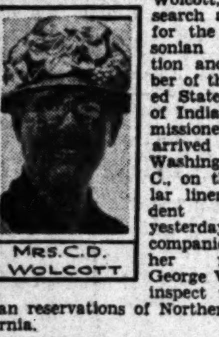
Bowl Meet Date on Enforcement Misunderstood

Through a misunderstanding a number of people went to Hollywood Bowl yesterday afternoon, expecting to attend a mass meeting and hear United States District Judge McCormick on law enforcement as outlined by President Hoover in his recent appointment of a commission to study crime conditions in the country.

The massed gathering, which is under the auspices of an organization recently formed with Dr. A. M. Wilkinson, president of the State Federation of United Church Brotherhoods as temporary chairman, is scheduled for next Sunday, the 30th inst. Gov. Young and other prominent leaders in California public life are expected to attend.

BRIGHTER FUTURE SEEN FOR INDIANS BY WOMAN

Better treatment for the American Indians appears imminent at last, in the opinion of Mrs. C. D. Wolcott, research associate for the Smithsonian Institution and member of the United States Board of Indian Commissioners. She arrived from Washington, D. C., on the Dollar liner President Monroe yesterday, accompanied by her nephew, George Vaux, to inspect the Indian reservations of Northern California.



MRS. C. D. WOLCOTT

"Their treatment to date has been such as to make us hide our heads in shame," she said, adding her belief that Secretary Wilbur's vigorous approach to the question will not result in wrecking the present Indian administration. "Rather, it will build up, not tear down."

"The Indian Commission has been 'the goat' too long—outrageously long. Where we have asked for more funds to employ more and better help, our appropriations have been sliced down instead.

"In our treatment of California Indians we have been one of the worst offenders, but there yet is hope for many of them. Back in 1851 Federal officials negotiated eighteen treaties with them, but because the Senate never ratified these treaties, we started right in breaking them.

"We sold most of their lands out from under them. The lands brought about $10,000,000 then, but they are worth countless times that amount now, and we have found the Indians have recourse to the Court of Claims in trying to repossess them. The Attorney-General has been instructed to bring such case before the court. Assembling data for it is a tedious process, but we hope justice ultimately will prevail."

Mrs. Wolcott's late husband formerly was head of the Smithsonian Institution, and in Federal reclamation work often was heralded as the best friend to the project which wrested Imperial Valley from the desert.

KHJ EVENING NOTEWORTHY

Orchestras and Singers Head Monday Program

Dance Band Scheduled for Early Session

Jamboree from KFRC on as Usual

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The Los Angeles Don Lee station, KHJ, will start the broadcast week in fine shape today. The evening programs are especially noteworthy.

Commencing at 6 p.m. the studio orchestra and singers will hold the air until 6:45 with a program including Boildieu's "La Dame Blanche;" Lang's "In the Evening," Haydn's "Minuet from Surprise Symphony;" and Lake's "Evolution of Dixie."

This will be followed by the world-wide news from The Times building for fifteen minutes.

Then the singers and studio symphony will have a thirty-minute program. Some of the singers' numbers will be "Dream of Love," while Ivan Edwards will sing, "Oh Paradise," and Wesley Tourtellotte will offer Chopin's "Waltz in D Flat," as an organ number.

The symphony selections will include Von Weber's "Der Freisnutz," the Rimsky-Korsakov, "Young Prince and Young Princess," Cui's "Tin Soldier," and Lingini's Ballet Egyptian."

The dance band will fill the radio bill from 7:30 to 8 o'clock with popular tunes of the day. These will be interspersed by soloists. Martin Daugherty will sing, "A Tree in the Park." A string quintet will play "The Swan," while June Parker, exponent of blues, will offer, "Everything I Do, I Do for You."

During the 8 to 10 o'clock hours the usual Monday jamboree from KFRC will be heard through KHJ. Anson Week's dance orchestra, playing in San Francisco, will furnish dance tunes until 11 o'clock.

Then Earl Burtnett and his orchestra, playing in Los Angeles, will entertain until midnight, after which an hour of organ music will bring the KHJ broadcast at an end until 7 a.m. tomorrow.

French Colony Will Celebrate

Under two flags—Old Glory and the tricolor of France—a host of 3000 French residents of Southern California will assemble at T.V.G. Hall, 936 West Washington street, July 13, next, to observe the one hundred and thirty-ninth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille.

The celebration, which is being sponsored by the French colony of Southern California, will take the form of a fete, with speech-making, appropriate vocal and instrumental selections and pageantry.

NEW ZONE ORDERED

The City Council has passed an ordinance rezoning property on both sides of Crenshaw Boulevard between Wilshire Boulevard and Tenth street from Zone A to Zone B.

FOUR PLAYERS FLAY EQUITY

Closed Shop Demand Fails in Screenland Appeal, Say Representative Film Folk

Four more established film players yesterday expressed themselves content with working conditions in motion-picture studios, and thus arrayed themselves with the numerous others who have voiced opposition to the effort being made by the Actors' Equity Association to force adoption by film producers of a closed Equity shop in picture production. The four are Robert Ellis, Merna Kennedy, Mary Philbin and Joseph Schildkraut, all with Universal Pictures.

Ellis declared he never has been happier in his professional career than he has been since joining Universal, and his sentiments substantially are echoed by the others.

"I haven't found out what it is that Equity wishes to change in motion pictures," Ellis said.

"As I see it, for a number of years, we actors of Hollywood have struggled, but the struggle has been in getting the job—not struggling with the producer after we got it. But recently, since many professionals have been invited to come from New York to participate in our prosperity, Equity within the last two months has become greatly interested.

"Personally, I have not been happier in my professional experience, nor as well treated as I have since rejoining Universal.

"Only one experience have I had in which I might have needed assistance. First National some years ago signed me to a contract with a guarantee, but later wished to cancel the contract because of recasting the picture. This did not seem fair to me. Richard Rowland, president of First National, reimbursed me to the full extent of my salary, had I played the part, thereby showing good faith in living up to the contract.

"As I have reviewed the situation in talking pictures, I wish to go on record as saying I believe 90 per cent or more of the finest performances given so far have been given by our own Hollywood picture actors who, I believe, are the finest actors in the world."

Of her experiences in motion pictures, Merna Kennedy, Charlie Chaplin's former leading lady, but now under contract at Universal, said:

"I have been here eight months and I have been treated marvelously. I like the studio immensely.

"This company has given me the best break I ever had. I haven't seen any abuses and I think every one is happy out here."

"I think things are all right as they are," Mary Philbin declared. "I have seen no abuses.

"Sometimes we may have to work late but usually that is made up for by a late call the next day or we may not have to work at all.

"I have always been treated very nicely."

Actor and producer are motivated by the same ambition, in the opinion of Barbara Kent. Each wants to make as good a picture as possible.

"I have never seen any abuses," she asserted, "and I don't think the producers ask the impossible of anyone. For, after all, both producer and actor are working toward the same goal and what is advantageous to the producer is advantageous to the actor."

Joseph Schilkraut has received the utmost consideration, according to his statement.

"The working conditions have been particularly pleasing," he declared. "The hours have in no way been a physical strain on me, but a great pleasure."

COST MAP SUBMITTED

The street lighting engineer has submitted to the City Council the assessment district map for the installation of lighting appliances in Las Palmas avenue between Franklin avenue and Hollywood Boulevard. The map was referred to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

RESCUED EXILE RETURNS HOME

San Diegoan Has Experience Rivaling Robinson Crusoe

Was Member of Ill-Fated Sheep-Shearing Venture

Finds Wife an Object of Charity on His Return

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—Archie T. Smith, 3561 Fifty-fourth street, this city, who was stranded alone on a barren island, 1000 miles south of San Diego since May 1, with only a few starving wild sheep for company, arrived in San Diego this week after having been rescued from his exile by the Louis S., a San Diego fishing boat, commanded by Capt. J. Goulding, who found Smith on his island home on the 6th inst.

Smith was the victim of a promotion scheme whereby a company was to reap rich reward by shearing the wild sheep of the island. The promoters were Harry K. Chenoweth, D. M. Richardson and F. F. Kohler, who were recently sentenced to serve six months in the County Jail by Justice Eugene Daney, for violation of the State wage law, because of their failure to pay their crew of forty sheep shearers, of which Smith was a member.

The expedition left for Socorro Island, in Mexican waters, the home of the wild sheep, early last spring and after spending two months there in a vain attempt to catch the elusive sheep, the crew decided to return to San Diego to interview the promoters, and report the difficulty of the island venture. They decided, however, that one of the crew must remain and look after the camp so that the big "boss" could not accuse them of desertion. Their food supply was exhausted and they must act quickly.

Lots were drawn and Smith lost. He saw the crew of thirty-nine pull away from the island and leave him alone with a promise to return immediately with supplies.

Arriving home the crew discovered that the "company" was "busted," the boat was tied up at the pier and proceedings started to collect their wages.

Smith had been abandoned, apparently by all save his wife and two children, who waited longingly for his return. Upon the earnest solicitation of Mrs. Smith, the government took a hand in the affair and sent the Memphis to the island to bring Smith back. But when the destroyer arrived there the crew found only an empty hut, flying the Mexican flag. Smith had left the island a few days previously on the fishing craft which did not return immediately to its home port but went about its business of fishing.

When the government boat reported Smith as missing Mrs. Smith gave up in despair and was taken to a local hospital for care. The day before the arrival home of her husband she gave birth to a child, which died a few hours after birth. The family was destitute during Smith's absence because the arrangements he had made for payment of his salary to his family were never carried out and during his lonely exile he was not aware that charity had stepped in to give food to his wife and babies.

Smith told a harrowing tale of his life in exile. Having no food and no ammunition for his rifle he was forced to hide behind bushes and "bulldog" the wild sheep as they came to the water hole to drink. In this manner he kept meat for his table.

Several times during his stay on the island, he said, he saw boats in the distance, but none ever saw his signals until the fishing boat pulled up to his rescue.

GIRLS' SUMMER CAMP TO OPEN IN VALLEY

CHATSWORTH, June 22.—With an enrollment of fifty girls, between the ages of 6 and 18, the Lakeside Park Camp for Girls will open on July 8, next, with Mrs. R. M. Cannon in charge. She has leased a group of buildings overlooking Chatsworth Lake in the western end of San Fernando Valley and will continue the camp until September 10, next. Mrs. Cannon is the wife of Maj. Richard M. Cannon, commandant of the Robert E. Lee Military Academy, which also is operating a boys' summer camp in the Chatsworth Hills near Chatsworth Lake.

VALLEY WOMAN'S CLUB SEATS NEW OFFICERS

OWENSMOUTH, June 23.—Mrs. W. E. Bechtelheimer was installed as president of the Owensmouth Woman's Club at a meeting held here in the clubhouse. Others installed are Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Jacob Jepson and Mrs. Verne L. House, vice-presidents; Mrs. W. R. Towle, Mrs. G. Walter Monroe and Mrs. John E. Turner, secretaries, and Miss Elsie Matthews, treasurer. During the week the corner-stone of the club's new home on Valerio street was laid with ceremonies.

NEW INVENTION

BELL, June 23.—An airplane motor muffler is a new invention that has been given a test by the inventor, R. R. Mabbaugh of Pine avenue. The test has been made on a passenger airplane from the Alhambra airport, with about thirty passengers present, and it is said that the invention so muffles the motor noises that the passengers can converse on the plane while it is operating at a high rate of speed. Mr. Bambaugh had been at work on the invention for more than a year. He first constructed a muffler for his automobile, and this was so successful that he used the idea for a muffler on airplanes.

NEW LIBRARIAN

WALNUT PARK, June 23.—Mrs. M. Gamble has been appointed librarian of the county branch library in South Gate, taking the place of Mrs. Edith Rule, who resigns on account of ill health. The branch is located on Post street, opposite the city hall in South Gate, and 150 new books have just been received.

MODERN VERSION OF ROBINSON CRUSOE

As he appeared in San Diego after long exile.

Baby is Born in Automobile

RESEDA, June 23.—Dr. F. W. Townsend is a new physician here, and he is getting acquainted. His first baby case was most unusual. At 5 a.m. Dr. Townsend heard a knock at the door of his home. A man told him his wife was ill in the auto at the curb, and when he responded found birth had taken place. The mother and child were taken into the Townsend home for first treatment and then conveyed to their home in Tarzana. According to a statement of the husband he and his wife were on their way to the San Fernando Hospital, but were forced to stop here while en route.

WAY IS SOUGHT TO SELL PARK BONDS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 23. The development of the Vanowen-Victory Park in this district is being delayed because bond houses do not appear anxious to accept the full issuance of bonds on the project, and a meeting is to be held next Thursday to discuss the situation. Officials of the bond houses take the position that the proposed bond issue of $250,000 is too large for the assessment district as has been outlined. It is understtod that Councilman Randall will attend the meeting and offer suggestions regarding the limit of the amount of money to be used to purchase the site, with the view in end that the bond issue may be changed in size so as to invite ready sale. The matter of overlapping assessments in certain parts of the district also will be discussed as some property owners, it is understood, are being assessed for this proposed park and the North Hollywood Park, as well.

PREACHER IN SAME PULPIT TEN YEARS

SAN FERNANDO, June 23.—Today marks the tenth anniversary of the coming to San Fernando of Rev. Fred W. Willman, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, and appropriate ceremonies were arranged at the church in honor of the occasion. Mr. Willman was serving as chaplain at Camp Lewis during the war, when he accepted the pastorate here.

SEEK TO KEEP PREACHER

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 23. Rev. Glenn R. Phillips, for four years pastor of the local Community Church, is likely to continue here. His congregation has asked the governing church board not to send Mr. Phillips to another pastorate in the usual reassignment of pastors. Mr. Phillips, one of the most prominent clergymen in San Fernando Valley, since his coming here has increased the membership of his church to 2000.

LARGE ENROLLMENT

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 23.—With the closing of the school year a few days ago, Superintendent Charles L. Johns of the city school district, and Principal K. L. Stockton of the Huntington Park Union High School district have compiled figures relative to the enrollment during the past year showing that the two districts' total enrollment reached 13,157. The total of the two enrollments show an increase of 2356 over the enrollments of the school year 1927-28.

CIRCULATION INCREASES

TEMPLE CITY, June 23.—With a circulation of 1100 books per month, the Temple City Library has a larger circulation than any other of its size in the county, according to Mrs. Wila Samson, librarian. The local library is a branch of the Los Angeles County Library. Its circulation is increasing each month. Last year books were drawn 15,000 times.

STOLEN WATCH RETURNED

ALHAMBRA, June 23. — Five years ago the home of John L. Mills, 118 East Commonwealth avenue, was burglarized. Among other articles a watch was stolen.

Today Mills has his watch back but it's in a new case. Los Angeles police recovered the watch last week in a pawn shop. A new case had been placed on the timepiece but the serial numbers stamped on the works revealed its identity.

RANKS AS ONION KING

SEPULVEDA, June 23.—Frank Spichtig is the "onion king" in this section this season. He has forty-three acres at Burnett avenue and Roscoe street that he has just started to harvest with forty men at work. The field is planted to four varieties. The white queen variety will yield about 400 sacks to the acre.

"CLOWNING" COSTS LIFE OF SWIMMER

Redlands Youth Drowns While Companions Look On, Laughing at Antics

REDLANDS, June 23.—Because he often acted the clown Tony Mello, Redlands High School boy, drowned in the Fifth-avenue swimming pool.

Tony, whose full name was Antonio H. Mello, swam back and forth in ten feet of water splashing furiously while three young companions laughed at his antics. When he sank beneath the surface, the trio on the bank saw no horrible significance in it, for Tony often swam under water. It was not until several moments had passed that alarm was felt by his companions.

Such was the version given the Coroner's jury by Anthony Cabral, Victor Penagro and John Rezendes, who had seen Tony sink to his death. It was Rezendes, they said, who finally dove into the plunge in a futile attempt to rescue Mello.

The drowing youth clutched at him and pulled him under, Rezendes, a Yucapa resident, said. The other boys ran for the assistance of Ben Cave, Tom Lyon and D. Cook, who were leaving the plunge. Cave, fully clothed, dove into the water and brought Mello to the surface, while others of the group summoned police and the pulmotor squad of the fire department. Mello was dead when the latter arrived.

All this occurred, according to the boys, at 9:30 last night, when the old reservoir, now used as a swimming pool, was practically deserted. The three Portuguese boys admitted that they had not obtained permission to use the plunge, which is operated by the Fifth-avenue Swimming Club.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. Members of the jury were Ed Chambers, Jim Simpson, D. H. La Rue, Gilbert Nowell, Bill Yount and Robert M. Bradley. They accepted the theory that Mello had been seized with cramps that caused him to sink.

Diversified Play Schedule at Inglewood

INGLEWOOD, June 23.—With the co-operation of the municipal government, the Inglewood Board of Education has arranged for the first time a comprehensive, and in many features, unique and novel playground schedule of seven weeks' duration. Beginning on July 1 and concluding on August 17, the diversion and recreation program includes attractions for the adult as well as for the child of school age.

The playground schedule, so-called, is not confined, however, to the school playgrounds, for outstanding events include deep-sea fishing trips on July 12, an overnight beach trip starting on July 26, and a two-day mountain excursion on August 9 and 10.

In addition to the free play every morning on school playgrounds, there will be golf at the Potrero Country Club every Monday morning for boys. A harmonica band, ukulele orchestra and a traveling orchestra are also planned. Project enterprises will be taken up by an airplane and glider club, a boat club, kite club and whittling club.

There will also be a tennis club with a tournament to wind up the season.

Indoor amusements will include checkers and ping pong tournaments for those not caring for more active diversions, while hand ball, volley ball, kick ball and advanced tumbling will also be on the schedule of what is declared to be a program that will attract and interest old and young.

WILL TEACH EGYPTIAN GIRLS TO PLAY PIANO

OWENSMOUTH, June 23.—Miss Helen Yeths, a local teacher of the piano, will depart tomorrow for the Pressley Memorial Institute at Assuit, Egypt, where she will teach piano playing to the daughters of exclusive Egyptian families. Miss Yeths is a graduate of the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and has conducted a music studio here for several years. She has signed a contract to remain in Egypt for three years.

EXCHANGE ADOPTS DAYLIGHT SAVING

ONTARIO, June 23.—Daylight saving will go into effect for the office force of the Exchange Orange Products Plant, starting tomorrow morning, Herbert S. Bailey, manager of the plant announced today.

Heretofore the working hours for the office force have been from 8 to 5 o'clock. By the new arrangement work starts at 7 o'clock and ends at 4 o'clock.

STUDENT HONORED

ALHAMBRA, June 23. — Raymond Rees, 14 years of age, has been awarded the R. W. E. Cole silver cup for making the most advancement in his first year of debating at Alhambra High School. Second honors for debating were given to Phyllis Norton. Jerry Smith won the Dalton trophy for excellence in dramatics at the high school, with Virginia Dixon getting second and Beth Boyden, third honors.

FORMER DRUGGIST KILLED

VAN NUYS, June 22.—H. P. Burton, 42 years of age, who was killed in an auto accident near Santa Barbara, was a resident of Van Nuys, having at one time been owner of the Valley Drug Store on Van Nuys Boulevard. His widow, is principal of the Haddon-street elementary school north of here. At the time of his death, Burton was conducting a tourist camp in Los Angeles, and was returning from a business trip to Santa Barbara.

"YEARLY MEETING" SERMON

Friends, Gathered at Whittier, Hear Masterful Annual Discourse

WHITTIER, June 23.—Pre-eminent among the many splendid sermons which are annually delivered at the Quaker yearly meeting, is that one known as the "Yearly Meeting Sermon." This morning, at the thirty-fifth annual session of the California Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, now in session here, Dr. Henry Edwin McGrew of Pasadena, former president of Penn College at Oscaloosa, Iowa, delivered the sermon for this year.

Dr. Henry Edwin McGrew

This evening Rev. J. Edgar Williams of Kansas City was the speaker for the occasion. Another eminent man to address the assembly this year will be Dr. W. Edward Raffety, member of the faculty of the University of Redlands. Rev. L. Clarkson Hinshaw has been the Yearly Meeting speaker and has held devotional meetings every night during the week. The Yearly Meeting will be brought to a close Tuesday night, with a sermon by Rev. Hinshaw, whose subject will be "The Church, Its Program."

Dr. Willard O. Trueblood, pastor of the local Friends Church, in reviewing the meetings the past week, voiced his appreciation of the splendid spirit of unity that has pervaded the meetings, both devotional and the business sessions, and of the statesmanlike, forward-looking attitude of the ministers and laymen of the church. "It is a plan that is wider than a merely local look," declared Dr. Trueblood, "and it is also international, without race prejudice or other unhappy influence."

That the Whittier Church has been able to discard race prejudice is indicated by the fact that the church has established and maintains a Japanese church at Norwalk, where K. Ishikawa is the resident pastor; a Mexican church at Whittier with Rev. Enrique Cobos, pastor, and a church at Los Nietos with Rev. George Taylor, pastor.

Monday the board of religious education meets in the morning and the finance commission in the afternoon. Missionary reports from Alaska and Central America will be heard Tuesday and the closing business of the annual assembly will be transacted.

In his address this morning Dr. McGrew asked the age-old question, "What Is Religion?" and gave a number of answers that were frequently given, but which did not prove satisfactory. His answer was to be found, he said, in the thirty-second chapter of Isaiah, Verse 2.

Requa Returns From Hoover's Oil Conference

SANTA BARBARA, June 23.—Mark L. Requa, who was appointed chairman by President Hoover of the inter-State oil conservation conference, returned to his Montecito home with prediction that by the end of the year a program of oil conservation will have been worked out. He has spent the past three weeks at the inter-State meeting in Colorado Springs. He believes that by the time Congress reassembles this fall, sufficient work will have been accomplished to warrant calling a further meeting.

"One thing is certain," declared Mr. Requa, "that the present methods of petroleum production must be altered so as to make possible rational control, rather than the orgy of dissipating which has led to the point that bringing in of a new oil field is looked upon as a disaster instead of a blessing."

The differences of opinion at the inter-State conference were due in part, Mr. Requa said, to a lack of understanding on the part of some delegates and their lack of knowledge of the grave problem confronting the nation in the tremendous economic dangers that are insistently demanding correction in the matter of conservation of the mineral resources of the United States. "The proposed conservation compact between oil-producing States did not necessarily mean coercion and under no circumstances meant an attempt to take away from the States their State rights. If we can work it out, I am for permissive legislation, but it is absolutely vital that we get the solution."

COUNTY TO DEVELOP BATHING BEACH

MANHATTAN BEACH, June 23. Arrangements have been now completed with the Board of Supervisors which will give this community an added mile of ocean beach, developed as a public playground, it was made known last night.

Two blocks of the beach territory for which a fund of $10,000 has been set aside by the Supervisors for use in installing equipment and improvements are within the Manhattan Beach city limits and jurisdiction of this portion will be handled jointly by city and county officials.

A system of incinerators and other facilities for keeping the beach clean are being installed together with the necessary public buildings. A warm water swimming pool near the Standard Oil steam plant outlet west of El Segundo is to be asked at a later date, it is understood.

OWENSMOUTH HIGH TO GRADUATE SIXTY-FIVE

OWENSMOUTH, June 23.—A class of sixty-five will be graduated from the Owensmouth High School next Thursday night. The exercises will be conducted on the east lawn of the school, the main building having been almost totally destroyed by fire about ten days ago. The program will begin at 5:30 p.m. The class to be graduated is the largest in the history of the school. Diplomas will be presented by D. J. McCormick, former president of the Los Angeles Board of Education and Ephebian rings will be awarded to Judith Lakey and Caroline Dutton.

DISCUSS QUESTION OF WASTE WATERS

COVINA, June 23.—Disposal of waste waters from the San Dimas Wash will be the principal discussion at a session of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon.

A delegation of West Covina citizens will present their views on the matter, and will also discuss the improvement of Badillo street.

On Friday night there will be a mass meeting in West Covina to determine a course of action following the result of the Chamber of Commerce meeting, it was announced today.

REGISTRATION LARGE FOR BOND ELECTION

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—When the polls open on the morning of July 16 for the $2,350,000 water bond election, just 69,080 residents of San Diego will be eligible to cast their votes for or against the issue. Registration closed a week ago, and the usual recheck, which follows a registration period, has been made in the office of the county registrar of voters.

Since the last city election, 851 additional voters have qualified, according to the figures compiled by Registrar Duffy of Clerk McLee's staff. The total eligible to vote in April, when a Mayor and three Councilmen were chosen, was 68,229, and in the primary in March 68,071. At the Presidential election last November 67,040 San Diegans were qualified to vote. Political observers predict a large vote next month, when the bond issue is decided.

MOONSHINER LEAVES FOR PARTS UNKNOWN

ROSCOE, June 23. — The man who rented the place of John G. Calvert on Tomah street was like the dove that flew out of the Ark. When he left on a run he never came back. Fire broke out on the place when a 1000-gallon still exploded, burning eight 500-gallon vats, twenty-five sacks of sugar, 100 gallons of alcohol, sheds and several hundred chickens. The renter, police say, gave a yell and ran off for help. They are still looking for him. Before the fire was quenched it burned 200 acres of foxtail grass surrounding the home in this out-of-the-way district. An overheated gasoline cooker started the fire. Police say the still is largest ever uncovered in San Fernando Valley.

OFFER OF ZOO MADE TO PARK IN VALLEY

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 23. In all probability the new North Hollywood Park soon is to have a zoo. The animals are to be presented by the Universal Picture Studio. A letter from the studio has been received by the local Chamber of Commerce stating a gift of lions, monkeys, camels, birds, tigers and other animals will be made to the park, with the stipulation that any of them may be borrowed if needed in filming certain scenes.

GARDENA AIR SIGN

GARDENA, June 23.—This city was entered on the roll of air-minded communities yesterday, when members of the Lions' Club completed the work of painting the city's name on the roof of the Bogart garage following the recommendations made by the Postmaster-General. The lettering is thirteen feet in height and the sign is the first of four similar ones which are to be painted so that the name is legible from the four directions.

KIWANIS CLUB'S LADIES NIGHT

HERMOSA BEACH, June 23.—The Hermosa Kiwanis Club will observe the zero hour Kiwanis International by a dinner at 6:30 tomorrow night in place of the noonday luncheon. The dinner will be served at the Surf and Sand Club and will be followed by a special program. The event has also been designated as ladies' night.

PROJECT ABANDONED

The City Council has adopted an ordinance abandoning the proceedings for the improvement of Dalton avenue between Eighty-seventh and Ninety-second streets.

MILITARY TRAINING REJECTED

Monrovia Board Refuses to Install R.O.T.C. Unit in High School

MONROVIA, June 23.—In announcing rejection of an R.O.T.C. unit for the Monrovia-Duarte-Arcadia High School, Dr. L. A. Smith, president of the high school board, stated today that the matter was of too controversial a nature for the board to adopt at this time.

The board rejected the proposition in view of a two-to-one majority vote among parents of high school students. Several weeks ago the school board sent out questionnaires to parents of the students requesting them to state their preference.

Executives of the Monrovia post of the American Legion started the movement to place an R.O.T.C. unit at the local high school several weeks ago and as strong advocates of the plan, special meetings were held with parents and school officials.

The R.O.T.C., Legion officials declare, does not teach the militaristic spirit, although it is military in appearance. It advocates neatness, discipline, and fits students for the business world, sponsors further stated.

San Bernardino to Entertain Big Convention

SAN BERNARDINO, June 23.—The biggest convention in San Bernardino's history, the California Christian Endeavor's annual parley at which 4500 young people from every district of the State will be delegates, will open Wednesday night.

A final conference of committees in charge of the convention has been called for tomorrow night when A. H. Anderson, State president; Howard Brown, State field secretary; Roy Clayton, field secretary of the Los Angeles district, and the Rev. Otis D. Ironmonger, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Bernardino, and the general convention president, will review the convention program. One of the principal speakers will be Ira Landrith, of Chicago, an executive of the international organization of the Christian Endeavor Society. The sessions, which will continue until Sunday night, will be held in the municipal auditorium with a seating capacity of 3000.

The 4000 delegates will tax San Bernardino's housing facilities beyond capacity. Hundreds of private homes have been opened to the delegates and it was announced today it is probable that more than 1000 will be taken care of in homes in Redlands, Colton and possibly Riverside.

Mayor John C. Ralphs and Attorney Grant Holcomb, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the delegates at the opening session Wednesday night.

MUNICIPAL DISPLAY WILL BE HELD OVER

Because the committee in charge of arrangements for the Elks' convention made the request, the municipal exhibit, now on display in the corridors of the City Hall, will be held over until July 20, instead of being removed on July 1, as at first planned. The primary purpose of the exhibit, which includes photographs, graphs and examples, was to acquaint the people with the various activities of city departments during the formation of the budget for the forthcoming year, now practically completed.

COWBOY'S TRIAL TODAY

Accused of having brought Julia Emanski from New York to Los Angeles for improper purposes, Albert Victor Adamson, also known as "Denver" Dickson, circus cowboy, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge James on a charge of violating the Mann Act.

HEADS INGLEWOOD HIGH FLYING CLUB

Frank D. Parent

INGLEWOOD, June 23.—Frank D. Parent was elected president of the Aero Club of Inglewood at the first annual banquet, held at the Chamber of Commerce Building last night. Mr. Parent succeeds Dr. Clarence W. Farmer, founder and first president of the organization. On this occasion a charter was presented to the club, with the signatures of more than thirty members on the charter roll. Joe Thoburn was elected vice-president and John Grover secretary.

The speaker of the evening was Woodruff de Silva of the Los Angeles Department of Municipal Airports, and R. K. Lloyde, instructor in the aeronautics classes at Inglewood Union High School, presented certificates to those who have completed the ground school course there, and James H. Dalton, secretary of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce, outlined the great growth of the aeronautical industry in this section, in addition to the immediately adjoining municipal airport of Mines Field, there being three airplane plants in operation here, and more to come.

Ralph Horn of the Richfield Oil Company told of that concern's establishment of airway beacons from Mexico to Canada.

SPINNERS WIN PRIZES

Broadway Store Distributes Awards for Proficiency With New Toy

Twenty youngsters are happy today as winners of the Flores Yo-Yo contest conducted by Broadway Department Stores, Inc., in which hundreds of enthusiasts from Southern California took part.

At a grand "whoopie" in the toy department of the store Saturday the artists received their prizes, the first two honors, trophies with the names of the winners engraved thereon, going to Toshio Nakamura for the boys and to Catherine Hyatt for the girls. Second prize for boys, a model airplane, went to Jack Hughes; second prize for girls, a kodak, was captured by Lou Brooke.

Other prize winners include: Boys—Frederick Burner, Muneo Kataoka, Charles McCrocker, Hyman Rabinovitz, Ernest Roth, Frank Fitzgerald, Alex Gallego and Jack Frampton. Girls—Margaret Whitesell, LaManda Swanson, Dora Springer, Claribel Niblo, Frances Bernhard, Phyllis Cooper and Phyllis Huidsell. Special prizes of the boys went to those who won places in the contest.

U. S. C. MEN GO TO CANADA

Frank L. Hadlock, executive secretary, and Charles Boren, bureau of employment director of the University of Southern California General Alumni Association, will meet with the alumni secretaries of several hundred American universities and colleges, meeting for the first time outside of the United States at the convention of the American Alumni Council from tomorrow to Saturday in Ontario, Can.

PAGEANT PLEASES PIONEER

Oldest Resident of Ontario Interested in Performance of "First Californians"

ONTARIO, June 23.—Seventy years a resident of San Bernardino Valley, Mrs. Harriet Bickmore, 105 Monterey avenue, is one of the most interested persons in the district over success of "The First Californians," the historical musical pageant of the valley to be given at Chaffey amphitheater tomorrow night and Wednesday night.

Mrs. Bickmore came to this valley in 1860, when she was 2 years of age, and has seen it blossom from a cactus bed to the Southland's most beautiful rose garden. She came with her parents from Texas in a covered wagon drawn by oxen, and spent six months on the road making the trip. Her mother died on the trek and was buried at the roadside, where Chihuahua now is.

Mormons and missions made up the San Bernardino colony, but there was nothing where Ontario now stands, she said.

Two days' time was required to make the trip from Ontario, to "that dirty little town they called Los Angeles," according to Mrs. Bickmore.

A final flourish for "the first Californians" was given late Saturday afternoon, when prominent members of the cast, attired in their colorful costumes of the days of the Spanish dons and senoritas paraded through Claremont, Pomona, Chino, Upland and Ontario. Jose Arias and his Mexican band led the procession, followed by an old Mexican carreta drawn by two oxen; scores of cow ponies ridden by cowboys and cowgirls, Indians in full war attire; forty-niners, padres, and Chief Yowlache, who takes the leading role as medicine man.

The pageant is in three episodes, starting with Indian encampments in San Carlos Pass, founding of San Bernardino Mission, Cucamonga rancho; Kit Carson; Rancho del Chino.

An outdoor amphitheater with three elevated stages has been built on Chaffey Campus, each stage for an individual episode.

Principals in the cast include Mrs. Herbert S. Bailey, Mrs. Mabel Hardwick Stewart, Senorita Rubia Trevino, Martha Frank, Marian Brownless, Alta Hamilton, Louise Beattie, Jean Bell, Ethel Mae Wright, Marjorie Smith, Dorothy Williams, Irene Scott, Dorothea Ariasa, Ruth Mary Frankish, Phyliss Atwood, Chief Yowlache, Archie L. American boys in the United States so that they can return home fully prepared to tackle the economic problems of their countries. He has had several conferences with President Von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California relative to the establishment of a lecture course at the university dealing with South American industry, banking and international affairs. Mr. Tejada has long been a recognized writer and financier of Bolivia, and is well informed on South American international relations.

He says that, in his opinion, Southern California and Los Angeles are the best advertised localities in the world. "The most enjoyable feature of this propaganda is that all of it is true. I might even say that this city could not be overpraised, because I have not seen its equal in all of my world travels," he declared.

"The industrial possibilities, the climate and the hospitality I have found here are boundless," he said. Mr. Tejada is being introduced to officials of the city and State by Waldo E. Alborta, Bolivian Consul at Los Angeles.

The former statesman has moved into an apartment on Carondelet street, where his wife and mother-in-law supervise the establishment managed by four family servants he brought with him.

FUGITIVE IN SILVERSTEIN CASE KILLED

Barrett, Slaying Suspect, Dead in Kansas City, Wire to Police States

Solution of the recent murder of Max Silverstein, asserted bootlegger, was announced by police yesterday with the receipt of a wire from Chief John L. Miles of Kansas City to the effect that Benjamin J. Barrett, 42 years of age, one of the two men wanted for the slaying, had been killed in that city on Saturday.

According to advices from Kansas City, five men were involved in the shooting which resulted in the death of Barrett, or Barretti, alias Fred Roberts. Although friends, they suspected each other's movements. A disagreement resulted in a gun battle fought in front of a well-known hotel. Arthur Hartman, another members of the quintet, also was killed, and Kearns Humphrey is badly wounded. Humphrey is said by police to be wanted in various parts of the country for three murders.

Daniel J. Dennehy, Barrett's asserted partner in the Silverstein slaying, was apprehended several weeks ago in El Paso, Tex., and now is awaiting trial on a robbery charge in Galveston, Tex. If convicted it will mean a death sentence for him in that State.

Silverstein was shot down at the entrance to his apartment in a Wilshire apartment-house March 20, last, on the eve of a delayed honeymoon. He had a large sum of money with him at the time and it was rumored that he had "got out of the racket." His slayers failed to get the money. A girl hired by Silverstein to receive telephone calls at the apartment was bound and gagged by two men a few minutes before Silverstein appeared.

The investigation leading to the identification of Dennehy and Barrett, alias Barretti, as the slayers seen running from the apartment-house, was handled by Captain of Detectives Cato.

Nix Reassigns Aides' Tasks in Training Plan

Changes in assignment of deputies in his office, designed to give all of his assistants experience in all branches of criminal work, have been announced by City Prosecutor Nix. The changes are effective immediately.

Claire Eberhart, chief trial deputy, is assigned as trial deputy in Judge Bogue's master calendar division of the Municipal courts, vice Thomas Higgins, Jr., who is returned to office duty. Dudley Lindsay, formerly chief complaint deputy, is assigned as trial deputy to Judge Marchant's jury court, relieving Paul Hornaday, who is assigned to night court in place of Ford Jack, who in turn is sent to Judge Galbreth's jury court. Appointment of Logan Lindsay and his assignment to prosecution of the Julian usury cases in Judge Pope's court are announced, and Mary Garland is assigned as trial deputy in Judge Bullock's morals court in place of Ida V. Wells, who is absent on her vacation.

PENALTY TO FIT CRIMINAL ADVOCATED

Social Students Evolve New Method of Dealing With Transgressors

Making the punishment fit the individual criminal rather than the individual the crime is the idea advanced by Dr. Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminology at Harvard Law School, who arrived yesterday on the Dollar liner President Monroe with Mrs. Glueck, also a doctor of education, en route to San Francisco to address the National Conference of Social Work.

SHELDON GLUECK

"In other words," he said, "we have had too much sensationalism, too much war-whooping and blah in handling our criminals. We must approach the subject with scientific understanding based on personal contacts.

"My wife and I have evolved tables by the use of which judges may know with reasonable definiteness what will happen to different forms of criminals if subjected to different forms of treatment.

MRS. SHELDON GLUECK

"We have studied 500 criminals—their lives, habits, heredity, schooling and economic standing to evolve these tables, which correspond in a way to insurance tables of mortality. We know the probabilities.

"The judge says the law for a certain crime calls for a certain punishment. That is archaic. We say, ascertain the criminal's character and apply such treatment as fits the particular case."

Chiropractic Group to Meet

More than 4000 chiropractic physicians from all parts of this country are expected to attend the National Chiropractic Association's annual convention, here August 12 to 18, next, according to figures recorded yesterday by Dr. Charles H. Wood, general chairman.

The national meeting will be preceded July 11 to 14 by a convention of the California Progressive Chiropractic Association in Sacramento. Dr. Samuel J. Howell, secretary of the State Board of Chiropractic will preside over both sessions.

A highlight of the national gathering here will be the selection, on chiropractic principles, of the most perfect physical types of girlhood and boyhood to be found by the assembled delegates in Southern California. The contest, in which both boys and girls may enter, will supersede the "perfect back contests" of previous chiropractic assemblages.

Meetings will take place at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic, 918 Venice Boulevard.

New Leaders Announced by U.S.C. Alumni

Presidency and vice-presidency of the General Alumni Association of the University of Southern California are the positions now being filled by Herbert Freston and Merritt Adamson, respectively. Mr. Freston succeeds Dr. James McCoy and Mr. Adamson will take over the work formerly handled by Mr. Freston.

Mr. Freston is a member of the firm of Roche & Freston, attorneys, a graduate of '15, past president of the Los Angeles Trojan Club and a member of the board for two years. Mr. Adamson is owner of the Adohr Creamery, a member of Liberal Arts class '13, and law '14. He also served on the executive board of the university alumni prior to his election to the vice-presidency. Mr. Adamson was varsity football captain in 1912.

YOUTH REACHES FOUR-YEAR GOAL

Commencement Week Began With Sermons Yesterday

City High Schools Turn Out Heavy Graduate Grist

Pioneer Institution First With a Total of 563

Commencement Week opened for many of the major high schools with baccalaureate sermons in various churches yesterday morning and vesper services in their own high school auditoriums in the afternoon. Throughout the week members of the graduating classes will be accorded special privileges and many social functions will be given in their honor.

Los Angeles High School, whose first graduates celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their commencement on the 1st inst., again will lead all other schools in the Los Angeles city school district in number of students who will receive diplomas next Friday evening. The class will be the largest in the school's history.

More than 500 boys and girls will be graduated on the stage of the Shrine Auditorium. Because the class has outgrown the capacity of any school auditorium in the city it has been necessary for the Board of Education to rent the auditorium for this occasion.

In former years the girl graduates far outnumbered the boys but a more even balance has been maintained during the past three years. This year there are 291 girls and 272 boys who will receive their diplomas.

Those graduating from Los Angeles High School are:

PUBLIC BID TO DAM BANQUET

Citizens' Water Committee Opens Doors to Hear Dr. Mead's Talk

With public interest aroused by the announcement that Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of the United States Reclamation Service, will outline in detail plans for Boulder dam construction, the Citizens' Water and Power Committee has decided to open to the public the conference dinner tomorrow night at the Biltmore, it is announced by Chairman Joseph Scott.

Not more than 600 can be accommodated, the committee reports, therefore reservations must be made at once by calling FAber 4211, Station 2235.

The executive committee of the Citizens' Water and Power Committee is composed of Watt L. Moreland, chairman; Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, Joseph Scott, Miss Mary Workman, O. M. Souden and E. J. Fleming.

TWELVE GET SENTENCES TO PRISONS

Judge Shaw Summarizes Results of Week's Work in Criminal Department

Prison sentences were meted out to twelve men by Superior Court judges during the week ending last Saturday, according to the weekly report made by Judge Shaw, presiding judge of the criminal division.

Of those sentenced, four were sent to Folsom on convictions of forgery and grand theft, receiving stolen property and first-degree robbery. The balance, including convictions on check charges, attempted robbery, embezzlement, second-degree burglary, receiving stolen property and second-degree robbery, were sent to San Quentin.

Those sentenced include the following:

Robert F. Shepherd, Folsom, forgery, four counts, one to fourteen years each; grand theft, six counts, three to ten years each (sentences to run concurrently.)

Jesse Floyd Byrd, San Quentin, issuing check without sufficient funds, two counts, one to fourteen years each (sentences to run concurrently.)

Cecil M. Adams, Folsom, first-degree robbery, seven years to life.

Otis Adams, Folsom, first-degree robbery, seven years to life.

Gary E. Rudolph, San Quentin, attempted robbery, one to twenty years.

Lawrence C. Cook, San Quentin, embezzlement, one to ten years.

Charles Murphy, Folsom, receiving stolen property (admitting prior conviction,) not less than five years.

Jose Perez, San Quentin, second-degree robbery, count one, one year to life; forgery, count two, one to fourteen years (sentences to run concurrently.

Jesus Torres, San Quentin, forgery, one to fourteen years.

Hiram C. Williams, San Quentin, receiving stolen property, two counts, one to five years each, to run consecutively.

Joseph E. Rosner, San Quentin, forgery on two counts, one to fourteen years each, to run concurrently.

Leo Duran, San Quentin, second-degree burglary, one to fifteen years.

Club Will Put Airey in Chair

Frank J. Airey, manager of the Pacific States Electric Company, will be inaugurated as president of the Electric Club at the noon meeting of the organization today in the Biltmore.

The induction ceremonies will be conducted by Carl A. Heinze, assistant general manager of the Department of Water and Power, the retiring president. Mr. Airey has been a resident of Los Angeles for nineteen years. In all that period he has been connected with the Pacific States Electric Company.

Other officers chosen for the coming year are: Roy Foulkes, first vice-president; H. W. Dennis, second vice-president; J. H. Pengilly, third vice-president; C. Thorburn, secretary-treasurer; Dean T. Smith, sergeant-at-arms; executive committee: C. A. Heinze, H. L. Masser, A. E. Hitchner, Hiram W. Allen, J. M. Cunningham.

CHILDREN WILL SING MESSIAH

Junior Oratorio Society to Make First Appearance Next Sunday Afternoon

With John Smallman conducting, the Junior Oratorio Society, made up of 100 pupils of grammar and junior high schools, will make its first appearance next Sunday in a complete oratorio at the First Congregational Church, Ninth and Hope streets. The subject will be Handel's masterpiece, "The Messiah," the presentation commencing at 4 p.m.

Assisting soloists will be Betty Boldrick, soprano; Daisy Sinclair, contralto, and Frank Pursell, bass. Homer Simmons will be at the organ and Mme. Teala Bellini at the piano. Mrs. Joy Kingan Robinson will act as assistant conductor. The performance will be open to the public.

The society was organized two years ago and has participated in some of the concerts given by the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, but this will mark its first appearance in a complete oratorio without adult assistance in the soprano and alto parts.

ASSESSMENT MAP WINS

The Public Works Committee report recommending the approval of the assessment district map for the improvement of One Hundred and Seventh street between Central avenue and Avalon Boulevard has been adopted by the City Council.

WATER AND POWER TO PAY

Department Will Turn $7,000,000 Over to City for Fixed Charges During Fiscal Year

In excess of $7,000,000 will be turned over to the City Treasurer for the year 1929-30 by the Department of Water and Power for interest and redemption charges on water and power bonds, according to a statement to be delivered to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners this week by General Manager H. A. Van Norman.

Water-bond interest and principal payments will total $3,581,000. The sum of $3,430,000 will be paid for interest and redemption charges on power bonds. Payment of all these bond charges from earnings of the municipal department means that not one cent in taxes is collected on account of these securities, Van Norman pointed out.

MADE FROM REVENUES

"These payments are made from revenues of the department in spite of extremely low rates," Mr. Van Norman said. "Thus both the taxpayer and consumer are benefited. Not a single penny comes out of taxes on power bonds and we have been able to maintain unusually low water and electrics rates.

"The Department of Water and Power in the year which closes this month has paid approximately $6,000,000 on water and power bonds. It is estimated that in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, $7,000,000 will be paid from earnings for this purpose."

Defeat of the power and water bonds June 4 will, he said, prevent many of the important and necessary extensions and betterments to the municipal water and electric systems in the coming twelve months, but for the barest necessities the department hopes to make an outlay of $6,340,000 from earnings of the department. The water system will receive $2,840,000 for needed extensions and the electric system $3,500,000.

"In view of the fact that the Los Angeles municipal water and electric systems have given our people the great benefits of extremely low water and electric rates it is especially comforting to know that these two huge municipal enterprises are entirely self-sustaining," stated Mr. Van Norman.

PAY ALL CHARGES

"The municipal water and electric systems are so operated that they pay all interest and annual principal charges on all general water and power bonds and at the same time maintain exceedingly low rates. This record accounts for Los Angeles' amazing growth and industrial expansion.

"It is to be hoped that the people will permit these systems to continue to expand and extend their service as required by our growing city and thus continue to give our people the benefit of low utility rates.

"The Department of Water and Power, owned and controlled by the people of Los Angeles, is conducted on a sound financial basis and represents a business enterprise with assets totaling approximately $200,000,000."

Salesmen, Solicitors —10-B

A SALES REPRESENTATIVE
OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

to care for its growing clientele, an established and reputable personal service corporation—the largest of its kind on the Pacific Coast—is about to add to its staff one and possibly three, sales representatives for local office. And for Orange, Riverside and San Diego Counties.

The term "representative" is used advisedly, for the man or men selected must be REPRESENTATIVES in every sense of the word — in character, sales caliber and appearance—men who can get to the very best type of people, and after getting to them, talk their language—impress them.

The affiliation offered is not only a most dignified and congenial one, but an exceptionally lucrative one. The earnings of the right man should be very quickly at the rate of not less than $10,000 a year. The earnings of one of our force is at the rate of more than $2000 a month.

This is not to be classed with the general run of in inquiry for salesmen. It is in every sense an exceptional opportunity worthy of the investigation of the most ambitious type of men.

If you are of this class, willing to follow instructions and able to finance yourself, phone TR. 3801 for appointment. Ask for Mr. Rogers.

INVESTMENT SALESMAN
Who Knows the Value of a Repeat Clientele

A man who realizes the value of an investment clientele which REPEATS year after year, should investigate the Realty Foundation Plan which provides an immediate GUARANTEED income—the early return of the principal, while still retaining ownership of the original investment for all time.

Right now we have a permanent place in our organization for a man who knows how to sell and who is not content with less than $1000 a month income. For personal interview call at 3757 Wilshire Blvd. (nr. Western.) between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday or Tuesday. Ask for Frederick S. Dudley, vice president.

Salesmen or Beginners

Can use four men of right appearance and character in established and protected territories. Permanent positions, average pay $35 to $50 per week. Special summer line is considerably increasing this figure.

Salesmen, Solicitors —10-B

SALESMEN

Are you interested in representing an established company where YOUR ABILITY will receive proper recognition?

Where the management realizes that ITS SUCCESS depends upon YOUR success?

Where its policies are always conservative and above board.

Where "CO-OPERATION" is an ideal and not just an 11-letter word?

If you have pride in yourself and a WILL TO SUCCEED and are not "too proud to work," we will put you on the road that leads to permanent success, LARGE EARNINGS and all it implies.

HERMAN B. SMITH

Orthopedic Hospital Children Given Merry Outdoor Show

Laughter Banishes Pain

During his career as a clown Harry Lipman has made millions laugh, but never did he have a more appreciative audience than yesterday when he gave an outdoor show for 150 young patients of the Orthopedic Hospital School at 2400 South Flower street.

He was assisted by a score of stage and screen children. The program ranged from a boxing exhibition by Ray and Roy Berendzen to Russian dancing, with plenty of comedy thrown in. The list of entertainers, all of whom volunteered their services, included Jackie Searles, Marlin Harris, Evelyn Barty, Jane Slater, Jane Muller, Gertrude Kerkis, Billy Barty, Josephine Ferrao, Virginia Wiseman and Kendall McComas.

HARRY LIPMAN

The performance took place on an improvised stage with Lipman acting as master of ceremonies. Most of the audience looked on from wheel chairs, which had been arranged in a semicircle about the platform. Judging by the applause every act scored solidly and repeated encores were demanded.

Lipman used every trick in his bag, from grimaces to cartwheels, and none missed. Forgetting their misfortunes his audience fairly howled with glee, and none were happier than the clown himself.

"I'd like to come down here every day and give a show for these kids," he remarked as he removed his make-up after the show. "I really believe I get a bigger kick out of it than they do."

"MARRY! ELLA" SAY ADVISERS

ning all around the place. If she doesn't, she'll just have to keep plugging away toward that career.

Yes, indeed, Ella Cinders is in a tough spot right now; but then that's what she gets for being in the public eye.

Now, if you'll step up a little closer, we'll read some of the gems of wisdom that drop from the advisory pens:

FAINT PRAISE

"Dear Ella:

"I think you had better take Jim pretty quick before he changes his mind. Your acting is not so hot that you can make a living at that much longer. Besides, you have heaps of freckles and it isn't every guy that would fall for you.

"VIRGINIA WILSON, 1675 Buckingham Road, Los Angeles."

"Dear Ella:

"Marry Jim Blunt quick or some quirk of the pen will have that patched dress back on you.

"KEESTER SWEENEY, Sierra Madre."

"Dear Ella:

"Marry Jim Blunt for the love of Mike.

"ROSE, Corona."

MISERY LOVES COMPANY

"Dear Ella:

"I am writing all the way from Hollywood to tell you to marry Jim Blunt. My mama tells me how to spell the words but I am writing this letter all by myself. Will you please tell Mr. Conselman and Mr. Plumb to send me a paper doll of you with some dresses, 'cause I have a broken leg and can't get out of bed. Please send it to me and marry Jim Blunt. With love.

"BABETTE TAYLOR, 2340 Nottingham avenue, Hollywood."

"Dear Ella:

"Marry Jim, Ella, and I wish you good luck—you'll need it.

"BOB."

Dear Ella:

"My advice to you, Ella, is this: Follow your career and forget Jim Blunt. He's all right but there are plenty of others as good as he is and after you have gained fame and riches you can get any or all of them. So spend your money and get a kick out of life 'cause after you are married, you're sunk.

"T. J. LAUER, Pasadena."

JUST FOR A CHANGE

"Dear Ella:

"Marry Jim instead of being on the stage. Every lover you have you never marry. I am getting sick of it.

"SIS ALLEN, Los Angeles."

"Messrs. Counselman and Plumb,
"There are times when you are dumb.
"Ella's problem's not so knotty
"It should drive a person dotty.

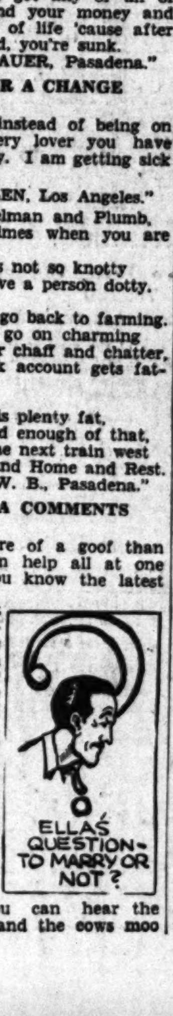
"Let Jim Blunt go back to farming.
"Let our Ella go on charming
"With her clever chaff and chatter,
"Till her bank account gets fatter.

"Then when it is plenty fat,
"And she's had enough of that,
"Let her take the next train west
"To her Jim and Home and Rest.
"R. W. B., Pasadena."

CASSANDRA COMMENTS

"Ella, my dear:

"Don't be more of a goof than you possibly can help all at one time. Don't you know the latest scientific wisecrack is that love is the biological urge smeared with sentimentality? This being the whole truth and nothing but, can't you see where you will be in—say, to allow you heaps of time—forty weeks, lost contract time?



ELLA'S QUESTION— TO MARRY OR NOT?

"Yes, you will be on the ranch, the beautiful ranch, where you can hear the chickens cackle and the cows moo and the cat-birds squawk and the coyotes howl—the beautiful, beautiful ranch. Where after you have fed the chickens and the turkeys and the canary and the dogs and the cat and Jim, and Jim, Jr., every three hours—between spasms of cleaning a raid of ants out of the pantry and killing a snake and entertaining the Ladies' Aid Society—will come the peaceful twilight when dear Jim will tramp in tired and sweaty and, kicking off his boots, throw himself down on the sofa, flannel shirt open at the throat, because, of course, he has discarded collars and ties and cuffs and white shirts about thirty-eight weeks ago. Yes, the beautiful, beautiful ranch.

ON THE OTHER HAND

"On the other hand, when you have that $80,000 in the bank if you don't care to build a charming little home, how about you and Blackie taking a nice trip around the world? You owe Blackie something, you know. And military school forever isn't so all-to-the-good. On that trip probably destiny will shove the one man across your path—an Ambassador, the president of a great university, a leader among men in the immense game of international politics—at any rate, some one worthy of you.

WHAT WOULD BECOME OF BLACKIE?

"Parenthesis: (Look out for King Boris and the Prince of Wales!)

"Ella, dear little girl, you have been such a comfort and cheer to me. I look for your visit daily with keenest anticipation. I can't see you go wrong now. So this word from

"Your friend,
"NAYAN
"Santa Anita."

MERIAM TO GIVE TALK ON INDIANS

Research Institute's Chief Will be One of Speakers at Dinner Tonight

Lewis Meriam, director of the Indian Survey Group of the Institute of Government Research, will be one of the principal speakers at a dinner at the Windsor Tea Room, 527 West Seventh street, tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

The future of the American Indian with particular reference to the promised reforms in the administration of the Bureau of Indian Affairs at Washington, will be one of the subjects to be discussed. Paul U. Kellogg, editor of the Survey, also will discuss phases of the Indian problem. Friends of the Indian will be present, including John Collier, executive secretary of the American Indian Defense Association. Tickets and reservations may be obtained through the Chamber of Commerce.

Hitchcock Case on Tomorrow

Trial of Horace D. Hitchcock, once head of several companies organized to service and finance corporations at the time of their inception, and three of his associates, will be resumed tomorrow in the court of United States District Judge Henning.

It is charged by the government that the four defendants conspired to use the mails to defraud by representing that they would finance and service the corporations for certain fees, but that they failed to do so.

TRADE CALLI FOR PORT UN

Reports Reveal [illegible] Pacific Co[illegible]

Japan Becoming [illegible] Orient Cu[illegible]

China and [illegible] Buying He[illegible]

BY CHARLES C. CO[illegible]

The project to [illegible] of Los Angeles and Long [illegible] form the world's [illegible] based on the astonishing [illegible] international trade through [illegible] portal. Some idea of [illegible] from Federal commerce [illegible] pared by Janet H. Nunn, [illegible] ern section, division of [illegible] formation, and recently [illegible] the Los Angeles bureau of [illegible] and domestic commerce, of [illegible] J. H. Smiley is manager.

The report regarding [illegible] trade for the first quarter of [illegible] year begins with the following [illegible] formation:

"During the first quarter of [illegible] Japanese traders bought 11 per [illegible] more American goods than [illegible] the corresponding period of [illegible] A heavy January trade, [illegible] with a sharp rally in March [illegible] lowing the February slump, [illegible] the total exports from the [illegible] States to Japan to [illegible] $10,371,000 in excess of the [illegible] value of $61,302,000."

OUR GOODS WAN[illegible]

Commodities in which [illegible] cality is specially interested [illegible] largely in the increased trade [illegible]

"Increased activity in the [illegible] ese cotton-milling industry," [illegible] the report, "demanded [illegible] more American raw cotton [illegible] than 300,000 bales. Shipments [illegible] crude petroleum increased [illegible] cent in contrast with an [illegible] gain in mineral oils." The [illegible] tells that "trade in machinery [illegible] trical equipment, iron and [illegible] and leaf tobacco was [illegible] ing."

"An increase of 28 per cent [illegible] Japan's purchases of American [illegible] senger cars and trucks during [illegible] first three months of 1929 and [illegible] per cent in tires, combined with [illegible] fact that she bought more [illegible] and accessories than any [illegible] Asiatic country, indicates her [illegible] ing importance among oriental [illegible] tomers for our automotive [illegible] ucts." On the other hand [illegible] "bought nearly 11 per cent [illegible] Japanese imports, which [illegible] the total imports from Japan [illegible] the three months' period [illegible] 607,000, compared with [illegible] for 1928."

TRADE WITH CHI[illegible]

Regarding trade with China [illegible] is stated that:

"Regardless of renewed [illegible] ances in certain provinces and [illegible] ily stocked markets due to [illegible] fort to avoid anticipated high [illegible] in the beginning of 1929, the [illegible] of China bought 29 per cent [illegible] American merchandise during [illegible] first quarter of 1929, and [illegible] return 22 per cent more of [illegible] than for the corresponding [illegible] of 1928."

This country's total exports [illegible] China for the year's first [illegible] totaled $41,080,000, while [illegible] the aggregate was [illegible] also is interesting to note that [illegible] liminary returns indicate that [illegible] of raw cotton trebled while [illegible] increased exports of flour [illegible] China our best foreign customer [illegible] that product." There was a [illegible] bling of shipments of [illegible] electrical equipment, general [illegible] chinery and automobiles.

There was an increase of [illegible] 000 in our imports from China [illegible] the same period, the [illegible] total being $48,546,000, as [illegible] $37,015,000 for the first quarter [illegible] 1928.

AUSTRALIA BUYS [illegible]

Australia becomes a better [illegible] mer of Uncle Sam right along [illegible] the report indicates.

"Exports from the United [illegible] to Australia during the first [illegible] ter of 1929, aggregating [illegible] represent a gain of [illegible] per cent, compared with the [illegible] figure of $33,445,000." In the [illegible] three months of this year [illegible] $5,000,000 worth of machinery [illegible] Australia and the exports of [illegible] mobiles and trucks totaled [illegible]

"Merchandise exports from [illegible] United States to the Far East [illegible] ing April, 1929, aggregating [illegible] 000, were approximately 17 per [illegible] greater than for the corresponding [illegible] period of 1928, when they [illegible] up $58,028,000," a report [illegible] is pertinent to our local [illegible] welfare that "this high [illegible] level was obtained by the [illegible] demand for our raw cotton [illegible] manufactured goods, especially [illegible] automobiles, general [illegible] electrical equipment and iron [illegible] steel."

Of course, this country's [illegible] Pacific trade does not all [illegible] through the ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach, but an [illegible] part of it does. Every [illegible] such trade for the nation [illegible] flected in a considerable [illegible] in business via these two ports [illegible] the first quarter of this year [illegible] eign exports via the port of [illegible] Angeles totaled [illegible] of $5,241,767, over the first [illegible] ter of 1928, while the imports [illegible] this period this year [illegible] 730,012, exclusive of the [illegible] commerce, according to figures [illegible] the department of foreign [illegible] and shipping, Los Angeles [illegible] ber of Commerce. Our port [illegible] stood second in the nation in [illegible] eign exports and third in [illegible] eign commerce.
